The Vikings led at the quarters 19-10, 42-21, and 59-46. Both coaches were assessed with a technical foul at one juncture when the contest became heated.

Four Children Burn To Death Near Terra Alta

Parents And Two Children Escape From Basement Home

Four children, aged 11 to 17, were burned to death in a fire in the basement home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sharps, route 2, Terra Alta, on Snowy Creek road, in the vicinity of Freeport, early Monday morning.

The parents and two older children, Jackie and Don, escaped through windows but were unable to reach the other children because of the intense smoke and heat.

The dead are Susie Sharps, 17; Mike, 15; Terry, 12; and Ricky, 11.

Firemen from the Terra Alta Volunteer Fire department were summoned to the scene at 12:30 a.m., by someone who spotted the fire and telephoned the department. The Terra Alta department in turn called the Oakland firemen who responded with an assist call.

Firemen fought the blaze for several hours before they could remove the bodies of the children.

George DeLauder, Terra Alta fire chief, said the fire was completely out of control when they arrived. DeLauder said the fire apparently started in one of the heating stoves and spread so rapidly there was no way to get to the children. Three of them were in the front of the house where they had fallen asleep by the tlevision set; the other was in bed.

It was believed that the coal stove by the doorway had overheated, and the flames spread to the fuel oil stove causing it to explode.

Mr. Sharps, a retired Hopemont State hospital employe, his wife and sons, are currently staying with relatives in Terra Alta.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Fike-Watson funeral home with Rev. W. C. Dimson and Rev. George Kirk officiating. Burial was in the Terra Alta cemetery.

Man Injured In One-Car Accident

James Zimmerman, Crellin, is a patient at the West Virginia University Medical Center, Morgantown, following a one-car accident at Terra Alta about 2 a.m., Sunday.

He apparently went to sleep at the wheel and crashed into a utility pole. He was first taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland by his parents, and later transferred to the medical center where he underwent surgery for a bruised pancreas and other injuries. The accident occurred on the Oakland side of Clem Teets building in Terra Alta.

The young man is now convalescing and is out of the intensive care unit where he was first placed. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Zimmerman, Crellin.

Karen Larson Is Selected B.P.W. Young Careerist

Miss Karen Larson, reading and study skills instructor at Garrett Community College, was named Young Careerist at the Business and Professional Women's dinner held last Thursday at Point View Inn, Mellenry.

Approximately 30 members and guests of the BPW were present for the broasted chicken meal, followed by guitar music and singing by Miss Debbie Paige.

Each of the three candidates for Young Careerist gave a brief talk introducing herself, her job, hobbies and future plans to those present.

Competing were Miss Susan King, secretary of the Garrett County Promotion Council; Miss Karen Larson, and Mrs. Linda Sanders, trust department secretary at the First National Bank of Oakland. Mrs. Sanders was runner-up and Miss King was second runner-up.

Miss Larson will represent Garrett County at the state BPW convention and Young Careerist competition at College Park in May. The state winner will compete in the National Convention in Chicago in July.

Miss Larson is a member of St. Matthew's Episcopal church, GCC Student Affairs committee, Garrett County National Federation of Republican Women's club and enjoys playing the piano and organ, sewing, skiing, and reading in her spare time.

Part of that so-called spare time she has been helping Ellis Nazelrod, a man who has a hearing handicap nearly all his life, to learn to read and write.

Mary C. Hipp, last year's Young Careerist, was program chairman and mistress of ceremonies for the dinner and election. Present BPW officers are Verna J. Harvey, president; Ann Connor, vice president; Mary C. Hipp, recording secretary; Barbara Flinn, corresponding secretary; and Jean Deem, treasurer.

Special guests included Courtney Tusing, president of the First National Bank, which sponsored Mrs. Sanders; Bryan Scofield, director of the Promotion Council, and Dr. Luther Shaw, president GCC.

A brief meeting, led by Mrs. Harvey followed the dinner and selection of the Young Careerist.

The BPW State Board meeting will be in conjunction with the legislative conference at the Washingtonian in Gaithersburg this weekend. Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Conner and Miss Mildred Wucik are planning to attend.

Autumn Glory Will Be Held October 10-13

Promotion Council Agrees To Sponsor Event, But Help Is Needed

The Autumn Glory Festival will be held this year under sponsorship of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, it was announced yesterday by the council.

I. Lynn Beckman president of the council, said the board of directors had unanimously agreed to reclaim the sponsorship at a recent meeting. A recent survey of business supporters of the fund-raising dinner revealed an overwhelming interest in favor of its continuance.

It was indicated the Promotion Council would sponsor only those events which represent the "core" of the program due to limited manpower resources.

The new plan would allow for money-making participation from other groups, organizations and civic units. Groups wishing to participate are being encouraged to contact Brian Scholield, executive director of the council.

Prior to announcing the council's sponsorship the board discussed recent questions raised in face of the current energy crisis. The group felt that to hold the festival might be a drastic mistake since the event had demonstrated its tremendous public appeal and drawing power capabilities over past years. Its contiauation should help to sustain what otherwise might be a slack period for the county in tourist trade, it was pointed out.

The Lions club had assumed sponsorship of the festival for two years after the festival was originated by the Promotion Council in 1968 as a means of calling attention to the county's most beautiful season and to encourage travel into the county during the autumn.

Dates for the testival were set for October 10 through the 13th. Contracts are being made currently to book celebrities for this year's entertainment and ground work is being done currently on the feature parade. Decision by the council still allows for the publication of the festival dates in the 1974 Vacation Guide.

Beckman said the council had been appreciative of the Lions club and other community organizations and individuals who had worked on maintaining the quality and magnitude of the festival each year.

Bolden, Wilson Are Opposed To Land Use Legislation

Senator William A. Wilson (R-Allegany-Garrett) and Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden (R-Garrett) announced last week their opposition to the state land use legislation drafted by the Joint Legislative-Executive Study Group, appointed last year to draft a land use bill agreeable to local government.

According to Wilson and Bolden, "the committee was supposed to come up with a compromise bill, but the only thing we can see that was compromised is local government's land use authority. All the committee did was to combine features in both the House and Senate bills killed last year by the General Assembly. Now they have combined the worst features of two bad bills to come up with a totally objectionable bill."

According to the bill, a 9-member state commission would lay down guidelines for land use in 14 broadly defined critical areas.

The Allegany and Garrett Counties representatives point out, "the so-called critical areas include everything from shoreline to farmland; from forests to open spaces. There's hardly a parcel of land in the whole state that doesn't come under the heading of critical areas, according to the bill." They added that the commission is empowered to initiate or intervene in local proceedings or bring court action when it considers local land use decisions detrimental to the critical areas.

"In short," Senator Wilson and Delegate Bolden emphasized, "the bill gives the state control over land development in just about every acre of land in the state. It provides for maximum state control and minimum local input. It is our belief that the responsibility for land use development should rest with the government closest to the people, local government, and not a bunch of hand-picked, ivory-tower bureaucrats."

Two Honored For Work On Accident Water And Sewage

The Tri-County Council for Western Maryland honored two men for their "outstanding service" to the Western Maryland area yesterday afternoon at the February meeting of the council in Frostburg.

Rev. William E. Carlson, chairman of the Accident Planning commission, and William Braun chief federal and field liaison officer with the State Department of Economic and Community Development in Annapolis, both received the first certificates to be awarded by the council for their efforts toward the betterment of the Western Maryland region.

They were honored for their efforts on behalf of the water and sewage projects in Accident.

The council meeting also included reports of committees, and a status report on the Appalachia Maryland Development plan, action on the section "211" priorities, including Garrett County solid waste.

Rate Increase Is Sought By P. E

Residents of Garrett and Allegany counties wishing to testify either for or against the rate increase requested by Potomac Edison company will have an opportunity Saturday in the Allegany County Court House.

The Maryland Public Service commission will have a public hearing on that day at 10 a.m. on the application of the utility for revisions in its electric rates. The company serves over 104,000 customers in Western Maryland counties. The application was filed November 1 to provide some $9 million of additional revenues on an annual basis. The increase is sought in order that PE will be able to finance construction costs of additional facilities necessary to meet the needs of its customers for reliable service, according to J. M. McCardell, executive vice president and manager.

The proposed rates would increase the cost of electric service to each class of customers by about 20 percent resulting in an increase of about five cents per day to the average residential customer without electrical heat or water heating.

Library To Show Fantasy Movies

Fantasy highlights the children's movie program at 2 p.m., Saturday, February 23, at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland, with the presentation of "The Merry-Go-Round Horse," "Pallo Alone in the World" and "Niok", a Walt Disney film. The film program is free for the public and lasts about one hour.

The bookmobile will make its weekly stop at Bradley Manor at 4 p.m., Friday, February 22.

Following is another in the series of book reviews by library patrons. This review is presented by Clyde Griffith, Kitzmiller.

THE GREAT ORM OF LOCH NESS; a Practical Inquiry Into the Nature and Habits of Water-Monsters. Norton, 1969. 223 pages.

An abomination! Horrible!

These are the reactions of two of the many who have reported glimpsing the elusive Loch Ness Monster. It is as if they had seen one of those fantastic creatures that swam the seas when the world was young. Most zoologists think that there isn't, and cannot be such a beast. But the author of this book thinks otherwise.

He has, in this interesting book, assembled quite a bit of evidence to support his own view that such an animal does exist.

He cites the centuries of legend, the sightings of dozens and dozens of level headed men and women; then the photographs, especially the famous snapshot of 1933 which Mr. Holiday reproduces in his book. It makes the reader wonder.

But there is no wondering by the writer. He has seen the monster. Twice.

A fine mystery from Nature's wonderland.

Special Education Proposal Approved

Following a presentation by Albert Ringer, Director of Curriculum and Instruction, and Mrs Sally Wilson, Coordinator of Special Education, the Board of Education, at the regular meeting February 14, voted approval for a Title III Proposal which, if funded, would speed up considerably the implementation of an improved Special Education program in Garrett County

State law now requires Special Education programs for all children of school age needing specific programs. This project would supplement the State and local funding available for this service. Funding of this project and a successful appeal on the portable space mentioned in another news article would provide expanded services county-wide and would greatly reduce the amount of travel time for the students in northern Garrett County according to Dr. Wm. Buser, county superintendent of schools

After discussion of students leaving the country on education related trips, the Board requested that Dr. Buser develop a comprehensive policy statement covering all educational experiences outside the home school of students

In other business the Board received copies of the Proposed New High school Graduation requirements, Revised Personnel Policies and Procedures and the Financial Statement through February 8, 1974. The financial statement indicates at this time that even with the unprecedented fuel costs, the relatively mild winter and other conservation measures may enable the Board of Education to operate within the allotments for this purpose.

The Board discussed concerns relative to meeting the State requirement of 180 school days but will take action at a later meeting to modify the calendar to meet this requirement

County Receiving 78 Percent Of Last Year's Gas Supply

A county survey of gasoline service stations and distribution for the area revealed that this county is being allocated approximately 78 percent of 1972 gas sales

With the reduction in availability of gasoline, the service station operators indicated they were trying to provide some gasoline to all customers in a fair and equal manner

According to the County Commissioners, which undertook the survey, these statistics point up the necessity for area residents to limit their driving At the present time, there is no apparent way to increase these supplies.

Review Comprehensive Plan

After the plan is reviewed in with members of the Planning Commission on Tuesday to review part of the text of the Garrett County Comprehensive Plan

The whole text should be completed next week. Preparation of the plan is in its final stages after two years of preliminary work

After the plan is reviewed in its entirety, it will be submitted to various state agencies for review

Oppose James Legislation

The Commissioners noted that they are opposed to the James State Land Use Commission Legislation which will be brought before a joint House and Senate Committee hearing on Monday

The Commissioners feel agriculture has not had sufficient input into this piece of legislation, and most of the underdeveloped land in the state is in agricultural use

They also believe the legislation provides too freely for state intervention into local planning and decision making. Wayne B Hamilton, chairman of the commissioners, served on the James Commission for the six months of its duration

Fort Hill Trims Southern 74 To 68

Two Hansrote breakaway layups in the final 30 seconds provided the late security that enabled Fort Hill Sentinels to escape the horns of the Southern High Rams on a close 71-68 decision on Tuesday night at Fort Hill in Cumberland.

Fort Hill held a 23-17 edge at the end of the first quarter, and led 39-31 at te half. The lead grew to 45-35 in the third period but a shooting rally led by Dave Sharps brought the Rams to within four points. The Sentinels still led 54-49 at the end of the third period. In the third period, Southern also challenged Fort Hill rebounding dominance The Ram effort on the boards carried over to start the final period

The Ram comeback was headed by Sharps and Skeweris. Sharps had 12 points in the second half with Skeweris 7 in the final period.

The teams were tied 31-31 in field goals but Fort Hill won the game with free throws with 12 of 20 compared to six of ten for the Rams.

Skeweris had 16, Liller 14, T. Panther 10, E. Panther 12, Sharps 12, and DiSimone 4, for the Rams. Manges hit for 27 for Fort Hill with Wilson getting 10, Hill 13, Hansrote 12, Hare 1, Wormack 2, Peck 2, and Cooper 4. No one was in foul trouble

The Rams are due to play Piedmont away on February 22.

Conserve gas like your job depended on it.
Because it might. American industry is the largest single user of energy . . . so the current shortage of natural gas poses a serious threat to jobs. The amount of gas available to business and industry depends in part on how much gas the residential customers consume . . . and how much they conserve.
The most important thing you can do now to save gas is set your thermostat down . . . set it six degrees lower than last winter, as recommended by the Federal Energy Office.
Other things you can do like insulating, weather-stripping, caulking, and cutting down your use of hot water will also conserve. The more gas you save, the more will be available for industry, the more available for jobs . . . maybe yours.
Saving gas can help save jobs.

Larceny Charge Dismissed

A charge of larceny was dismissed in District Court last week as restitution had been made.

Dale Hinebaugh, RD 1, Oakland, had been charged with larceny of a check in the amount of $90 in December. At a trial before Judge Lewis R. Jones last Thursday, the charge was dismissed as restitution had been made.

Gasoline Shortage Probable Cause Of Accident Decline

Probably because of the gasoline shortage motor vehicle accidents have shown a decided decline the last few weeks. Following the same trend, less injuries have been noted. No injuries were indicated in the following accident:

Ricky Lee Seehler, Meyersdale, Pa., was westbound on U. S. Route 40 just past midnight February 10, about a mile east of U. S. Rt. 219, north. On cresting a hill and rounding a curve, Seehler ran onto a snow-covered patch on the roadway. The operator then lost control of the vehicle which went off the right shoulder of the road and hit a tree. Tpr. David Miller made no charges.

Barbara Ann Conway, RD 1, Grantsville, was driving south on Mattingly Hill road just north of the Hoyes-Sang Run road last Tuesday morning while Robert F. Lohr, Beckman's Peninsula, was traveling north. As the two met, there was heavy snow on the road which caused Barbara Conway to slide into the rear of the Lohr pickup. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore made no charges.

Robert Dale Guthrie, Frostburg, was traveling south on the Lower New Germany road last Tuesday morning when a deer ran out of a wooded area and into the path of his car. Tpr. Skidmore made no charges in this case either.

Ray A. Snair, Rector, Pa., and Leo Dale Beachy, RD, Grantsville, were traveling south on the Salisbury road (U. S. 219 North) last Wednesday evening. Snair moved onto the shoulder and slowed down. Beachy, in a pickup, started to pass Snair as he moved back onto the southbound lane and made a left turn into a private drive. Beachy then hit the Snair car. Tpr. David Miller charged Snair with failing to yield the right-of-way.

A step-van of the Canteen Service of Cumberland was parked, partially on the traveled portion of U. S. Rt. 40 near Church Run road the morning of Feb. 11, due to mechanical problems, Eugene Dixon, Canton, Ohio, driving west, because of blowing snow, failed to note the truck and hit it. Tpr. Miller made no charges.

Roger L. Miller, RD 2, Grantsville, traveling south on Md. Rt. 495 near the Fire Clay road early last Saturday morning at the same time Gregory A. Brinegar, Grantsville, was traveling north. As the vehicles approached, Brinegar applied his brakes, causing the rear of his car to cross the center of the road into the path of the Miller car. Tpr. Skidmore charged Brinegar with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

U. S. Downfall Plotted Fifty Years Ago —

An article by this title appeared in The Republican of Thursday, November 20, 1969 and is being reprinted here, as the pattern seems to be continuing on schedule.

The article was brought to our attention by Mrs. Alice G. Bennett, North 10th street, who had saved the clipping from its original publication.

"A comic book distributed by an Oakland business concern, had one item that wasn't so comical. It was brought to this office by Donald Dever. Here is what it said:

"In May of 1919, in Dusseldorf, Germany, the Allied Forces obtained a copy of some of the Communist Rules for Revolution. Now, fifty years later the Reds are still following the rules. We quote from them:

"A. Corrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness.

"B. Get control of all means of publicity, thereby getting people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books, play and other trivialities; divide the people into hostile groups by harping on controversial matters of no importance; destroy the people's faith in their National leaders, by holding the latter up to contempt and ridicule; always preach the true democracy but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible; by encouraging government extravagance, destroy credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent; foment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage the disorders and foster lenient and soft attitudes on the part of government toward such disorders; by specious arguments cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues, honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged word, ruggedness.

"C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with a view to confiscating them and leaving the population helpless.

"The article suggests that people take time to think seriously of the above and draw their own conclusions.'

So here is the problem. Over four years later, can we say that we have thought seriously of the above and have we made any attempt to draw any conclusions?

Statement by
Thomas E. Doyle
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR County Commissioner

In any campaign for elective office it is normal for a person to seek the support of the particular party with which he is affiliated. However, if we reflect over the disasters of politics in recent times it guides me to feel that maybe we should concentrate on the individual running for office instead of from which party he comes. Since I am registered as a Republican I am filing on the Republican ticket.

After the primary election, I will be seeking votes from every registered voter regardless of party affiliation. Obvious to all of us, is the fact that once in office the person owes a duty to all citizens of the area over which he will have authority.

This duty is serious and real; I feel I can fill it. Remember please that there will be times when a decision is made which you may not concur with, however, that decision will be made only after careful review of the facts, opinions and interests of all are considered.

If you can contribute to my campaign, please do so because you desire better county government, not because you desire a favor, as I do not wish to let you down. I seek financial support and your voice support. A financial report will be made after the election.

Farmers Asked To Tell Fuel Needs To Their Supplier

"The essential thing a farmer must do to help assure himself adequate fuel for agricultural production is tell his distributor how much he needs. Unless a local distributor or dealer knows what his farm customers require," said Mrs. Darlene Reams, Acting Executive Director of the Garrett Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, "that distributor cannot take the necessary steps to get enough fuel for them."

Informing the distributor becomes even more important, if a farmer intends to increase his acreage considerably, or if he wants to expand dairy, poultry or other farm operations, it was pointed out. Local dealers will need this information to request additional fuel from their suppliers.

Mrs. Reams said, 'Agricultural producers who are all to receive priority allocations, will be required to certify to an ongoing fuel conservation program on their operations. USDA, in cooperation with the Federal Energy Office and Environmental Protection Agency, has developed a conservation leaflet. This leaflet, scheduled to be available in early March, includes an energy management certification that there is an ongoing conservation program and that priority fuel will be used for 'agricultural production'."

Bolden Explains Office Expenses

Responding to a newspaper account in The Republican, the Cumberland Daily News and the Cumberland Evening Times in reference to legislative expense accounts, Delegate DeCorsey Bolden stated, "I feel that is is incumbent on me to explain and justify the dispensation of office expense funds to a member of my immediate family.

"Since first elected to the House of Delegates I have maintained my principal office in my home. It certainly doesn't seem reasonable or sensible to have an individual come into my home for eight hours a day in order to conduct the secretarial duties of the office, this would include answering telephone calls, typing correspondence, filing and general secretary work. Further, I don't believe I could get them to do this service for the little amount of money that my wife has been extended. I felt that the least expensive and most effective and appropriate way was to compensate my wife She is paid $3 29 a day as my secretary. I also paid out of the $1485.00 reported, expenses for two different secretaries at two different times for work for the Garrett County Delegation while in Annapolis when the General Assembly was in session.

"I have in the past and I will continue to do so in the future, maintain an office open to the Garrett County constituency 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. I have made myself available, I have endeavored to answer all telephone messages and written correspondence as rapidly and expeditious as possible," Delegate Bolden concluded.

Name Submitted For Liquor Control Board

The name of Clarence M Savage was submitted this week to the House of Delegates for member of the Garrett County Liquor Control Board, at the expiration of William D Casteel's term in June. The name was submitted by Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden

Mr. Savage former owner of Red Run Lodge on Deep Creek Lake, is now retired and is the official repairman for musical instruments for the West Virginia University Marching band He resides on state route 135, east of Mt Lake Park, where he maintains an instrument workshop in the basement fo his home.

Named Police Officer of Year In Howard County

Detective Terry Schlossnagle, a former Garrett County resident, was named the "1973 Howard County Police Officer of the Year."

Detective Schlossnagle, who has been assigned to Criminal Investigation for 18 months, lived with his parents in Oakland, at the time of his marriage to the former Janice DeWitt of McHenry. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schlossnagle, of 555 McMullen Ave., in Cumberland.

Detective Schlossnagle, his wife and young son are presently residents of Ellicott City. He graduated from the Police Academy second in his class two years ago and served in the Patrol Division before his assignment to Criminal Investigation.

The detective's "continued year round dedication to duty" resulted in this award. Det. Schlossnagle's untiring investigation, (much on his own time) resulted in his closing several major cases during the year.

He was assigned to 261 investigations last year and he attained a clearance rate of 66 percent - - - the highest in his division. It was because of his tenacity and many hours on his own time that he was able to arrest a young man believed responsible for 15 burglary cases - of which eleven resulted in either rape or sexual molestations of children.

"Astute and intelligent action" on his part resulted in successfully closing one of the rare conspiracy to kill contract cases. In another case, Det Schlossnagle was responsible for the arrest of a believed insane youth allegedly responsible for the attempted murder of a young boy.

"It was the development and preparation of both evidence and information that resulted in a raid that led to the arrest of one of the largest sellers of stolen goods in the county's history. Five burglary cases were closed as the result of this arrest and over $5,000 in stolen goods were recovered.

"In a brutal hold-up where a young clerk in a general store was injured, it was Schlossnagle who investigated the case and arrested the perpetrators within several hours."

These are a few examples of the outstanding work he performed in 1973.

Who Eats Wax Apples?

Let us make clear what we conservators of value criticize and what we seek to create. We do not seek to deny, repress, or censor the love of the body; we simply affirm love and sex in their essence, as God made them. We are not against sex — we are against "sex."

"Sex" is what's left after materialistic "scientists" and highly-publicized "psychologists" have isolated sex from love, and proceeded to analyze and quantify it with meaningless statistics. To them, sex is as meaningless, as blind, as material as an amoeba with a libido. Their way of treating it is to italicize its biological urge and to advise its gratification to free us from "repression."

"Sex" without love is like eating a spoonful of salt without spaghetti. No wonder men and women today are confused and frustrated. No wonder they turn to destructive escapes like LSD, suicide, and alcohol.

The "sex" that Hefner offers you is a carefully created image of the real thing. It's a wax apple — only the foolish eat it.

The proud and free and wise, however, now as always, love to preserve the fruit of the tree of joy by revering it and cullivating their own garden and savoring it in joy by themselves.

We are restless 'til we find the great chords of Bethoven, but we betray and destroy that longing if we dunk our hearts in the dishwater of Alice Cooper.

In the same way, if you exploit the 'pleasure' of mere "sex," you lose the beauty and mystery and joy of sex.

BE HONEST WITH YOUR HEALTH

Too often, people will try to convince themselves that very evident symptoms of an illness do not really exist or will disappear if they will just forget about them. This type of attitude can only lead to more serious problems in the long run. A disease in its earliest stages is usually much easier to treat and cure.

Never be afraid to find out about something that is bothering you. Most often your doctor will be able to diagnose your problem quickly. Then not only will you be feeling better physically but you will have great mental relief as well.

Not much of a world—when you consider all its human imperfections. Yet it's the world we are giving our children—the world in which they must grow up and find their destiny. And we keep hoping that theirs will be a finer generation—one able to improve this world.

What our children eventually do with the world depends upon our spiritual resources and how we share these truths and ideals with them. By encouraging faith and showing them right from wrong, our children can become the finest generation, destined to change the world for the better.

Is there a church in your life? There should be!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE LAST BEATTITUDE

Lesson for February 24, 1974

Background Scripture: John 20 and
Devotional Reading: John 11 17-27.

In Jerusalem on a hill overlooking the Hinnom Valley just outside the present walls of the city, stands a building presumed to enshrine the Upper Room in which Jesus both shared his Last Supper and appeared to his disciples after his resurrection. It is probably the oldest church in Christendom, indicating that that tradition may very well be accurate.

Rev. Althouse

Some people who visit this site occasionally inquire as to what is being done to either prove or disprove its authenticity. They seem to assume that if authenticity could be established, this would lend greater weight to our belief in the resurrection of Christ.

He came and stood among them

Obviously, the resurrection of Jesus Christ is not going to be verified or disproven by any kind of archeaological research. Its validity does not rest upon that kind of data. It never has.

Actually, the data of the resurrection provided by the four evangelists is very confusing and hardly the basis of our resurrection faith. There is uncertainty as to which disciple went to the tomb first, who or what they found there, and when, where, and to whom the Risen Lord first appeared. Even John can be confusing. In John 20:19 he gives the impression that there is something immaterial about the "body" of Jesus—he enters a room where the doors were shut "for fear of the Jews." But in 20:27, John gives us the impression that the resurrection body of Christ is very material and solid: "Put you finger here, and see my hands . . ."

What are we to make of this apparent discrepency? The answer is "Nothing!" For one thing, a stimulating religious experience (and the resurrection at its least was that) defies precise explanation and communication. This was evident on the occasion of one of Jesus' trips to Jerusalem (John 12:27-29). The Evangelist tells us that God spoke to Jesus. But, says John:

> The crowd . . . said that it had thundered. Others said, "An angel has spoken to him."

Men divinely inspired will usually vary greatly in perceiving and sharing with others the nature of that inspiration.

Beyond certainty

Secondly, the "proof of the pudding" as far as the resurrection is concerned is to be found, not so much in what the disciples said about the resurrection experiences, but what they did about it. Although they could not fully agree on all the details of their inspiring experiences, they found in those experiences the power to become flaming witnesses for the Risen Lord.

We may sometimes feel the disciples had a great advantage in experiencing the Risen Lord in such dramatic fashion, but Jesus himself indicates that the highest blessedness of all is for those of us who "have not seen and yet believe."

American Freedom and Christian Responsibility

. . . as I understand it!

By
Rev. W. H. Leake
Deer Park, Maryland

This is the beginning of what I hope will become a weekly column in The Republican. It seems only fitting that it begin in February the month two of our greatest Presidents were born, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Oh, for another of their caliber in these troubled times.

Law and government in our nation (as in all Christian nations) is derived from the Holy Bible. In recent years we have seen great attempts made by the powers that be to change the Status quo, overthrow the existing order and establish a secular nation with all vestiges of God removed. What should be the Christian's reaction to the secularizing and socializing of our nation.

Through this weekly column, I shall endeavor to speak out on any and all issues that affect our Christian American Way of Life. In so doing, I fully expect to make enemies; however, it is far better that I lose the smiles of men than lose the smile of God. For man's breath is in his nostrils and soon passes away; but "FROM EVERLASTING TO EVERLASTING" God Is God and His approval is better than life. Today our land is full of disrespect, disregard and discontent, humanity has lost its sense of direction. Pornography, drunkeness, dope, promiscuity, politics and appeasement and the modernistic church are bringing this nation ever closer to divine judgment.

The pages of history tell the story of many great nations that have gone the same way America is going; their average length of life was two hundred years. The cycle is plain to all students of history. They went from slavery to spiritual faith; from spiritual faith to courage; from courage to liberty; from liberty to abundance; from abundance to complacency; from complacency to apathy; from apathy to dependency and tragically, from dependency back to slavery. Where would you place America in this cycle?

William Penn, an early American Patriot, said "Men who are not ruled by God will be ruled by Tyrants." The Bible says in Psalms 9:17 The wicked shall be turned into Hell and all the NATIONS that forget God. I shall close with this quote, I know not who made it, "IF AMERICA IS EVER AGAIN TO GET ON ITS FEET, THE CHURCH WILL HAVE TO GET IT ON ITS KNEES." Will You?

Next week: The two greatest threats, "They are fraternal twins," to our American way of life.

Please Remember: NO ONE WINS WHEN FREEDOM FAILS. THE BEST MEN ROT IN FILTHY JAILS AND THOSE WHO CRIED APPEASE, APPEASE ARE HANGED BY THOSE THEY TRIED TO PLEASE!!

Impeachment . . .

Impeachment of a president is not in the national interest, according to words of former Speaker of the House John McCormack in a Boston TV station interview in January, and we are inclined to agree.

McCormack said: "I'm a very strong Democrat. I don't see any evidence which justifies impeachment as yet. We're talking about the President of the United States; we're not talking about somebody going through a red light or spitting on the sidewalk—we're talking about the President and the office of the President of the United States. I wish there was a Democrat there, but there's not—he's my President and we're talking about him.

"If the President is impeached, that means intense division among the people of our country. Impeachment of the President would have a serious blow upon the national interests of the United States and that's my country—our country. We're not Democrats or Republicans when we consider the national interests of our country. The national interest is paramount. These are my views as an American. I see no evidence justifying impeachment yet. And if I was Speaker, even if I felt there was, I'd have to pass upon the additional question—do I think impeachment would help or hurt my country? So far as the President resigning—all I can say is that I hope he will not."

District Playoffs Being Arranged

Schedules for the basketball games in the district 1 tournament, are now being made, but definite dates and definite opponents will hinge on results of games this weekend, according to Richard Travis, athletic director for the Board of Education.

The Southern Rams, possibly will play their opening game on March 5, at Garrett Community college at McHenry, but their opponent may be Bonnsboro or possibly Francis Scott Key of Frederick. Southern will compete in the B class, determined by the number of male students grades 9 through 12.

The Northern Huskies will compete in class C against Clear Spring, Flintstone, or Hancock, and may be scheduled either at the community college or some gymnasium in Allegany county.

Southern JV's to Play

Coach Gary Newcomb will take the Southern Junior Varsity to Romney, W. Va., tonight to play Ridgeley High in a Potomac Valley conference championship tournament. The Jayvees have an 8-6 record and will play the second game after Fort Ashby and Hampshire compete. The two winners will play Friday. The championship game will be played Saturday.

Pilot Killed In Plane Crash Nr. Deep Creek

Westminster Man Was Enroute To Cincinnati When Icing of Wings Developed

A 35-year old Westminster man was killed Sunday night when his single engine Cherokee airplane crashed during a snowstorm near Deep Creek Lake, along the Zeddock Miller road near Thayerville.

The man was identified as Glenn T. Boyle, who was on a flight from the Baltimore-Washington international airport to Cincinnati, Ohio.

Boyle, who was in radio contact with the Cincinnati airport, reported his plane was icing up and he was experiencing visibility problems. A "Mayday" signal was received at 10:05 p.m. when the pilot, an employe of the Federal Aviation Admin. as a flight service specialist, was vectored to the county airport by Cleveland flight center. It was reported the pilot had acknowledged receiving the bearing radioed to him and was picked up on radar making a right turn when the plane disappeared from the radar screen. The lights were turned on at 10 p.m. at the county airport and remained on until about 2 a.m.

At the time of the distress signal it was reported his plane was about five miles west of Westernport and five miles northeast of Swanton. It was believed the pilot was up about 2,500 feet when the plane nose dived into the ground, in a small pine grove near the newly constructed C & P telephone building at Thayerville. The right wing was ripped off but the plane did not explode or burn. Boyle died of a crushed chest and internal injuries.

County authorities, State Police and Southern Garrett County Rescue squad were alerted but it was David Lee Thayer 29, and David Livengood, a deputy sheriff who first discovered the plane. Thayer arrived by snowmobile. Sheriff Browning said the search was expedited by using an air map and taking a reading from the Swanton interchange listed on a map, from a last known location of the aircraft. The search was further aided by an LTI, emergency radio, locating device, the property of Skeeter Bowman, of McHenry. Browning praised the efforts of all involved in the search.

Hang Glider Will Be Feature At Winter-Fest

An additional feature of the first Winter-fest coming up this weekend, March 1 to 3, will be a demonstration of how to glide through the air with the greatest of ease on an air glider.

Wind and weather permitting, Jerry Lanham, Baltimore, will present four flights with his hang glider on Saturday beginning at 1 p.m. A night flight lit by flares on the glider, is planned for Saturday evening.

A steady wind must be blowing toward the slope before a flight can be attempted.

Mr. Lanham will take off in his 39-lb., 17-foot long craft from the ski slope at Wisp. He constructed his glider, a triangular-shaped Rogallo type, in his apartment for about $275, using aircraft-quality stainless steel tubing.

His glider drops one foot for every four feet of forward movement. He recommends to beginning gliding enthusiasts that they start with an easily-maneuverable Rogallo available in kit of complete and that they observe several commonsense safety rules.

Mr. Lanham is a veteran of many glides (and many falls) and tries to get out to a suitable hill every weekend. He is presently a painter at Rosewood State Hospital after a seven-year Hollywood career.

After launching himself into the wind, he controls the glider by shifting his weight from side to side or backwards or forwards. He can land on his feet by controlling the sink rate of the glider.

Schools Back On Normal Time As of Monday, March 4

School opening and closing will go back on schedule and will be one-half hour earlier beginning Monday, March 4, Dr. William H. Buser, County Superintendent, announced that the later opening time for the past several weeks had been successful and that sunrise will occur much earlier in March than in January when the delayed opening was announced.

In March sunrise will occur before 8:00 a.m. and although some students may be waiting for buses in the dawn, the majority of students will have daylight when coming to school. The danger of students boarding buses in the dark will be over and Dr. Buser expressed thanks to the citizenry for being extra careful in watching out for students during the darker morning hours.

Parents are reminded that beginning March 4 schools will be opening one-half hour earlier. School buses will operate on the regular daylight saving time.

Month's Snow Put Over Top By Monday's Storm

The month's snowfall went over the top as 7.5 inches fell from Sunday evening into Tuesday. The storm closed schools in the county Monday.

No particular difficulties were encountered by either the State Highway Admin. or the county Roads Dept. Schools were called off at 5 a.m. Monday when the decision had to be made, and according to a spokesman of the County Roads, the situation looked bad at the time. There was some light drifting as high winds whipped the snow.

It should be noted also that the coldest reading of the winter season was registered yesterday morning when the mercury stood at two degrees above zero.

Last Thursday's clear skies gave way to cloudy and rain at night which continued into Friday. Friday's high was in the morning, 53 degrees, but the mercury fell gradually during the day, with high winds. The rain changed to snow late in the day as the mercury dropped into the 20's with 2 inch falling. Variable cloudiness continued over the weekend with some sunshine Sunday. Sunday eve-

Bolden Supporting Resolution Urging "Green Thumb"

Governor Mandel was urged to have Maryland included in a national "Green Thumb" public service employment program to benefit the elderly, low income rural citizens under the terms of a joint resolution which was to be filed in both the Senate and House of the Maryland General Assembly by a group of legislators including Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden, of Oakland.

The "Green Thumb" is a work training and job opportunity program sponsored by the National Farmers Union under a grant from the U. S. Department of Labor as part of the Nelson-Laird Mainstream programs. Host agencies contribute nearly twenty-five percent of the total costs in in-kind contributions.

Delegate Bolden pointed out that the Green Thumbers assist in strengthening existing community services and provide special services to help the aged, shut-ins and handicapped in addition to building parks and carrying out conservation projects. The work of the Green Thumb group includes any type of beautification, conservation or community betterment projects on any publicly owned land, or land owned by a non-profit organization. Among the more popular and beneficial projects are restoration of historical sites, new parks and playgrounds, new hiking trails and the planting of trees and shrubs along highways and around public buildings.

Each Green Thumb worker works an average of three days a week and may earn up to $1600 per year.

Green Thumb workers are recruited by local community agencies and organizations. Applicants are then referred to the state employment service where they are screened for age, income, and background. The state Green Thumb staff does the actual hiring.

New Needlecraft Yarn

Hercules well known for its carpet yarns, now has a new yarn for needlecraft use. Known as "Elefant" this yarn will be sold in 2 oz and 6 oz spools at shops and stores where other needlework yarns are sold. It will be less expensive than wool, will work up easily and quickly, will be easy to care for, and will not shrink or fade. Colors will be solid and multi-colored.

"Elefant" can be either knitted or crocheted into rugs of infinite size, style, color or texture. No costly tool, backings, frames or latex are required to produce a quality product.

Needle Shortage

Due to shortage of materials, problems with deliveries from foreign countries etc., there already is a scarcity of fine quality steel needles used for stitchery work. Sewing needles are also becoming scarce. People who do needle work to supplement their income should have a few needles on hand. They should not hoard them, but do need a few in reserve.

Five persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Sergeant James Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed, one was a driver, three were passengers, and one was a pedestrian. Four of the five persons killed this week were involved in alcohol related accident.

A Way To Improve The Economy

The President's submission of his annual budget proposals gives the Congress another opportunity to search for ways to stimulate the economy without increasing the budget deficit. One such way is to reduce the massive overwithholding of personal income taxes that results from our current tax system.

Last year, an estimated $22 billion had to be refunded to American taxpayers. This is more than one-fifth of the total Federal income tax owed by American citizens. Today, close to 80 per cent of American taxpayers receive refunds. The average refund is approximately $350.

Many taxpayers prefer a system that results in overwithholding. They would rather that Uncle Sam owe them in April than that they owe Uncle Sam.

The size and number of the refunds due each April, however, suggest that withholding could be modestly reduced without resulting in underwithholding for most Americans. In other words, the average American would still overwithhold, but not as much as now. Of course, anyone who wishes to overwithhold by a sizeable amount can do so simply by not claiming as many exemptions as he or she is entitled to.

The overall effect of overwithholding is to dampen consumer spending throughout the year. The withholding system acts as a sponge that soaks money from the economy. Of course, the money eventually is returned as a refund, but in the meantime, it lies idle—it does not purchase goods, it does not support jobs.

Our economy needs this money. That is the reason that I am sponsoring legislation that would cut withholding taxes by 8 per cent across the board. This would reduce withholding by approximately $10 billion annually and the money would flow through our economy, producing goods, services and jobs.

Assuming that this change were made beginning in April, experts have estimated that it would increase our gross national product by $6.5 billion this year and $6.9 billion by April 1, 1975.

It would reduce unemployment by .2 per cent in the last half of this year, meaning that 180,000 more Americans would be employed.

It would increase consumer spending by about $5.9 billion this year and $6.2 billion by April 1, 1975.

And it would reduce the federal budget deficit by at least $2 billion in the 1975 fiscal year.

All of this could be accomplished without costing the government anything, without affecting inflation of the economy, without changing the ultimate tax liability of any American. These are worthwhile goals. Accordingly, I am hopeful that this proposal will be considered by the appropriate committees of the Congress as early as possible.

TAX CHECK-OFF

Federal income tax returns allow for a voluntary check-off of one dollar to help provide public financing of the 1976 Presidential election campaigns of both parties. Small contributions are the key to reform of our political system. Check-off for good politics and good government.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

They say that forewarned is forearmed. To all who own land you are hereby forewarned that if you want to continue to control your land, you had better wake up. It is much later than you think.

There is a bill in Congress NOW known as the Land Control Bill. If this bill passes and the President signs it, you will have no more control of your land.

Purpose of the bill is to take the private control of land out of the hands of the owners and put it under control of the government. You will be told what to do with your land and how to do it. The bureaucrats in Washington will decide what you can do. This is the way it is done in Russia. In plain words you become a slave working under a dictator.

I admonish you to write IMMEDIATELY to your Senators and Representative in Washington, and any others you care to, to use their vote and influence to defeat this bill. There are men in Congress who would deprive you of your freedom. We MUST keep them from doing it. Don't allow anyone to do your thinking. Use your intelligence and influence for your benefit.

Southern-Northern Girls' Quints Meet Tonight

The first Southern high girls' basketball game to be played at night in the boys' gym is scheduled for tonight, February 28, with the Northern High School. Tip-off time is 8 o'clock. The preliminary game will be the championship game of the senior high girls' physical education classes at 7.

Starting for Southern are Charlene Shaffer, Joyce Lewis, Peg Watson, Jane Corbin, and Donna Moore. Other players are Kim Calhoun, Nellie Steyer, Pam Terrant, Barbara Paugh, Debbie Smith, Donna Tasker, and Jill Uphole.

Coach Rostosky is assisted by student teachers Dean Fresca, Shirley Keeney, and Linda Roberts.

The team will lose only two members by graduation this year, Jane Corbin and Barbara Paugh. Lois Calhoun is the manager and Toni Terrant is scorekeeper.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information, typical of the kind asked of me ition or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, r o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were Typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks;

Are Congressional committee meetings normally open to the public? How about the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee on which you serve?

Only ten percent of all House Committee and Subcommittee meetings were closed to the public in 1973 - compared to 14 percent the previous year. For your information, over 92 percent of the House Commerce Committees meetings were open last year.

How many former miners in Western Maryland receive black lung benefits?

According to the latest black lung statistics, 3990 individuals in Allegany and Garrett Counties are beneficiarirs. This includes 1490 miners, 1300 widows and an estimated 1200 dependents.

Is Congress going to increase educational benefits for veterans?

The House Committee on Veterans' Affairs has reported out a bill authorizing a 15.6 percent hike in educational benefits. A vote is scheduled in the House in the near future.

Can you suggest any educational booklets on conserving energy?

Two new fedetal consumer publications are available on this subject and may be ordered free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. "Home Energy Savers" discusses house insulation for winter and summer, outlines steps for conserving energy in appliance use and tells how to reduce energy used in home cooking, water heating and lighting. "Tips for Conserving Gasoline" is available and describes ways to increase the miles per gallon for your car.

Please send me the hunting regulations for the state of Maryland.

Citizens interested in State hunting and fishing laws should write for a copy of the 1974 Guide to Hunting & Trapping in Maryland. The booklet is available from the Department of Natural Resources, Wildlife Administration, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis 21401.

What is the status of the solar energy bill you discussed in your column last November?

Last week the Solar Heating & Cooling Demonstration Act passed the House. Under legislation, a comprehensive program will be developed to test the feasibility of using solar energy to heat and cool homes within the next five years. Reliable estimates show that ten percent of all new buildings constructed in 1985 could utilize solar energy resulting in a national fuel savings of $3.5 billion.

Parsons Defeats Rams 77 to 70

Southern high, a victim of seven questionable technical foul calls in the late going, fell to host Parsons 77 to 70 last night.

The Rams traded throughout the contest, falling behind 18-14 at the quarter. Parsons widened the advantage to 41-29 at the half and carried a 61-48 lead into the final quarter.

The Rams got as close as a pair of points in the final period but the technicals took their toll.

Kyle, with 26, and Gutshall with 21, paced the Panthers. Tom Panther led Southern with 18 with Liller getting 17, Randy DiSimone 16, Skeweris 4, Sharps 5, Tressler 8, and Skiles 2.

Southern had the edge in field goals 33 to 31, but Parsons shot 15 of 28 fouls compared to 4 of 7 for the Rams. Sharp was banished on 5 personal fouls.

ACCIDENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seggie, Accident, were Sunday evening visitors at the Dunham and Shoemaker home in Friendsville.

The Cost Of National Defense —

The most fundamental responsibility of any government is to provide for the defense of the nation against possible external attack. The latest Pentagon budget - $85.8 billion - is a sober reflection of the continuing high cost of meeting that responsibility.

The peril against which this sum is stacked is, of course, the immense and growing military power of the Soviet Union.

Back in the euphoric days of the mid 1960's when the U. S. still enjoyed clear strategic superiority over the Soviet Union, then Secretary of Defense McNamara argued that the Soviet Union would not even try to match the U. S. missile for missile. When events caused this happy hypothesis to fall on its face, the argument was modified to say that the Soviets would surely be content with equality, if only the U. S. did nothing to increase its own forces. With this hope in ruins the U. S. signed the S.A.L.T. treaty which froze Soviet ICBM quantitative superiority to the extent of 1,618 vs. 1,054 for the U. S. The new philosophy was that the Soviets might finally be satisfied with that and call a halt to the arms race.

Not so. Since May 1972, the Soviets tested four new land-based missiles. Three of them, the SS-17, SS-18, and SS-19, have been tested with Multiple Independently Targeted warheads (MIRV). Moreover, the SS-19 and SS-17 though theoretically "light" ICBMs, have two or three times the lifting capacity of the roughly 1000 older SS-11 missiles they might replace.

If the replacement missiles were deployed for the entire Soviet force which is legal under the SALT treaty of May 1972, the Soviets would have a 5-to-1 advantage over the U. S. in missile weight lifting power in the 1980's. Such is the assessment of the current U. S. Defense Secretary, James Schlesinger.

There are still Americans who would gamble the future of the country on the comforting idea that none of this is sinister. Soviet military policy, they say, is the prisoner of the Soviet marshals, who are only acting like military men always act. If we simply sit tight and do nothing, the "sottiners" in the Kremlin will eventually prevail, bring the marshals to heel, and agree to meaningful disarmament.

For our part, we don't believe this is how the Soviets operate, and we think history bears us out. If we want to ease the arms race, we must first demonstrate that we don't intend to lose it. The new U. S. defense budget is not a bit too high. Its only fault is that it may already be too little and too late. — U. S. Press Assoc.

Reform: Yes! Destruction: No!

A vigorous, alert, aggressive crusading press is the Republic's best guarantee for lasting freedom. As to that truism (thank Heavens!) there is little disagreement.

Today, our nation is involved in a great debate concerning abuse of Presidential power. This is a legitimate discussion, one of continuing importance in a country which seeks to preserve the principle that political economic and moral power be vested in the people. And for the conduct of that debate, a free press is essential.

As with all matters, however, there are two sides to the coin. Even as there are dangers inherent in political power, there are dangers that the vast power of the press itself, if not handled with restraint, may also be subverted.

There is good reason to believe that some of those involved in the attack against Mr. Nixon (echoed and harrassed as no President before him had ever been," according to liberal writer Theodore White) have exceeded the bounds of legitimate debate, and have extended their assault to include not simply the President - the man - but the very office of the Presidency itself, the institution.

In one recent event a college student demonstration demanded impeachment. An inquiring reporter asked the youth who they proposed to fill the vacancy. It was learned that they not only didn't know, they didn't care. Their "contribution" to the debate was not constructive, but simply destructive.

Mrs. Marie Gifford recently editorialized on radio stations KEEL and KMBQ, Shreveport Louisiana: "Over the past ten years we have seen a gradually accelerated effort to kill the Presidency. I submit that this is a dangerous game to play. Today it has become great sport to belittle the President. Whether or not those who engage in this sport realize what they are doing, I do not know. But they are killing the Presidency as surely as a bullet killed John Kennedy.

"The stakes are too great for power-hungry politicians and yes, sorrowfully, power-hungry newsmen, to kill the Presidency."

Power in all branches of the government bureaucracy in Washington has indeed reached alarming proportions. There has been, and continues to be, abuses of power. Our free press can make a major contribution toward the reduction of excessive government power.

Reform? Definitely! But destruction? No! — U. S. Press association.

Is Semi-Finalist In Navy Boxing Match

Midshipman 2/c George M. Tusing II defeated Pete Cornell, Baton Rouge, La., Saturday night in the Naval Academy semi-finals boxing championships in the 165-lb. class.

On Saturday, March 9, he will meet Dan Chellis, Virginia Beach, Va., in the finals for the brigade championship.

Last year as a third classman George also reached the finals, but lost the match to a first classman. Should George win the championship this year he would receive the coveted Navy "N" for boxing which is reserved for champions.

Poetry Unit Is Taught at Southern

A unit of poetry combined with music was taught second term at Southern by Miss Jane Avery.

The unit consisted of listening to music, not just rock, but country-western as well, and really trying to understand what the writer was trying to say through the music. Also many students discovered things about themselves they didn't know before, and probably wouldn't have known otherwise.

The purpose of this was trying to discover and analyze poetry relevant to today's society.

Miss Avery tried to get the students to look at things with an open mind and form opinions about things based on fact. She also stressed having one's own ideas about music and performers.

Agreeing with Miss Avery just because she was the teacher was not important, but if opinions differed, reasons were given to back them up.

From the students' point of view, 99% of the students who were exposed to this felt it was important to them and very worthwhile. The other 1% could not accept this as a way of learning. They used it as a way of getting out of the usual English drag. Many of them just refused to let their minds work in a constructive way.

When asked how she evaluated these 9 weeks, Miss Avery replied,

"I was really pleased with the results that I received on essay examinations and with the ideas that were expressed by students in class. This was a learning experience for me as well as for the students.

"I'm hoping to teach the unit next year as a mini-course, and I'll use some of the suggestions that the students used in their evaluations of the course."

Weeks-Agnew Nuptials Held

Miss Kathleen Agnew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ward Agnew, Richmond, Va., became the bride of Michael Weeks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Weeks, Mt. Lake Park, on December 15.

The double ring ceremony was held at the Lakeside Presbyterian church in Richmond with Rev. William Bovee performing the rites.

Prerecorded music for the service included "Trumpet Voluntary", as processional, and "There Is Love," as the recessional. Music was also presented by Mrs. Betty Clifton, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of peau white jersey with empress waistline. The bodice had a v-neckline with Chantilly lace and pearls at the neckline, empire line and sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses, mums, pompon daisies and orchids designed by the groom. She wore a mantilla original by "Priscella" that ran a seven foot train.

Matron of honor was her sister, Mary Crite, Beaverdam, Va. Bridesmaids were Miss Debra Trinke, Richmond, and Miss Beverly Oliver, Ashland, Va. Bestman was Richard Ridder, Red House. Groomsmen were John Voyotny, of Silver Spring, and Lawrence W. Agnew, Jr., Springfield, Ill., brother of the bride.

A reception followed in the church hall.

The bride, a former student of Maryland University, Virginia Commonwealth university, graduated from Smithdale Massey in Richmond, Va., a secretarial major.

A graduate of Southern High School, Oakland, and former student of Frostburg State college, the groom is presently serving in the U. S. Naval Medical Corps as an EXG technician and treatment room corpsman at the Naval Air station at Oceana, Va.

The couple resides in the Palm apartments, 3640 Palms Malibu Drive, Apt. 103, Virginia Beach, Va.

Cancer Society Seeks Volunteer Helpers

Volunteers to help in American Cancer Society activities other than in the actual crusade for funds, are being sought by C. W. Englander, chairman of the county's chapter for cancer.

Mr. Englander pointed out that many people had a sincere desire to help in some cause but did not know how to get involved. He is making some applications available in the churches, libraries and other places which they could fill out and offer their help in the volunteer program.

Volunteers could do such things as operating film projectors, provide transportation, give counsel, distribute literature, make dressings for patients, transport equipment and do a number of other things.

Funds are needed to carry on the fight against cancer and these will be obtained through the annual cancer crusade. Forty-two percent of the money collected stays in this county, he stated. The crusade is carried on in April each year.

AMERICAN FREEDOM
and
CHRISTIAN RESPONSIBILITY
AS I UNDERSTAND IT.
By
Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

The two greatest threats, "they are fraternal twins," to our American way of life are big government and lazy or unconcerned and uninformed people; they are born at the same time. Government is a necessary evil and life fine, under control, it can be made to serve humanity; but when it gets too big, it destroys the very thing for which is was created.
Our constitutional form of government has produced the freest, best fed, best clothed, and, at one time, the best informed people in the world. But as we began to prosper, we also began to get a little bit lazy; we began to ask government to do for us what we should have done for ourselves, and what we had, in the past, been doing for ourselves.
Of course, there are always those in government who like the power and prestige they get by controlling others; it has been said and rightly so, that "they govern best who govern least." Remember Americans, A Government that is big enough to give you all you want; is also big enough to take all you have. Through taxation and regimentation we are rapidly losing our rights and freedoms.
The Question is not what can we do, but what must we do if we are to survive as a free people. First we must realize that WE are the government and ALL politicians are our employees; if they do not do what we the people deem best, we shall fire them next election day. Not only that, but we shall hold our elected officials responsible for ALL BUREAUCRATS that staff ALL BUREAUS which they have created.
We can only have a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people" when the people accept their responsibility. WILL YOU GET INFORMED AND THEN GET INVOLVED FOR FREEDOM? Remember Jesus said, "you shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."
Please Remember: NO ONE WINS WHEN FREEDOM FAILS. THE BEST MEN ROT IN FILTHY JAILS AND THOSE WHO CRIED APPEASE, APPEASE, ARE HANGED BY THOSE THEY TRIED TO PLEASE!"

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Scarcy, Arkansas

An exhaustive study of prices and wages, using official U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and other official data, shows clearly that the consumers of America—200 million citizens—pay at least a substantial part of all wage raises and fringe benefits obtained by organized labor from manufacturing and processing companies. Upon examining the data, many people would conclude that wage negotiations should not be carried on between employee representatives and management but should be carried on between employee representatives and the consuming public; or at least through a three party negotiation with the consuming public being a third, equal-in-power party.

Last September the United Auto Workers union struck Chrysler Motors when initial demands for wage and fringe benefit increases were turned down. This was an announced strike to set new, higher compensation for the 800,000 workers employed by Chrysler, Ford, General Motors, and American Motors. In the end, as expected (because of the power to indefinitely halt production) the UAW got its increases.

The public generally was apathetic to the whole thing, since it had become a commonplace (with approximately 6,000 strikes per year, involving raises for millions of workers). Then in December, the auto manufacturers announced price increases of from $150 to $100 on 1974 automobiles—thus passing raises on to the public. The manufacturers could not do otherwise. Their production cost went up with the new UAW contract.

The data we've been studying gives a clear picture of the Chrysler strike negotiations. As an example of what we're talking about here—the public's stake in industry and business wage raises—here are the pertinent facts:

The average Chrysler (and other auto manufacturers') hourly wage earner last September was receiving about $1,000 a month in wages. The "fringe benefits" could be valued at about $250 a month additional. Chrysler employees were receiving 12 paid holidays; supplemental unemployment compensation boosting their layoff pay to nearly 90 per cent of work pay; company pensions running to $500 a month; paid insurance, hospitalization, death benefits, etc.

The settlement, which, without the above facts, was virtually meaningless to the public, including a three year contract with wage raises of 23-to35 cents an hour, additional cost of living escalator raises in the future; company pensions to a maximum of $700 a month until age 65, then lifetime pensions to maximum of $400 plus Social Security; a 13th paid holiday (the day after Thanksgiving); adjustment upward in supplemental unemployment compensation and with company paying all life insurance, hospital-surgical-medicine premiums while unemployed; boost to maximum $14,500 paid life insurance; $200 per month to survivors upon death; maximum of $700 in tuition for learning skilled trade; paid absence in case of death of grandparent or spouse.

In view of the fact that in an indirect manner the consuming public was picking up the check for this banquet of benefits for the $15,000 a year hourly wage earners in the automobile industry, many consumers would conclude that the public should have a voice in such negotiations. How can they get it? By citizen action and leadership. There is no other way. And until that happens the public will be burdened with more and more high prices and general inflation.

Resolution Seeks Study Of Area Coal Reserves

Resolutions were offered last week in the General Assembly seeking a study of the area coal reserves, to ascertain whether or not it would be worthwhile to rebuild the Western Maryland coal industry.

There will be attempts to get a report to the legislature by March 1 of the natural resources available.

All but one of Allegany county's 28 deep mines has been closed since 1970, and most of Garrett County's deep mines are also closed.

Dr. Kenneth Weaver, director of the Maryland Geological Survey, told the committee a study into the matter would be worthwhile.

Besides receiving support from Delegates Reed and Williams in Allegany county the measure was also backed by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden who expressed concern over the dwindling coal output in this county.

Secretary Coulter termed the Reed resolution "well intentioned and a good one", and he will submit its report by the March 1 deadline.

Dr. Weaver said the report would concentrate on four areas and also make recommendations about Maryland's coal future. The four areas are:

— A definition of what seams are available for mining in Allegany and Garrett counties.

— How to increase the efficiency of mining operations.

— What energy conversion techniques, such as gasification of coal might be used.

— Make further improvements on the land reclamation once a mine is fully stripped.

Dr. Weaver said that the state already knows the extent of the coal seams in the Georges Creek, Upper Potomac river and Casselman river basins, but not enough information has been gathered about the Youghiogheny river basin.

Del. Williams' resolution before the committee urges the General Assembly to ask Congress to relax the federal Mine Health and Safety Acts.

Pay Raise For Congress

In submitting his $300 billion budget to Congress on February 4, President Nixon included a proposal to increase the salaries of top Federal workers, including members of Congress. Under the plan, congressional salaries—already $42,500 annually—would go to $45,700 in March, $49,000 next year, and $52,800 in 1976.

Unless Congress vetoes the pay hike proposal by March 6, it automatically will go into effect. We believe the plan, in its present form, should be vetoed.

At the same time, we admit there are these good aspects to a proposal for higher congressional salaries: Salaries should be substantial enough to attract into politics the best men and women our country can produce. Any built-in insurance against a betrayal of public trust should be welcomed. Finally, although the 535 members of Congress already make considerably more than most of us, it is true they haven't had a raise in five years.

We remain convinced, however, that the bad aspects of the proposal outweigh the good. First, the current high cost of living—which is attributable in good measure to the spendthrift ways of Congress—makes the proposal a bitter pill to swallow.

Second, we believe that at a time when belt tightening is the order of the day for most Americans, a substantial salary increase for congressmen and other top Federal officials sets a very poor example. Many other citizens will be asked to scale down their salary demands this year and Congress should lead the way.

Our biggest objection to the plan, however, is its "automatic" provision. If it is not canceled by Congress, members will automatically receive pay increases through 1976 regardless of performance, the public mood, or the health of the economy.

We believe that as American taxpayers who are, in effect, the stockholders of Congress, we should have the right to insist that pay hikes be based on merit and not on fiat. If Congress is really serious about curbing inflation, let it begin here by vetoing this pay raise proposal and substituting in its place a more reasonable scheme. —U.S. Press Association.

Treasure Island Film To Be Shown

The film is an English made adventure of four young cousins and a dog who outwit their adult rivals in searching for sunken family treasure off the coast of their fishing village. It will be shown in sequence for 7 weeks.

A new display in the showcase window at the library emphasizes the theme of the children's service of the World Day of Prayer service to be held at 3:30 Friday, March 1, at the Bethel Methodist church, in Mt. Lake Park.

To Head Lottery

Stanley S. Fine, former assistant legislative officer to Gov. Marvin Mandel, has been named director of the state lottery agency.

Mandel said Fine, chief deputy director of the lottery since it began last year, will assume the position Friday with a salary of $32,800, $5,500 less than his predecessor, James P. Slicher.

The chief deputy director job is now abolished under provisions of the lottery law enacted by the General Assembly. The drop in salary is also part of the law.

Slicher resigned the position last month, admitting he was upset with the extent of the authority of the lottery commission, chaired by George P. Mahoney.

Mental Hospital For This Area Is Meeting Topic

The organization and administration of the new Thomas B. Finan Mental Hospital to be located in Cumberland will be the topic at an open community meeting to be held Friday, March 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the classroom area at Garrett Community college, McHenry. Mrs. Jessie McCullough, chairman of the Garrett County Mental Health Advisory Committee, will preside.

The Thomas B. Finan Mental Hospital is designed to meet the mental health needs of Western Maryland counties. Garrett, Allegany, and Washington Counties have been asked to participate in planning for this new facility. Dr. Bertram Peuper, Acting Assistant Secretary for Programs has proposed three options for mechanisms of fiscal and program management, and asked that interested community groups and Health Departments consider these. The decision could be made to operate under any of the three options, or to use a proposal combining aspects of different options.

1. Direct State Operation: This option is where the Mental Hygiene Administration would include a budget request for funds for personnel, maintenance and operation costs. The Department, operating within state Civil service practices and procedures, would employ the staff of the hospital center. Selecting management decisions, program and policy changes would all be governed by the appropriate rules, regulations, laws and policies promulgated by the Legislature and the various State administrative departments. Community input regarding programs would be channeled via a Hospital Advisory Board (established by state law) as well as input from the Mental Health Advisory Committees from the counties served, the personnel of the local County Health Departments and perhaps other interested citizens groups. Salaries, rules of work, civil service benefits, constraints upon programs, requests for funds or additional programs, etc. would be governed by the normal State administrative process.

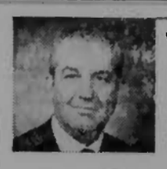
2. Grant Mechanism: A grant governed basically by the same mechanisms for application, review, and disbursement of funds as the community mental health grants now in effect could be developed as a form of "supergrant" to the County Health Departments participating in the use of this regional facility. A consortium of these departments would then assure joint responsibility for the operation of this facility with the input from the community they would themselves develop. Since each County Health department is responsible to the local government in addition to the State, local government should assume considerable responsibility and authority under this option. As long as the participating counties do not have home rule and do not develop their own merit systems, the employees of the facility, although operationally responsible to the local consortium would remain employees under the same terms as the County Health Department employees.

3. Performance Contract: A non-profit group, governed by a Board of Trustees, representing the counties to be served, might be incorporated and chartered, with the authority to operate the facility's mental health programs, and receive funds from the State and other sources. The hospital itself might be leased to the regional corporation for a dollar a year. In addition to utilizing State funds provided through this contract, the corporation would also be empowered to receive third-party payments for services rendered, grants from the Federal Government and private corporations, funds from county government, and funds received from private contributors. With the guidance of the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the corporation would become the employer of all personnel - establishing its own salary, fringe-benefit, and work-rules systems, as well as being responsible for program direction and operation. This option would be feasible only if a stable non-profit group could be established with a structure and by-laws that would assure continuity as well as ability to assume responsibility and accountability.

Dr. Fred Pokrass, Superintendent of the Springfield Mental Hospital, Dr. Louis Schoolman, Regional Mental Health Director, and Dr. Alice Tobler, Director Planning & Community Mental Health Services, will attend the March 8 meeting. This meeting will provide the primary opportunity for citizens of Garrett County to participate in the decisions around this facility.

Floor plans for the hospital will be on display at the meeting.

Allegany, Garrett, and possibly Washington County will participate in the decision making process and a final decision is expected by June, 1974. Groundbreaking for the building is also expected this year and the hospital should open in 1976.



WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN
BEALL JR.

Maryland Needs Gas

By now, anyone who drives a car in Maryland is fed up and fuming over the gasoline shortage in our state.

I think we all recognize that some shortages are going to be unavoidable so long as the Arab oil boycott continues. But thus far, the gasoline allocation to Maryland has been totally inadequate to meet the needs of our citizens.

The people are up in arms, the service station operators are exasperated, vital services are being affected, and serious dislocations are hitting all sectors of the economy. Clearly, something has to be done.

The immediate problem of course, is to get more gas into Maryland, where we have been trying to cope with a 27 per cent decrease in our supply since last November. This compares to an average decrease of about 16 per cent for the entire United States.

Maryland received nearly 155 million gallons of gasoline in November, and now, just a few months later, the Federal Energy Office is trying to tell us to make do with 110 million gallons.

This allotment was derived from consumption in February, 1972. It gives no consideration to our state's rapid growth in the past two years, or in population shifts from one part of the state to another.

The FEO tried to make some adjustments in the past week, when a 2 per cent increase in Maryland's allocation was announced. But this was just a drop in the bucket when compared to the legitimate needs of our citizens.

I have responded to the FEO announcement by urging that an additional allocation be made to Maryland, and also calling for an early release of gasoline now being held for distribution in March. If relief does not come immediately, I fear that Maryland will literally grind to a halt for lack of fuel.

Aside from the February problem, which by no means has been a small one, there still is the question of what's in store for March and April.

Granted, the FEO is a new agency, and there are going to be mistakes. What's important, however, is to recognize the problems and make adjustments where they are necessary- and the gasoline allocation formula is crying for help.

From my discussions with FEO officials, I expect to see some changes forthcoming. In the gas allocation formula for March, for example, I would expect to see a more recent (and therefore more realistic) month being used in determining the base period for allocations.

I would also hope to see the FEO take a stronger position on the redistribution of gasoline supplies from one part of the country to another. This is of critical importance here in the Northeast because of our greater dependence on oil shipments from the Mideast prior to the embargo.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR

County Commissioner

In my opening statement last week I presented no issues, however, I did state my position in several important areas. In the coming weeks and months it will be my plan to bring out various issues which touch each of you who live in this county.

You will be seeking my views on many subjects and I hope you will feel at ease to stop and see me or call me.

In the next county administration I hope you will have three men who can keep you advised of what's going on in many areas of the goveroment. A close view of each government agency is desired and is owed to the people. Where does the outside money come from and where is it spent? Maybe it is all spent properly and if so then fine; if not then it would be the Commissioners' job to assist in adjusting errors. Remember, each situation stands on its own merits. Many times the problem is lack of communication between We the People and the Government.

Some Breaks For Motorists

One of the most frustrating aspects of the gas crisis that affects all of us who drive is the need to wait, sometimes for hours, in long lines that lead to the decreasing number of service stations that still are selling gas in Maryland.

Even worse, most of these stations are open only in the morning, closing well before noon insofar as gas sales are concerned. This is a particular hardship for motorists who are unable to get to the stations at that time of day.

Motorists would get a real break if stations staggered their hours so that some opened early and others opened late in the day. Staggered hours should shorten the lines, because motorists would know that if they are unable to get gas in the morning, they will have an opportunity to get it later.

I have suggested to officials in the government and in the gasoline dealers' associations that they try to implement a plan to stagger hours among neighborhood stations on a voluntary basis. Some stations already have adjusted their hours, but not nearly enough. For such a program to be successful, all stations in a local area must cooperate. It is my hope that they will.

Motorists also are finding that once they reach the pumps, the gas they buy costs more than it ever did. I have asked the Internal Revenue Service to give drivers a break in this regard, by increasing the mileage allowance that taxpayers can claim so that it keeps pace with rising gasoline costs that drivers must pay.

The IRS currently permits a taxpayer who uses his car for business purposes and is not reimbursed to deduct 12 cents per mile for the first 15,000 miles and 9 cents per mile for each additional mile.

These figures are supposed to approximate the cost per mile of using the automobile. But the price of gasoline has increased drastically recently, and thus so has the cost per mile of using one's car for business purposes. It would seem appropriate, therefore, for the Internal Revenue Service to adjust it's standard accordingly.

TAX CHECK-OFF

Federal income tax returns allow for a voluntary check-off of one dollar to help provide public financing of the 1976 Presidential election campaigns of both parties. Small contributions are the key to reform of our political system. Check-off for good politics and good government.

Held On Breaking And Entering Charge

Harold Burgess, Friendsville, is being held in the county jail on charges of breaking and entering. He is charged with entering the house of Ruston Wright and the Northern Garrett County Teenage Club on February 7.

At a bond hearing February 19, the original $1,300 bond was upheld. No trial date has been set.

ARE YOU MORALLY FREE?

Immoral men proclaim themselves to be "free" to do "whatever they want." Yet they are bound hand and foot even as they speak. Their boss is "whatever they want." These have yet to learn one of the first principles of life — that the desires of our lower natures are evil. Disregarding the consequences of his actions, (as well as his conscience) the fool embraces the corrupt ideas of well-publicized philosophers of the day. He gravitates toward "friends" and ideas which help him rationalize his guilt.

Trapped in a web of mere "pleasure," it becomes increasingly difficult for him to realize that he is missing out on the real joy of life — a living friendship with the Creator of the Universe! Freedom is not the right to do what Self wants, it is the power to behave as God would.

Ignorant men should have the "right" 'to cut themselves off with mind pollution, but they do not have the right to cut little children off from the Source of joy and peace and love. "But they don't have to read it if they don't want to," shout the brainwashed liberals. These seem to expect a child on the verge of puberty to have more self-control than they themselves (and most do, but not all.) If one person loses the Joy of Life because of poison on the newsstands, all the perverted "pleasure" of all the fools does not begin to compensate for it.

If you don't understand about this Joy, don't knock the ones who do; get acquainted with Jesus.

It is important that people know what you stand for. It is equally important that they know what you won't stand for. On one hand we complain that our kids have no respect — that they turn to destructive escapes. On the other hand, we tolerate propaganda on our newsstands that openly exonerates rebellion, LSD, and Sodomy.

An obscenity ordinance will be considered on March 4. Let your representatives on the Town Council know your views.

Next year will be the first time juniors will be able to take English mini courses. Seniors, who had the mini courses last year, chose from numerous courses. At least four mini courses are required during the school year - one each nine week term unless the student is taking a standard English course.

Among the courses offered last year to this year's seniors and are being offered again for next year are: "Speed Reading," "Mythology", "Review Grammar", "Reading for Pleasure," "Advanced Composition," and "Religious Literature" which included the Bible.

Several new courses have been added for both seniors and juniors. "The Individual, Society, and Death" includes Man's beliefs, customs, and problems relative to death. "Humor" includes a study of cartoon and humorous literature. "Term Paper Writing" "Non-Fiction Seminar," and "Literature of the Bible," a complete course within itself, are also being offered.

English courses for twelfth grade only, include "English Short Stories," "English Drama" "English Poetry," "Shakespearean Drama," "World Literature," and "Literature of the Renaissance and the Reformation."

The juniors choose from seven selections in American literature. The mini course to be taught next year depends upon the enrollment in each class. Any class that is too small cannot be taught.

Getting Passports For Trip

Rhonda Johnson, Aleta DelSignore, Diana Custer, Cindy Graham and Sydney Loy have applied for passports to the Passport Office, Department of State. These five students from Southern High School will be travelling to London, England, and Paris, France, in April with Miss Duey Snyder, teacher.

Obtaining a passport is the first step to take before going on a trip abroad. Learning the procedure necessary to get a passport was Rhonda, Aleta Diana, Cindy and Sydney's first taste of foreign travel.

Students got passport applications from the Clerk of the Court, Richard Davis. Doug Buckley, a teacher at Southern and a photographer, took the special passport pictures for the students. After filling out the passport application, the students took the applications, the passport pictures and birth certificates to the Office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Court House. The birth certificate must be either the original certificate or a certified copy with a raised seal. Fee for passport application is $2.00. Fee for the passport itself is $12.

Aleta, Cindy, Miss Snyder, Diana, Sydney, and Rhonda, left to right, are shown circling England and France, the countries they will be visiting April 12 through April 20.

Inventor Develops System To Delete Commercials on T.V.

GADGET ERASES UNWANTED COMMERCIALS—Inventor D. Noel Obenshain, of Hazelhurst, Deep Creek Lake, holds in his hand a remote control unit that by the flip of a button, will eliminate unwanted commercials during a television program. On the left is a "TV Pleasurator," a box some 12 inches or more square that must be attached to the television set to make it work. The invention is explained in detail in the accompanying story.

A local inventor, C. Noel Obenshain, retired research associate of Westvaco corporation, has developed a system for deleting the sound from television commercials, which would relieve the distress of persons who are fed up with the numerous commercials during a program.

One way is by a hand-held switch on an extension cord that opens the circuit to the TV speaker. A toggle or rocker-type switch may also be used.

A more sophisticated system is similar to these mentioned, except a timer is employed which automatically turns the sound on again after a one-minute delay. A single push button is used in this system, and a second push of the button restores the sound.

A still more sophisticated system fills the sound gap with recorded music from a tape player with the tape player turning on and off automatically as required. It plays through the TV speaker.

The most elegant system, is similar to the last except a small remote control unit is employed which eliminates the need for a cable connection to the TV set. The control unit is about the size of a pack of cigarettes and can be used up to 100 feet from the TV.

Costs of the systems vary from less than $5 for the simple switch to around $100 for the remote control. Installation is possible by a TV serviceman in less than one half hour.

Mr. Obenshain said he realized that commercials pay for the TV program and he is not opposed to a reasonable amount of commercials, but until the stations take steps to limit the quantity and improve the quality of commercials, he suspects that many viewers would prefer to turn them off if they could do so without too much effort.

Mr. Obenshain is a longtime resident of the county, having lived in the Hazelhurst section of Deep Creek Lake since 1952. He was retired from Westvaco in 1970 after 46 years with the company in engineering and research. He has 59 U. S. and foreign patents granted him and assigned to Westvaco. One of his inventions is the "Accu-Trim" machines at the Luke mill which cut paper into sheets, cutting up to 360 sheets per minute, and inspecting the paper for flaws, holes, spots, wrinkles, etc. He is continuing the development and refining of these machines.

Mr. Obenshain is also well known around the Lake for his "Swan" boat which has given rides to youngsters and oldsters over the past 10 years. His home is "Danovista," which has unique and unusual features.

He said he had no immediate plans to produce or market the "TV Pleasurator", but may try to interest one or more manufacturers to do so. The patent potential will also be explored.

If this seems twisted around to you we intended it to be. For in this phrasing it illustrates how most people react to going to their doctor for a physical check-up. It would not be natural if you did not have some worries and thus approached your entrance into his office a little meekly.

But, when it is all over and the doctor has pronounced you fit and well it makes you want to roar out of there like a lion. The air smells a little sweeter and there is a spring to your step you didn't notice before. It's worth going!

Prayer is a party line

The man who prays can hear the prayers of others . . . especially when he prays for those human needs which are common to all men.

But even when he prays for needs that are solely his own, he knows that those who care for him are joining their prayers with his.

And God's answers come back along the party line.

You're never quite sure the message was meant for you. You are tempted sometimes to think it was intended for someone else . . . until you realize that this answer which God has inspired in your heart does fit your prayer.

There are times when it's good for everybody on the party line to pick up the phone at once . . . and speak what they all feel . . . and listen to what they all need to hear.

That happens regularly on Sunday morning.

PENTECOSTAL PURPOSE

Lesson for March 3, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 1 through 2
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 6:1-8,

If what happened in Jerusalem on the Day of Pentecost happened in your church, your minister, your congregation, or both would probably be in trouble. There is little room for the pentecostal experience in the lives of most churches. Most church worship services are designed to be the very opposite of the experience of the Jerusalem Church on Pentecost. Our services are, for the most part, intended to be unexciting, undramatic, and certainly not spontaneous.

Rev. Althouse

Filled with the Holy Spirit

The rise of the so-called "pentecostal" groups today has helped many of us in the "standard-brand denominations" to realize that we have been too contemptuous of the pentecostal experience and have therefore been too restrictive to the work of the Holy Spirit. As John the Evangelist indicated, the Holy Spirit is like the unpredictable wind: it cannot be manipulated and controlled. We cannot schedule it through an order of worship or liturgy.

Young people have often become disenchanted with the churches because they have found them largely devoid of power. They are convinced of the validity of religion, not so much by argumentation, but by demonstrations of spiritual power to heal and mend broken lives and communities. Many of us are rediscovering the need for pentacostal power in our Christianity.

At the same time, it is very evident to some of us that the pentacostal experience may be misused. For some people the ecstatic experience is an end in itself. They seek the experience because of the way it makes them "feel." The penteeostal experience for some is a continual search for "spiritual kicks" or "fireworks." Religion of this kind becomes self-centered, a never-ending quest for spiritual excitement.

"And they devoted themselves . . ."

Consider, by comparison, the account of the first Pentecost experience in Jerusalem. Acts does not tell us that the result of Pentecost was a pentecostal binge, but changed lives that were devoted to Christian growth, fellowship, and worship. Because of the first pentecostal experience, Peter preached a mighty sermon that brought conversions. There was a pentecostal purpose behind that pentecostal experience.

Once the Day of Pentecost was over, the writer of Acts does not tell us that the old and new followers of Jesus spent their time trying to repeat the pentecostal experience. The writer does not indicate that they spent their time trying to teach people to speak in ecstatic tongues. Rather, he says, ". . . they devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers" (Acts 2: 42).

The churches may still need at times the pentecostal experience but let us remember that behind that experience there is always a pentecostal purpose.

Root Systems

At Edison's home in Fort Myers, Florida, visitors stand amazed by the roots of the Moreton bay fig tree for they have been exposed to erosion but they stick up like the thorny shield of a prehistoric monster, and some extend thirty feet. Another root wonder here is the banyan tree of India. Picture a parade of trunks holding a log aloft, and you can see its image of high roots.

Varied adaptions on plant roots appear in every climate. Our Nemacolin trail at New Germany has one tree, long since dead, which fell over and gave adequate nourishment from its root system and earth to support the deciduous sapling that is growing from it successfully.

Plant roots are another proof that Creation made nature perfect in her adjustments. A single clover root may be hundreds of miles long, even the silky mycelium of a mushroom has an intertwining of feet and feet. We always think of roots on the bottom, but some go tumbling along the branches of other plants, such as epiphytic orchids and ferns. The raffia palm has roots developing in a base of dead leaves and actually going up onto the humus instead of into the base soil.

What do roots really do? They are gatherers, chemists, and acrobats. Charles Darwin has spoken of root tips behaving almost "like the brain of one of the lower animals." They push in all directions, corkscrewing into top- and sub-soil, while the main roots are behind, lengthening and expanding. The common white oak had this duo system, with one taproot descending and more shallow ones in great circumference.

A vegetative hormone, auxin, acts along with gravity to make roots grow downward (with many exceptions). It controls rate of growth and is used by growers who spray for both delay in and prolonging growth. The kinins, also hormones, keep upon the circulation of a plant, as its cambium layer must use capillaries for both vertical and downward movement of moisture and minerals. Gibberellin, a third hormone, brings about the new growth of leaves and stem.

So do not fear for the plants that show their tops so early in spring, even in the midst of snow. Many bulbs are immune to frost, and will send their new roots forth in spite of cold. The great process of a non-leaking natural watering and feeding system will hold the life of a flower or tree, pushing from its root hairs each drop of water cell by cell, to the stem and leaves above. The strength is truly at the root of the matter.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

My congratulations to The Republican for printing opinions which may not coincide with the Editor; also for giving the same people "mouth space" again and again. It shows that her in this great county one can be at issue with the press - state so in the press and go about his gas-less way.

Points for US to Ponder:

a) Three cheers to the Garrett County Auto Dealers (even though it was an ad)

b) Disband the Energy office (let the old law of supply and demand take care of itself)

c) Cut out foreign aid (so we can have some to spend here at home)

d) Eliminate car emission controls (so we'll have more miles to the gallon, and fewer mechanics wondering what this or that hose is for)

e) Eliminate minimum wage (did you know that many employers who used to hire casual labor for $1 per hour now are out of business. There are many types of jobs which school kids could do at $.50 or $.60 per hour in the summer and be tickled to get the coins.)

f) Cut the payrolls by 20% (there are so many commissions, committees, offices, and people with the Federal Government that it doesn't know where the overlap starts and stops. A gradual reduction would not be noticed by the FEDs but would help us.)

g) Finally, a good note: has anyone noticed the beautiful change since the new principal took over at Dennett Road School (let's hope he stays for many moons).

Thomas E. Doyle

—o—

CONGRATULATIONS! to the Garrett County Auto Dealers for their outstanding statement in The Republican. It is refreshing and encouraging to see businessmen with the courage of their convictions speak out. If only the oil industry would do the same.

Our real crisis today is lack of intellectual energy. The corporate executives who have made this country what it is have every right to be proud and express their convictions instead of apologizing. Free Enterprise is the creator in our society; Bureaucrats seek to control and destroy.

Government has been the cause of the energy shortfall Americans are now experiencing, if not through taxes, price controls, and emission control on automobiles, then through propaganda that says profits are wrong and let the bureaucrats do it all.

How about a televised Congressional hearing into the role of government in the events that led to the energy "crisis." Cronkite might not think it newsworthy (or if so would twist and dramatize it), but I believe more listening public is concerned about the TOTAL OBJECTIVE FACTS, than spying politicians, income tax returns, or landscaping at San Clemente. "Who is responsible —the businessmen or the bureaucrats? Who is to be punished (by more controls) or rewarded (by greater power)? Which element in the mixture of our crashing economy should now be liberated or restricted?"

What would happen if the government lifted all taxes and controls from the oil industry (and many others) and agree to impose no new ones for, say, ten years? We would have oil in abundance!

Like the auto dealers—let's join together in the kind of American leadership that solves problems. Let us start THINKING again and teach others to really think. We have an enormous political crisis. We have unlimited resources—let's tap new sources of energy in leadership where it is needed.

Sincerely,
Fred K. Learey

Dear Sir:

Mrs. Yoder's remarks concerning Rev. Leake's citizenship were "weird," disgusting and untrue.

Aside from being a Purple Heart Veteran, Rev. Leake is the sponsor of the "Stand Up for America" campaign, which is the only non-service program I am aware of that actively makes a stand against Communism, Ultra-Liberalism, Bureaucratic Un-Americanism, etc.

More recently, he has been a key figure locally in the stand against newsstand pornography and drugs. He has also been a leader to reinstate prayer back into the schools.

What programs, Mrs. Yoder, do you sponsor or support or what traits do you possess that makes you a more desirable citizen than he?

I relate these facts only to defend a decent citizen from being "Watergated" by irresponsible and uninformed people.

I would suggest Mrs. Yoder join Rev. Leake's programs, not attempt to destroy them.

Dear Sir:

I wish to comment on the near crisis state that existed in Garrett County during the last two weeks because of the gasoline shortage which was complicated by the independent truckers' strike.

As a petroleum wholesaler we were called upon to attend conferences and meeting arranged by our County Commissioners and the County Engineer. It was evident to me that the good people of this county can be grateful for the extreme effort put forth by these officials to protect vital interests in the county. Without taking sides in the dispute, or in any way opposing the objectives of the strikers, many of which were valid, these officials took those measures they felt were necessary and proper to discharge their obligations. Chairman Wayne Hamilton was literally on duty 24 hours per day, conferring with local people and with the Governor's office.

I feel these men deserve a salute from us all.

Yours very truly,
Franklin W. Peters

—o—

Dear Sir:

Saturday, February 23, I attended and testified at the Maryland Public Service Commission hearing on Potomac Edison's request for a rate-hike. Unfortunately, I was the only witness from Garrett County. Such lethargy is distressing.

In the February 21 issue of The Republican, a front-page article stated: "The proposed rates would increase the cost of electric service to each class of customers by about 20 percent . . . ." This figure is accurate for all of Maryland - - except Garrett County, a fact that to my knowledge has not been published in either state or local newspapers.

Therefore, I would like to make public the rate schedule that Potomac Edison is proposing for Garrett County.

Residential customers without electric water heating would experience an average rate increase of 33.57%.

Residential customers with electric water heating would experience an average rate increase of 40.57%.

Anyone who is as disturbed by Potomac Edison's exorbitant, unconscionable request as I am should immediately send a letter of opposition to the Public Service Commission, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Md. 21201. The final decision on the Potomac Edison proposal will probably be made some time in April so it is not too late to act. But if we do not act now, we will certainly pay for our apathy later.

Sincerely,
Stanley E. Weese

—o—

Dear Editor:

I am disturbed the way our political do-gooders use our industrious, hard-working, honest, conservative Amish neighbors to prove that Garrett County is an undeveloped community which is in need of government funds for various projects.

The latest misuse I will quote was in Feb. 8 Republican to the Editor from Mr. Don Bender, appointed President's Commission on Aging, pilot program for a Garrett County bus system and free meals scattered throughout the county, who states that many families in Garrett County do not have cars in order to justify this program. According to the Amish we have in Garrett Co. approximately 350 Amish people. These people form much of the backbone of Garrett Co. They do not and will not own cars. Neither do they accept social security, unemployment benefits, medicare, relief, food stamps or free public meals. But when there is a disaster whether it is a fire in Garrett Co., a flood in Va., or a tornado in Ind., who freely goes, donates help? The people who own cars? No! It is the Amish. To use the 1970 census to prove how poverty stricken Garrett Co. is when such a large percent of these no-car families are only living their faith is a discredit to our county.

We should count our blessings and our riches in having these dedicated, honest people in our community enough that our politicians and tax assessors will not burden our county with unnecessary taxes to give to the lazy, alcoholics, etc., who do not now have after all the give away programs and never will.

Land Use Bills Vital Concern To All Area Farmers

"The Land Use Bills introduced in the General Assembly in Annapolis last week should be of vital concern to every farmer in this county," says J. William Umhel, president of the county Farm Bureau.

"Farmers and all citizens should be carefully studying these pieces of legislation because they will have a tremendous impact on the future of our open spaces and the value of farmland," Mr. Umbel said.

A key part of the bills places broad powers in the hands of a nine-man Board, to be appointed by the Governor prior to January 1, 1975. This Board would formulate policies, adopt rules and regulations, and administer programs relating to the use of land designated as Areas of Critical State Concern.

One of the nine-member Board would come from Allegany, Frederick, Garrett or Washington.

"Maryland Farm Bureau and county Farm Bureau leaders will be watching the progress of these bills very closely. The first hearing is scheduled for February 25 at 2:00 p.m. in the Senate chambers of the State House," according to Mr. Umbel, "and all interested persons should attend."

The following questions were Typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks;

Can you please discuss the Bicentennial Community program and tell me how our town may apply?

Communities in Central and Western Maryland may apply for official recognition as a Bicentennial Community as part of the nation-wide effort to stimulate grass roots involvement in America's 200th anniversary. According to the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission (ARBC) the following procedures should be followed: First, your community should organize a special Bicentennial planning and coordinating committee which is representative of all segments of the community; Second, plans should be drawn up which will include at least one lasting reminder of the special effort the community undertook for the Bicentennial commemoration; Third, obtain the approval of the Chief Executive Office or governing body of the community and then submit the application through the appropriate Bicentennial agency.

Why must a veteran requiring nursing home care first be hospitalized under VA auspices?

Under the Veterans' Health Care Expansion Act of 1973 this is no longer true. The new law permits the furnishing of nursing home care, in the case of service-connected veterans requiring such care for their service-connected disabilities, upon determination of need by a VA doctor.

Where can I obtain copies of bills before Congress?

Copies of specific bills may be ordered through my office here in Washington.

Voices Opposition To Land Use Bill Now in Assembly

Opposition to the Land Use bills introduced in the General Assembly at Annapolis, was voiced this week in letters both House and Senate committees studying the measures by Wayne B. Hamilton, chairman of the County Commissioners and a member of the James commission.

Hearings were held at Annapolis Tuesday. Letters to the committees by Mr. Hamilton declaring the bills do not address the agricultural point of view.

At a meeting of the James commission to study land use regulations Mr. Hamilton did not vote to introduce the bill introduced in the legislature. He pointed out he was a farm operator in addition to being commissioner.

He declared in a statement he presented to the committees

"Around 90% of the remaining undeveloped land in the State of Maryland is owned by farm operators. During the hearings, both the Farm Bureau and Secretary of Agriculture, Y. D. Hance, made presentations. These presentations were made well. The commission was made aware that there was a study commission representing agriculture currently studying land use. Reports were to be made in June, and before the promulgation of land use regulations, and intended to produce information before the drafting of land-use legislation.

"Agriculture land is a resource and must be dealt with in the most intelligent manner possible with more information than this commission had presented to it. In Garrett County we have seen the results of legislation enacted by the Legislature that was prepared by persons who had not the slightest knowledge of the subject. I speak and make my point on the law passed outlawing strip mining. This was imposed and insufficiently explored beforehand. I am pleading for the time to have the whole picture before action is taken affecting our most precious resource, our soils for our use and generations to come. Have you tried to get all the gasoline you wanted when you wanted it? We are dealing with a resource even more essential.

"I do not feel that the commission was under any directive to produce legislation, and more importantly, not to abandon judgment. I am aware of the need for legislation that will direct policy in Land Use decisions, and I am sure there is already sufficient laws to accomplish this. Policy changes to use existing laws can dispel most of our concerns that are trying to be addressed in the companion bills being discussed here. This was brought to the Commission's attention by Mr. John Eldridge early in our deliberation.

"I wish to acquaint you with a few points of the bill that are objectional. I use the term objectional to the fullest meaning.

"1. The Land-Use Board as structured lacks a proportionate representation for agriculture on the Board.

"2. The authority invested in the Board makes it a 'super authority' in all matters of Land-Use.

"3. The critical areas concerns are all agriculture areas excepting categories XII, XV, and XVI. The Land-Use Board again is the 'super power'.

"4. Authority is given to the State to intervene in other than areas of State concern.

"Gentlemen of this Joint Committee, I am sure you, as the Study Commission did, want to make wise decisions. Therefore, it is essential that we consider the effect of actions taken at this point, without due consideration to the information still being prepared. Action on the Legislation should be deferred until the still active Agriculture Land-Use Committee makes its report."

Further, according to Mr. Hamilton, planning as being done in Garrett County is a source of information for the use of all elements of our economic enterprises and not a regulating instrument. It results in being a help for both private and local government service.

WOULD YOU...

sell your home for the face value of your homeowners policy? If the answer is no, your home may be underinsured.

Are you playing with fire? A recent survey shows more than half of the U. S. single-family homes lack adequate insurance. The most common reason for this is the impact of inflation on construction costs.

Homes bought no more than five years ago are likely to be underinsured. The median price of a home during that period has increased to $26,000 from $19,350.

WHAT TO DO: Find out what it would cost to rebuild your home. Contractors are estimating $22 per square foot to build a standard home in this area today. The 80% rule: It's important to know that in order to be assured of full payment for any partial damage to your home, you must have it insured for at least 80% of its full replacement value.

EXAMPLE: If your $30,000 home is insured for $24,000 or more and a fire does $2,000 damage to your basement, you will receive the entire $2,000, minus the $50 or $100 deductible. However —

If your home is insured for less than $24,000, you receive only a percentage of the $2,000, depending on how much the basement has depreciated in value prior to the fire.

WHAT TO DO: Shop for the best deal. Why? Rates vary from company to company. It's up to you to come up with the best price, check out the different homeowners policies available and see BEALL, GARNER AND GEARE.

Huskies Defeat Southern 69-67

A Northern High comeback in the second half Saturday night at Oakland nipped the Southern Rams 69 to 67 in a closely contested game.

Northern appeared well on the way to its 11th defeat when Southern whisked away to a 22-12 lead in the first period, but the Huskies began to fight back. The Huskies whittled away at the deficit, climbed to within four points, 37 to 33, by intermission time, and finally took the lead in the third period.

Southern, trailing by a point with less than 30 seconds left, made a bid to pull out the decision when Tom Panther drove in for a layup. But he fouled Buddy Fauber in the process and Fauber converted both fouls to give Northern a 68-67 lead.

Southern had the ball for one shot with ten seconds left but turned it over and then fouled Greg Humbertson who made his first of two free throws for the final margin.

The Huskies in winning only their fifth decision this year, were led in scoring by Ed Frazee with 23 points. Fauber had 16, Dave Bender 15, Humbertson 10, Wampler 2, and Russell with 3.

Randy DiSmone accounted for 31 points on 11 field goals and nine for nine at the foul line. Dennis Skeweris had 16, Tom Panther 2, Sharps 10, Tressler 2, Bosley 2, and Liller 4.

Northern outscored Southern 26 to 24 from the floor and had 17 of 19 free throws. The Rams were 19 for 27 at the foul line.

Southern won the first game of the series 78 to 67 at Accident. Saturday night's game was a make-up date.

Kitzmiller Area Water Supply Is Under Discussion

Robert L. Lyons, mayor of Kitzmiller; Don Bender, Chester Evans, David A. Burdock, Jesse Walker and Dr Ralph Calandrella brought to the County Commissioners at their regular meeting Monday, concerns of the people of Kitzmiller and Shaffner in relation to the lack of a proper water supply and sewerage services in the area.

Feasibility studies indicated costs would possibly be as much as $1,200,000. The delegation indicated that an alternate water source was available that would greatly decrease the costs of services to the two communities.

Wayne Hamilton, board chairman, said the commissioners proposed to help these people by exploring possible funding sources and ask the Sanitary commission to look at the suggested water source as a means of reducing cost of the project.

Vote Machine Updating

George M. Browning, Pres. of the Board of Supervisors of Elections, presented to the Commissioners a project for updating of the County voting machines. This remodeling of the machines would provide automatic printout of the tally for each subject on the ballot immediately with the closing of the machine. It would make possible earlier election returns. The cost of remodeling would be approximately $30,000.00. The Commissioners questioned the need for this expenditure at this time. In addition, Mr. Browning was informed this was not item in the 1973-74 Budget and could not be funded, if desired, until the 1974-75 Budget was made. Mr. Browning was made aware, by the Commissioners, of the pressures put upon local funding by inflation in all areas for basic needed services.

At this time it appears from the best information obtainable from the State Comptroller's Office, gasoline taxes may be down as much as 20 to 25%. This could mean a loss of revenue from this source in excess of $200,000.00.

Dr. Wm. Pope was to inquire as to the status of the agreement between the town of Oakland and the Sanitary Commission. The agreement must be signed before the State Health Dept. will authorize funding for the interceptor line that will carry Oakland's sewage to the treatment plant, rather than putting raw sewage in the Little Yough River.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Knotts, Amboy, W. Va., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Louise Marie, to James Brent Slaubaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell L. Slaubaugh, Horse Shoe Run, W. Va.

The bride-elect is a 1973 graduate of Aurora High school and is employed at the Starlite restaurant in Oakland. Mr. Slaubaugh graduated from Aurora High school in the same year. He is employed by Peters Fuel Corporation in Oakland.

An open church wedding is being planned for May 25th.

Recent Minor Accidents Injure 2

Two persons were slightly injured in recent minor accidents while seven other accidents caused no apparent personal injuries.

Two persons were thrown from a farm tractor during a mishap on U.S. Route 219 at Blue Ribbon road the afternoon of February 15. Barbara Schrock, 16, and the operator, Oten Schrock, 46, were both thrown from the tractor but Barbara was apparently the only one injured. She was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial hospital. The Schrocks were both of RD 2, Oakland.

Mickey C. Wolfe, Alder street, Oakland, was traveling south on Rt. 219 following Mr. Schrock. Wolfe started to pass just as Schrock made a left turn into Blue Ribbon road and the two collided. Tfc. Ronald Lewis charged Wolfe with passing when unsafe and Schrock with improper turning.

A second accident at U. S. Rt. 219 at Blue Ribbon road resulted from the Wolfe-Schrock accident noted above. Earl W. Dodge, RD 2, Oakland, passed the scene of the accident and ran into the rear of a car driven by Russell E. Lambert who had slowed down for the accident scene. Dodge was charged with excess speed by Tpr. Lewis.

There was a minor accident at Md. Rt. 135 and G. street, Mt. Lake Park, the evening of Feb. 16. George L. Moats, RD 1, Oakland, was traveling west on Rt. 135 when Larry A. Lipscomb, RD 1, Dry Fork, W. Va., pulled from G street onto Rt. 135 and into his path. Tpr. Lewis charged Lipscomb with failing to stop at a 'stop' sign.

Lawrence J. Sines, RD 1, Oakland, was driving an empty school bus north on the Cranesville road the morning of Feb. 18. Floyd C. Collins, RD 3, Deer Park, was driving a dump truck south. Both vehicles started across a narrow bridge and the outside mirrors of each caused some damage to the other vehicle. Tpr. J. E. Foley made no charges.

Harry R. Mason, RD 2, Grantsville, was headed east on U. S. Rt. 40 just west of Amish road the night of Feb. 18 at an apparent high rate of speed. The car ran off the right shoulder, the operator then lost control, the car crossed the highway, struck an embankment and then hit a tree. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore charged him with negligent driving.

John B. Furr, RD 1, Oakland, Foster road about a mile north was stopped, southbound on U. S. Rt. 219 late last Thursday as the road at that point is narrow for passing. He had stopped to allow Jerry M. Baker, Star Route, Oakland, traveling north, to pass. As Baker passed he sideswiped the Furr car and then fled the scene. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Baker with failing to stop after a vehicle-damage accident.

Clarification Of Area Center At Friendsville Given

Charley B. Miller, Chairman of the Friendsville Area Health Committee, in clarification of a news item last week, stated that although approval of Appalachian funding for the Friendsvill Area Center Project was withheld at the January meeting of the Health Planning Council, as announced, further study is being made of the questions raised on the project, and additional information will be presented to the Health Planning Council for their consideration in the near ftuure.

The application to the National Health Service Corps for assignment of a physician to Friendsville has been approved and assignment of a physician depends on the success of the Corps' recruitment efforts and is not dependent on the Appalachian funding being sought in the above project.

Sheriff Browning Takes Intensive Training Course

Sheriff John Browning, Oakland was part of an intensive training program in the latest management techniques at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles. Funded by a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the United States Department of Justice, the program was sponsored by the National Sheriff's Association through its National Sheriffs' Institute. The training was provided by the University's Center for the Administration of Justice in its school of Public Administration.

Along with 66 other sheriffs from 30 states, Sheriff Browning participated in classes on supervision, leadership, and motivation of personnel; effective communication; jail management; agency goal-setting and guidance; budgeting and fiscal control; administrative law, and numerous other subjects. The faculty was drawn from the University of Southern California as well as other universities, and from working practitioners in the field of management and law enforcement.

This program presented the first organized attempt to deal with the management role of the elected sheriff. Most training efforts in the past have concentrated on the law enforcement, court, and correctional duties of the office, while ignoring the fact that the sheriff must be an effective manager if he is to successfully perform these other roles.

In emphasizing his management responsibilities, the training program drew upon the resources of a variety of educational specialties not often involved with sheriffs, including public administration, business management, political science, and philosophy.

These two weeks on USC's campus did not represent the end of the training program. Each sheriff has committed himself to continue the educational process for several more months. The NNational Sheriffs' Institute's training staff will be in regular contact with the sheriff, providing him with readings, correspondence lessons, and telephone consultations dealing with day-to-day management problems.

This pioneering effort combines the forces of the National Sheriffs' Association, the United States Department of Justice, the University of Southern California, and concerned sheriffs to strengthen this key office in the criminal justice system.

We're Betting On U.S.

Boy Scouting is an increasing activity in the area, which supports the assertions of a recent advertisement in U. S. News and World Report by the Warner and Swasey company, manufacturers of precision tools.

The advertisement asserts, "We're Betting on the United States," and in support, had the following to say:

"Last fall in hundreds of cities and towns across America the United Appeal exceeded the quota, as did the Heart Fund, Cancer Crusade and Children's Services. In spite of higher cost of living, Americans dug deeper into slimmer pocketbooks to help people less fortunate than themselves.

"In spite of cold ingratitude and often actual hostility, almost world-wide, when disaster strikes anywhere, the United States is first in line with help.

"In many hundreds of U. S. cities and towns Big Brothers, Scouts, Boys' Clubs, Junior Achievement programs, Police Athletic leagues and many more are manned and managed by adults who volunteer their hard-won leisure to help youngsters on the way up.

"Tens of thousands of American mothers and fathers give up happiness of home life to moonlight so that two jobs can take better care of their children and provide some security for them, in these days of inflation.

"It is reliably reported that more than 100,000 college students volunteer as teachers, hospital orderlies, school guards—any useful endeavor they can find.

"These are only a few of the hundreds of reasons we're betting on the United States and a glorious future for this wonderful country of ours."

Mrs. Mary Marie Wilhelm, 42, was listed in satisfactory condition Monday at the hospital. She was admitted there following the accident on the Cranesville road about ½ mile north of Maple Glade road just before 7 a.m.

$100,000 Sought For W. Md. Coal

Delegates Lester B. Reed (R-Allegany) and DeCorsey Bolden (R-Garrett) introduced a bill Monday evening in the state legislature to have the state provide $100,000 to begin shoring up the Western Maryland coal industry.

The bill is a follow-up of state study prompted by Del Reed to examine the feasibility of reopening the area's coal fields.

The two delegates hope that Maryland will mine the 900 million tons or more of coal lying in their two counties.

If approved, the legislation authorizes the state to spend $100,000 to determine the safest, most productive, most economically competitive and least environmentally harmful method of mining the coal. The money would be used to study how the coal can be converted into a more acceptable fuel and to make recommendations on how state and federal monies can be used to mine the product.

The money would be raised through the sale of state bonds. Del. Reed said the state study has been completed and it recommended that a bond issue be floated so that the state can get on the track in restoring the mining industry. Although the area coal has a rather high sulfur content the state has indicated it would like to consider a number of energy conversion techniques including gasification of the mineral.

He will indicate procedures used to determine allowances for persons eligible to receive benefits from the program and in addition will explain the SSI-Alert, Mr. Ewing said.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information typical of the kind asked of me thru or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all queries I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks:

Do you favor a minimum tax?

Yes. I believe all citizens above a certain income level should be required to pay a minimum tax regardless of their deductions and tax credits. Recent events have shown that there is an obvious need for such a step and no citizen should be exempt from paying taxes.

What were the results of your questionnaire?

I am still in the process of tabulating the large volume of questionnaires returned to my office. Results will be released to the press when completed and will also be reprinted in a future newsletter sent to all 6th District citizens.

Where can I obtain gasoline mileage ratings for 1974 cars?

Write: Fuel Economy, Office of Public Affairs, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D. C. 20460.

Why doesn't Congress pass a law to exclude retirement income from Federal taxes?

Legislation is pending in the House that excludes from Federal income tax up to $5,000 of retirement income. I co-sponsored this particular measure because I feel that retired citizens living on a fixed income today are indeed hit hard by many inflationary pressures such as food prices and property taxes.

I understand that scholarships are available to Army ROTC cadets to pay for full college tuition. Please explain.

Following are excerpts from a letter I recently received from Co. Thomas K. Hobby, Professor of Military Science, Loyola College, Baltimore, which answers your question: "The basic Army ROTC college program is four years of study and training in Military Science, usually one course per semester. However, the Army also offers a six-week basic camp each summer for sophomores who wish to enter the program as juniors, and who have not previously participated in the program their first two years in college. Upon completion of the paid summer camp, the student immediately enters the Advanced ROTC program in his junior year. During camp scholarships are awarded to deserving cadets to pay for full tuition, books, and lab fees for the last two years of college. In addition, regardless of whether the student earns a scholarship or not, his entry into the third year ROTC training qualifies him for a stipend of $100 a month, tax free."

You always seem to be talking about helping miners who have black lung? Is the problem in Maryland really that critical?

Black Lung is the commonly used name for a chronic lung disease caused by breathing dust in underground coal mines. The dimension of the problem is self-evident when you realize that there are currently over 4,000 Western Maryland miners, widows and dependents receiving black lung benefits and hundreds more awaiting appeals on their cases.

More Gas for Maryland

The decision by the Federal Energy Office to give Maryland an additional 8.8 million gallons of gasoline at the end of last month provided some relief of the crisis that was threatening to paralyze the state, but did not end it.

This matter will continue to be top-priority with me as long as there are lines at gas stations and unfair treatment for the state.

It was greatly disturbing to find that Maryland, one of the fastest growing states, was low on the list in terms of the gasoline allocations for February. I had repeated discussions with Administrator Simon and Deputy Administrator John Sawhill of the Federal Energy Office, and on February 22nd, led the Maryland delegation to a meeting with Mr. Simon on Maryland's problem. He assured us action would be taken.

Hours later Mr. Simon released an extra 8.8 million gallons for Maryland in February, and indicated that the state's allocation would be increased for future months as well. This should help the state, but I will closely monitor the state and the F.E.O. in the weeks ahead to make sure that we receive fair treatment in gasoline supplies.

I have also taken other initiatives to relieve current problems, including:

- a public appeal for gasoline station operators to voluntarily stagger their hours of business around the clock, on a neighborhood level, so that citizens with normal working hours will have their chance to get to the pumps before closing time.
- I have personally appeared in Federal Court to join with the state in demanding a permanent upward adjustment of Maryland's allocation, and have submitted a legal brief showing that Congress had mandated fair and equal treatment for gasoline supplies.
- I have personally visited gas stations in Maryland to learn of dealer's and motorist's problems from those directly affected.
- In concert with Johns Hopkins University policy analysts I have proposed a stand-by plan for gasoline rationing, which would provide each motorist with the basic minimum he needs to get to work, plus enough gas per household to permit normal shopping. This would avoid the widespread inequities which I feel would result if the proposed administration plan were put into effect.

I have consistently supported legislation to empower government to come to grips with the energy crisis, both on a short range and on a long range basis. Senate-passed energy bills contain my amendments to ensure that new powers are applied justly and equitably.

There is no reason for Maryland to bear the burden of poor administration and unequal allocation of gas supplies. It has already had a serious effect on jobs and incomes in the state, and this trend must be reversed before public safety and well-being are irreparably damaged.

TAX CHECK-OFF

Federal income tax returns allow for a voluntary check-off of one dollar to help provide public financing of the 1976 Presidential election campaigns of both parties. Small contributions are the key to reform of our political system. Check-off for good politics and good government.

In a community such as ours where agriculture plays an important part, the lending institutions must have a thorough understanding of farm families . . . how they live, how they work and how they spend their money.

We at GNB think we are the kind of people who understand your financial needs and we're here to help. When you require extra money for that big machinery purchase, seeds, fertilizers, livestock, new building construction . . . or for any worthwhile reason, stop in and see us.

Henline Winner Of 200 Record Albums

A 11-year-old Oakland boy has a large collection of record albums, thanks to WFRB Radio in Frostburg. Ray Hanline, of 213 North Third Street, was grand prize winner in a record giveaway contest sponsored by the station.

The contest came about as a result of WFRB-FM's recent switch to full-time stereo programming. The radio station restocked its record library with stereo material, leaving over one thousand monophonic albums without a home.

It was decided to give the albums to listeners through a registration system at various businesses in the area. Each sponsor was supplied with twenty albums, in four packs of five, to be given as fourth prizes. Last Wednesday WFRB arranged for the larger prizes, including a third prize of twenty-five records, second prize of fifty discs, first prize of one-hundred albums, and the grand prize, won by Ray Hanline, of two hundred albums.

The albums given as prizes were from WFRB's fifteen year collection and included country gospel and Christmas songs. Young Hanline's winning entry was deposited at the Country Kastle in McHenry.

Southern Trips Williamsport Five

Tom Panther converted two foul shots with just two seconds remaining in the ball game as Southern High held off a desperate rally by Williamsport to defeat the Wildcats 50 to 47 and move on to the District One, class B semi-finals tonight against Frederick, a 56-43 winner over Francis Scott Key. The game was played at Garrett Community college, in McHenry.

The Rams led throughout most of the contest, after assuming a 14-9 lead at the conclusion of the opening quarter. The Wildcats cut the lead to 27-21 at the half but Southern moved into a comfortable 43-31 lead entering the final eight minutes. The teams tied at 2o and again at 37.

Southern maintained the bulge until, with four and a half minutes to play the Rams went to a stall to preserve the victory. Williamsport rallied to take the lead and set up Panther's last second shots. He was fouled as the two teams fought for a missed shot by Dave Sharps.

The Wildcats made a desperate heave at the basket as time ran out, actually hitting the rim before Southern was assured of the win.

Panther led the Rams with 18 points with Randy DiSimone adding 17 and Dave Sharps 11. Skeveris had 3 and Lillie 6. John Bowers led the Wildcats with 18 points. Don Dotter had 16 and Jim Powell had 10. Wolford 5, Shupp 2 and Barkdoll 2.

DiSimone had four personal foul, while Barkdoll was banished on five personal fouls just two seconds before the game ended.

Burning Regulation Now In Effect

The seasonal four o'clock burning regulation went into effect Friday, March 1, and lasts through May 31, it was announced by the Department of Natural Resources. The department pointed out that the snowfall had been below average and that the winds of March may dry out the woodlands earlier than normal.

Open air burning will be legal only between 5 p.m. and 1 a.m., when it occurs within 200 feet of wooded areas or inflammable material that could carry fire to the woods. Someone must be in attendance at all times, and maintain a 10-foot wide fire break completely around the burning material.

Last year there were 294 forest fires which burned over 617 acres of woodland.

2 Marijuana Bills Killed By Senate

A State Senate committee voted last Thursday to kill two bills which would have lightened penalties on marijuana users. At the same time the committee approved a measure to cut the drinking age to 18 state-wide.

Sen. William A Wilson, (R-Allegany-Garrett) voted against lightening of penalties and voted for allowing 18-year olds to drink beer and wine.

Commenting on his marijuana vote he said: "I received a number of threatening letters and postcards from students who stated that if I didn't vote "yes" in committee that they were going to work against me in the next election.

"If that is what I have to do to get re-elected then I don't want the job back."

In agreement with the majority of the senators, he said that if the use of marijuana is made legal, then the state cannot go to the seller to stop sales. Committee vote was 10-2 against both marijuana measures before and Terry Bell.

Yield of glass for the day filled one of the National Guard's large trucks, and will be taken to Keyser next Saturday by members of the Guard. Guard members John Hetrick, Bill Teets and Jack Rishell are helping to haul the glass as one of their civic helps to the area. The collection will continue on the first Friday of each month at the Foodland parking lot, and those who bring in glass should keep colors separated, have jars and bottles reasonably clean, and remove all metal bands.

Winter-Fest

On Saturday morning qualification events were held with the seven best times recorded in each event.

Following the qualification runs, a freestyle Hotdog competition was held, with entrants performing various stunts on skis while coming down the slope. Two top Hotdoggers were Doug Rosetti, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Dale Bowers, Swanton.

On Sunday morning, the Slalom Race started off the day's events. Ann McIntire, Washington, D. C., won the women's event; Greg Hough, of Pittsburgh, senior Dennis Hough, Pittsburgh, junior.

In Giant Slalom, Doug Rosetti, Pittsburgh, was first, followed by Ann McIntire.

Winter-Fest Cup Race was won by Doug Rosetti, first, Greg Hough, second, in senior division, Dennis Hough, first, and Ann McIntire, second, in Junior division.

Winner of the downhill kayak race was Buz Gosnell, of McHenry, with John Gerwig, of Morgantown, in second place.

Jack Omenitsch, Swanton, was first place winner of the Yakapah obstacle race, followed by Scott Glotfelty, Accident, and Johnny Umbel, McHenry. Johnny is seven and was the youngest skier of the day.

Final race on Sunday was the three-legged race, where two partners skied on three skis. Ann McIntire and Wayne Dunbar were the winners.

Two dances, a winter fashion show, ski school, and rescue demonstration at Wisp, a square dance, fireworks and torchlight parade were also featured.

A few events, including the snowmobile trailride, snow making demonstrations, cross country ski races had to be canceled for lack of snow.

Hang glider Jerry Lanham, of Reisterstown, gave a demonstration Sunday afternoon, rather than Saturday as originally scheduled Wind conditions would not cooperate properly for Saturday's flight.

The world-renowned Budweiser Clydesdales were a high light for many, as they performed with precision for their teammaster Harry Heck. Heck's son is handler.

When the Clydesdales arrived Wednesday at midnight, "Big Scott" was found to be ailing and had a temperature of 105 degrees. A veterinarian from Somerset was called from his bed, diagnosed lung congestion, and treated the horse early on Thursday morning. By Saturday Big Scott was in his accustomed place in the hitch.

Winners of the Poster Art contest were Phillip Crumley, Mt. Lake Park, first place; Diane Rook, Oakland, second, and Kim Bowman, McHenry, third.

Snow sculpture winners were: first place, fallen skier, Karen Fauber, Elaine Bell, Elaine Schlossnagle, Mike Warren; in second place, Clydesdale, Joan, Carol, Scott and Barry Glotfelty, and Dave and Don Stanton, third, Dave Richardson and Matthew Bell

Winners of the fun snow shoe races, all of them using regular snowshoes, were Jack Bettzel, McHenry, first, Chuck Thomas, McHenry, second; and George Schelfel, Oakland, 3rd.

The Mason-Dixon Huskies, composed of five Siberian Huskies and owner-trainer Herb Meyle Aldie, Va., gave a demonstration on wheels instead of snow runners on Sunday. Approximately 30 dogs were also at the Fest.

Musical entertainment was available almost continually at the Fest, with the Southern High Band, Camerata Singers, Thunderhill Singers, Robinson Band Mel Silber, a Strolling Bavarian Group, Kaleidoscope, and the Friendly Neighbors participating. Members of the Ali Ghan Shrine also participated in the entertainment.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

Recently I noted in your columns reference to a truck driver who has been serving this area for some years but who was being hindered, on his way to Oakland, by the striking truck drivers. Seems he had a revolver which he displayed when he was stopped, whereupon pickets ceased molesting him. Next thing he knew, however, the Sheriff had him arrested

Now, no doubt, he will be fined for protecting himself and bringing food to this area. Meantime the peace loving strikers, with their usual deep concern for the public (me'ud-ing the drivers they murdered along the Pennsylvania highways?), will be accorded the full protection of the laws they defied.

This reminds me of a case of some time ago in a western state where a farmer whose chicken house had been robbed repeatedly, rigged up a shotgun at the door. Sure enough, the thief came back, and this time was injured when he broke in and the gun was discharged. He sued the owner and believe it or not, was awarded such heavy damages that the farmer lost his farm. Considering some of the Supreme Court's decisions however, no doubt this lower court was merely following its precedent

How much longer must we put up with such asinine stuff as this?

Very truly yours,
Robert B Garrett

The Right To Know

We have always been of the opinion that the public's business should be conducted in public.

So we are especially pleased with a Congressional Quarterly Report that only 16 percent of congressional committee and sub-committee meetings were closed to the public last year. This is a drop from 40 percent held in secret in 1972

Credit for this drop is given to the House rule change that requires the committee meetings to be held in the open or that a vote be taken publicly if a meeting is to be closed.

This rule applies only to the House of Representatives since the Senate refused to adopt such a procedure. As a result the House, which for years held more closed meetings than the Senate, held only 10 percent of its meetings behind closed doors in 1973. The Senate held 25 percent in secret.

In past years Congress has been able to get away with shaping legislation, without the general public getting a full and clear picture of the whys and wherefores. They do this by writing their bills in closed sessions. There are two very good reasons why the committee doors should be opened.

First special interests have always found a way of getting their viewpoint considered in closed sessions. It has worked at a distinct disadvantage to those on the other side of the question who were not able to find out what was being presented They have had no way of rebutting testimony of which they were not aware.

Strangely enough in the present era, and in some instances long before that, so called sessions have been a mockery Someone has always talked. Leaks have been permitted blatantly.

The trouble with this kind of "closed session" operation is that the leaks have all been slanted. One source has said one thing happened Another source has given a directly opposite picture

As a result much of the real discussion has been distorted and it has been up to the public to make "educated guesses" as to what really went on.

We applaud the trend toward open meetings. We look forward to the day when the American public will get a full view of what its legislatures are doing — U.S. Press association

SENSING THE NEWS

Rewriting History

In communist countries the people never get their history straight. The reason is that the powers that be tamper with historical archives and destroy records that reveal truths the political structure wants buried forever.

"It can't happen here" is the opinion of many Americans. But they are mistaken. It is happening in the case of the immensely important Vanderbilt University Television News Archives in Nashville, Tenn. The Columbia Broadcasting System has gone into court to compel the Vanderbilt Archives to surrender the video tapes it has made of the "CBS Evening News With Walter Cronkite" Kevin P. Phillips, the syndicated columnist reports that the attorney for CBS has said: "Probably the simplest way would be for them (the tapes) to be erased"

It is incredible and shocking that CBS, which has devoted endless time to the White House tape erasures, would have the gall to request that a significant part of the media record be removed from the public domain.

The CBS is based on an allegation of copyright infringement. But who would be interested in pirating old Cronkite programs? The Vanderbilt University Television Archives certainly are not in the business of making a fast buck out of old tapes off news broadcasts. The tapes are of interest only to archivists and historians. In time they will be very important to scholars who want to understand how public opinion was shaped in the 1960's and 1970's. The role played by CBS in this regard is considerable. Historians undoubtedly will want to analyze it with great thoroughness. Many Americans may conclude that CBS is eager to prevent such an analysis by future historians.

If the present attempt by CBS to remove from the public domain the video tape record of its own news broadcasts smacks of a cover-up, it may well be precisely that. Why else would the network - - for all its pious claims to objective reporting - - be so anxious to deny to present and future generations of scholars the documentary evidence needed to evaluate the objectivity?

Can it be that it is just such critical evaluation that CBS fears most? Recent history strongly suggests that it is, and the network's reaction to one such study is Exhibit "A"

In 1971, author Edith Efron published her megaton bombshell The News Twisters, a brilliant expose of media bias which documented with meticulous detail how the three major networks slanted coverage of the 1968 election campaign to the liberal-left viewpoint.

Network reaction was significant. ABC and NBC adopted a low profile on the book while CBS went on red alert - launching an all-out campaign to discredit both book and author by implying that they were part of a right-wing plot to smear the media.

Ultimately, however, CBS backed off, partly because distinguished Americans of all persuasions were endorsing the book left and right, and partly because the ferocity of their campaign had provided Miss Efron with sufficient material for a second expose, this time entitled How CBS Tried To Kill a Book

Viewing the legal maneuvers of CBS to erase the Vanderbilt tapes in light of the Efron affair would seem to indicate that the network has learned a dangerous lesson: if it is impossible to discredit embarassing books after publication, the only alternative is to prevent them from being written in the first place by destroying the source material. If this is true, and if CBS succeeds in its current efforts to obliterate its past record, it will mark the greatest triumph for historical revisionism this side of Moscow.

Firemen May Not Attend As Many Parades This Year

Fire trucks from the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department probably will not attend as many parades this year, according to Stanley Savage, chief.

Although the company can get gas, Mr. Savage feels there "would be no sense in traveling to parades" some distance from Oakland with the gas situation in the present uncertain stage.

Local parades will be the first to be attended, and possibly some of the larger parades not far from here.

The subject of parade travel was also discussed at the monthly meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association at the Bedford Road Fire Hall but no concrete decisions were reached.

Resolution Urges "Green Thumb"

Governor Mandel was urged to have Maryland included in a national "Green Thumb" public service employment program to benefit the elderly, low income, rural citizens under the terms of a joint resolution cross-filed in both the House and Senate of the General Assembly today by House Republican Leader, C. A. Porter Hopkins (R., Balto. Co.) and Senator Robert A. Pascal (R., Anne Arundel Co.) with bi-partisan support.

The "Green Thumb" is a work training and job opportunity program sponsored by the National Farmers Union under a grant from the U. S. Department of Labor as part of the Nelson-Laird Main-stream programs. Host agencies contribute nearly twenty-five percent of the total costs in in-kind contributions.

Delegate Hopkins pointed out that the Green Thumbers assist in strengthening existing community services and provide special services to help the aged, shut-ins, and handicapped in addition to building parks and carrying out conservation projects. The work of the Green Thumb group includes any type of beautification, conservation or community betterment projects, on any publicly owned land, or land owned by a non-profit organization. Among the more popular and beneficial projects are restoration of historical sites, new parks and playgrounds, new hiking trails and the planting of trees and shrubs along highways and around public buildings.

Each Green Thumb worker works an average of three days a week and may earn up to $1600 per year.

Green Thumb workers are recruited by local community agencies and orianizations. Applicants are then referred to the state employment service where they are screened for age, income, and background. The state Green Thumb staff does the actual hiring.

and
CHRISTIAN RESPONSIBILITY
... AS I UNDERSTAND IT.
By
Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

I recently offered over my Radio Broadcast and gave to the local church a copy of some Executive Orders; the request for copies of these items has been so great that we are printing them in this column. Clip and save them for your information, write your Senators and Congressmen (Address included in this column), ask that these be repealed or limited to thirty day emergency status only. These were copied from the "CAPITAL VOICE" a Washington, D. C. Publication, the editor Rev. Dale Crowley last month voiced the possibility of an imminent dictatorship in the United States. The Blueprint has already been fully prepared by the "Planners."

The launching of this absolute dictatorship can be a very simple transaction, and could happen overnight, but it would radically affect the life of every citizen in the United States, and would change the life pattern of our great country from a constitutional form of government to that of a totalitarian state.

This most unwelcome event could happen at whatever hour of the day or night that the President should issue a proclamation, declaring that "a national emergency" exists. Forthwith these Executive Orders, already spread on the Federal Register, would be invoked. Let us take a good hard look at these Orders:

Executive Order 10995: The takeover of the communications media. (This includes television, radio, newspapers and magazines.)

Executive Order 10997: The takeover of electric power, oil and gas, fuels, minerals.

Executive Order 10998: The takeover of food resources and farms, (including farm equipment.)

Executive Order 10999: The takeover of all modes of transportation, highways, and seaports.

Executive Order 11000: Mobilization of civilians into work force under complete government supervision.

Executive Order 11001: Government takeover of health, education and welfare functions.

Executive Order 11003: Takeover of all airports and aircraft.

Executive Order 11004: Housing and finance authorities to relocate communities, to build new housing with public funds, and designate areas to be abandoned as unsafe, establishing new locations for populations.

Executive Order 11005: Takeover railroads, inland waterways, and storage.

Executive Order 11051: Designates responsibility of emergency planning, gives authorization to put all other Executive Orders into effect in times of increased internal tension, economic or financial crisis.

Another Executive Order was signed into law by the President on February 10, 1972 which sets up ten Federal and Regional Councils to govern the 50 states. They will be given more power over the lives of the people than the Congress of the United States has ever known.

In fact, it is plain to see, when these Executive Orders have been invoked, the Congress might well adjourn, Constitutional government will be finished.

And God only knows what the future will hold in store for the people of this once free land!

"Watchman, what of the night?" It is later than we think. The reins of government shall finally be turned over to Antichrist.

B. W. Topples Huskies 74-53

Behind 28 to 18 with slightly over four minutes remaining in the first half Bishop Walsh guard Jim Ritchie hit two baskets and the Spartans went into a full court press which resulted in a 74-53 victory over the Northern High Huskies last Friday night in Cumberland.

The Spartans took a 16-12 first quarter lead but ran into foul problems which eventually put the Huskies into the 29-18 lead

Northern had numerous turnovers and netted only one field goal in the second period. The Huskies were behind 34 to 21 at halftime. The stronger Bishop Walsh bench did much to insure their game win and overcome the 11 personal fouls they incurred in the first half.

At the end of the third period BW led 57 to 32. Dave Bender had a 10-point scoring streak in the final period. Foul shooting supplied Northern with almost half of their final total. The Huskies hit 72 percent from the foul line for a 21-29 free-throw effort.

Top scorer for the night was Northern's Ed Frazee with 18. Northern's foul shooting Bender had 12 points. Amber had 7, Humbertson 7, Wampler 6, T Frazee 1, and Russell 2

For BW Delaney had 16, Logan 1, Ritchie 10, Dougherty 14, Hull 6, Schmidt 12, Sheehe 2, Smith 3, and Widdows 2.

Impressive in the first period for Northern was Huskie guard Don Wampler, who had six points.

Bruce Topples Huskies 60-54

Bruce High of Westernport held off stubborn Northern High 60 to 54 in the opening round of the District One class C tournament, at Allegany Community college Tuesday night.

Bruce moved to a 15-8 lead at the end of the first period. The Bulldogs' zone defense shut off Ed Frazee, the Huskies' leading scorer during the regular season and Frazee got only one basket in the initial eight minutes.

Gregg Humberson, scoreless in the first period, tossed in 3 field goals and a pair of fouls as the Huskies took advantage of a Bruce cold spell and narrowed the gap to 24-22 at intermission.

Bruce remained on top during the third period, ending at 38-37, after a hasket by Mark Russell had the Huskies on top 37-36 with a few seconds left.

Frazee, held to 3 haskets in the first three periods, ran off five straight points to open the final stanza and the Huskies went in front 42 to 38 with 6:41 to play. The Huskies regained the lead at 44-42. Russell scored a basket and two foul shots and the Huskies still led 46-44 with 4:26 left to play.

Wills of Bruce got three baskets to offset a pair by Frazee and the teams entered the final 1:58 tied at 50-50. Pence put the Bulldogs on top to stay with a basket.

Humberson led the Huskies with 16. Frazee had 12, Dave Bender 10, Wampler 4, Fisher 2, Russell 8, and DeWitt 2. Wills was high for Bruce with 20, Pence had 14, and Shaffer 10.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
Searcy, Arkansas

The nearly half-trillion dollars which the American taxpayers are paying for government in the current fiscal year (Federal, State and Local) grew up out of public apathy and citizen default. The growth — from $4 billion in Roosevelt's first year — is only indirectly chargeable to the six Presidents, the Congresses, and State and Local politicians. Primarily it is chargeable to the default of citizens on their responsibilities of citizenship. Nearly every American has said through the years, when confronted with his political responsibilities, "Oh, let George do it."

The "Let George do it" attitude has permitted the rapid creation of small pressure groups. You might say, their name is "George" — all of them. For they are calling the shots for everybody else while grinding their own group axes. They do not care how loudly we citizens squeal, so long as we take no action to halt their raids on the Federal treasury and to some extent on State and local government treasuries. Where has this put us—as individuals and as families?

If individual taxes were absolutely equal for every citizen in the United States, each (including babies) would have to pay $1,340 in taxes to meet just the current Federal budget requirement. A family of four would have to pay $5,360; and a family of six, $8,040. That's the tax per person and per family when averaged out. Of course some pay less, and some pay more.

In addition, the $505 Federal government debt breaks down to an average of $2,500 per person. A family of four, on the average, would have to assume $10,000 as its part of the national debt; and a family of six, $15,000. And don't let anybody tell you: "Oh forget the National debt; we owe it to onrselves." That's ridiculous! The debt is held by individual citizens and institutions; by banks in the Federal Reserve System, and in paper notes in some of the big funds accumulated in Federal Government departments. Individual citizens own about $50 billion in U.S. Savings Bonds. Holders of these bonds must be paid — and the only source of payment is the taxpayers. The remainder of the indebtedness must also be paid in like manner.

A whopping amount of borrowed money which the Government has arrogated to itself, without the permission of the citizens, has been taken from the Social Security Fund. By 1975, taxpayers were paying $36-billion, 600-million a year into the Social Security Fund. The Fund, as you all know, was set up to pay retirement benefits. Every working American pays taxes into the Fund, most of it deducted from paychecks. The book balance of the Social Seenrity Fund now stands at $36.6 billion.

But there's a catch — a shocking catch! Without your permission, the Federal government has dipped into this Fund and borrowed $36-billion, $296-million — leaving only promises to pay it back. The Government, of course, cannot, under present fiscal policies, pay it back — without piling more taxes on the people. There is only about $300 million in cash in the Fund. And meantime, the taxpayers are being charged interest on the money taken in Federal borrowing from the Fund. In the 1973-74 Federal budget is an item for $1.9 billion to pay the interest on the money borrowed from our Social Security Fund and spent on various programs which we may or may not approve.

The Postal Rate Hike

Americans who have mailed a first-class letter since March 2 have already felt the sting of the latest victim of inflation — U.S. postal rates. However, the 25% rise to a dime for a postage stamp is mild medicine compared to what is happening to users of second-class mail service.

Newspapers and magazines which are assessed the second-class rate have faced skyrocketing mailing costs since 1971 the year after Congress passed a postal reorganization act and ordered that, by 1976, about every class of mail must pay its own way.

On its face, the requirement appears logical. However, when applied practically, the result may spell the death of many — if not most — of America's 30,000 national magazines, newspapers and newsletters. In the wake of the major rate hike in 1971, Look magazine folded later that year. Fourteen months later the same threat helped to kill Life.

The stiff second-class rate increases have resulted from two separate schedules set by the U.S. Postal Service. Together, they will require periodicals collectively to pay at least 240% more to use the mails in 1976 than they paid in 1971. And, since the cost of running the Postal Service almost certainly will continue upward, magazines may well be faced in 1976 with rates that are 300% or even 400% above those five years earlier.

Americans rely importantly on the news brought inexpensively to them through the mail and for 2 centuries it has been U.S. postal policy to grant newspapers and periodicals rates below the actual cost of handling them. The policy has been a good one and has helped ensure that our citizens have had ready access to news and enlightened opinion on which to base wise decisions vital to a democracy.

Congress has the option of having the currently scheduled increases phased in over a longer period of time and of reversing the decision to make newspapers and periodicals pay their full share of mailing costs. Legislation to accomplish this has already been introduced in Congress and we believe the facts justify its passage.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am sending you this letter as an American who is deeply concerned about the energy crisis facing this country. The clamor for gasoline rationing and greater governmental controls has greatly disturbed me. Rationing will only make our present situation hopeless and necessitate the creation of another massive bureaucracy. Our government, through the use of gas-consuming pollution devices, wasteful intervention in the airlines and trucking industries price controls that discourage exploration for new energy sources and bans on drilling and refineries, has "socialized" our Free Enterprise System into this deadly fuel shortage. Socialism is the cause, not the cure!!

The Free Market offers the solution to this problem. Remove all governmental restrictions and interference and let the price of fuel reach market level. From this new revenue the oil companies will have the profit incentive to develop new energy sources. The temporary higher prices will give consumers the incentive to save as much gas as possible (while under rationing there would be no incentive to save less than the allotted amount).

I urge all concerned citizens to contact your local, state and national officials and encourage them to reject rationing which is contrary to our profitable system of Free Enterprise. The government's control of our economy could easily lead to the death of American freedom. Socialism is a cruel — some dreams are nightmares."

Dear Editor:

In reply to Mrs. Ruth Snyder's letter, let me say I am well aware of the good that the Amish are doing, but let me say that I have known many Amish, in fact I lived in an Amish community as a young girl. Mrs. Snyder stated the Amish do not own automobiles. In the community where I grew up the Amish had cars, as many or more than the non-Amish. They took pride in the cleanliness of their automobiles. Music was forbidden in Church but on several occasions I have seen musical instruments in their homes, including a victrola and a guitar. They lived the music as much as non-Amish.

In reply to Mr. Bender's letter, I know of many elderly people or Senior Citizens who have no means of transportation and many who are not able to drive due to health reasons. I have helped the elderly and disabled for quite a few years, taking them to doctors, stores and elsewhere. In using our car for this I am sure it did not raise Mrs. Snyder's taxes. These citizens have no means of getting medical assistance, food, clothes, etc. These Senior Citizens should have means of obtaining the necessary items they deserve.

I do not condone furnishing these people with unnecessary luxuries but a means to give them an opportunity to obtain necessities of life.

The Amish have their senior citizens and their own means of taking care of them. So we will take care of ours in our own way, and we should not be criticized, as we do not tell other parties how to care for theirs. May I say that if I live I will also be one too. Who won't?

Mrs. Jacob Oester

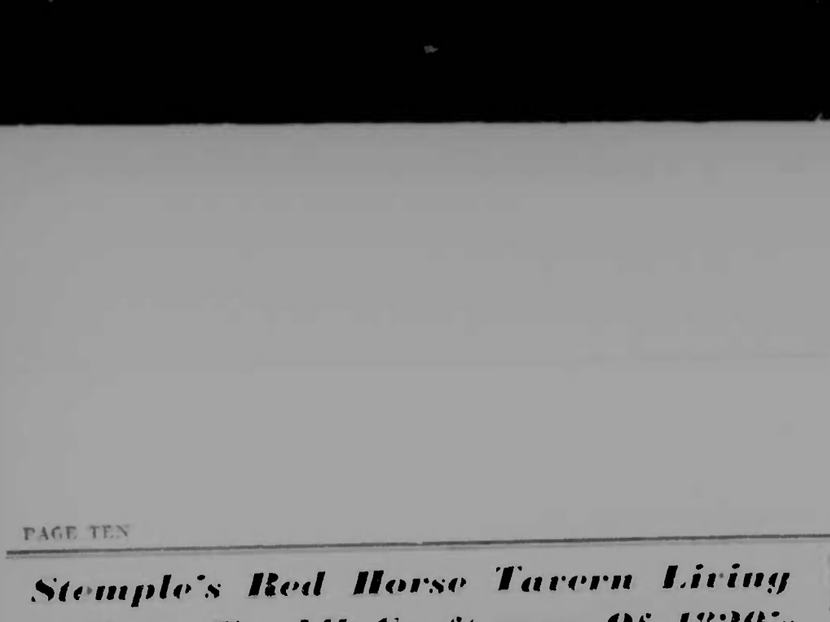
Stemple's Red Horse Tavern Living Tribute To All Craftsmen Of 1820's



Red Horse Tavern near Brookside, property of Lewis Stemple, as it appears from along Rt. 30

by Carol Casey

Persons setting into or passing along the scenic route where the present have taken note of the restoration of Lewis Stemple's Red Brookside Inn. It will be open on weekends by appointment only.

Mr. Stemple, a semi-professional artist and carpenter, has had an interest in antiques for many years. Recently he decided to have restored the land through a grant for service in the Revolutionary War, or to have purchased it from someone who had received such of their outstanding skill.

Mr. Stemple has a collection of authentic furniture and home implements, without overlooking the number of pieces he can put in a room.

Mr. Stemple's home, named for a tavern and tollhouse that the best for the years and builder, Henry Grimes, a Virginian, was built sometime in Pennsylvania German style, sometime about 1820. Grimes is thought to have operated the tavern for a short period of time in the Revolutionary War, or to have purchased it from someone who had received such of their outstanding skill.

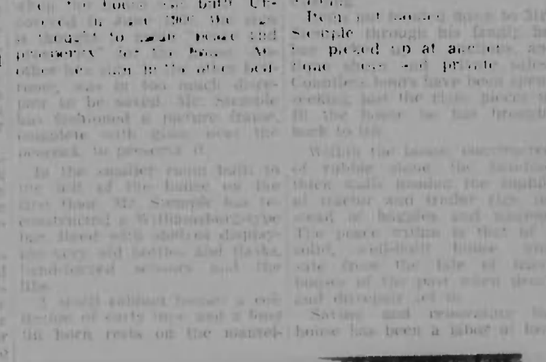
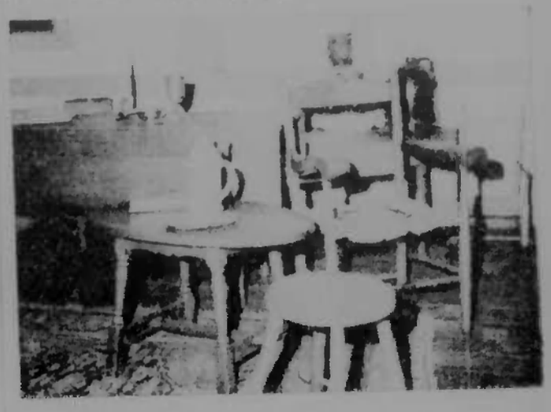
Grimes is thought to have operated the tavern for a short period of time in the Revolutionary War, or to have purchased it from someone who had received such of their outstanding skill.

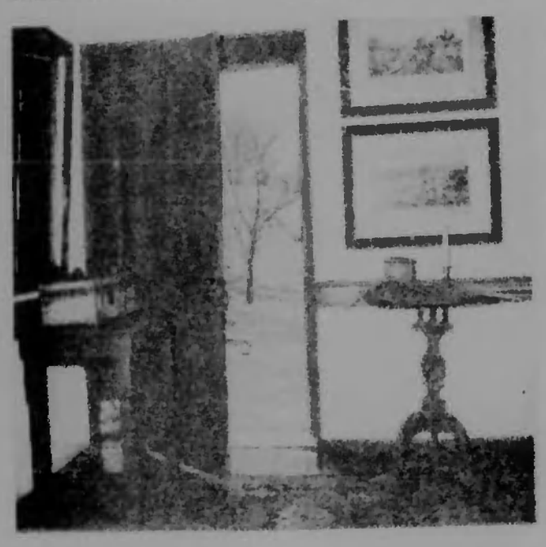


Mr. Stemple is flanked here by the large fireplace in the main room downstairs. The fox weathervane, above left, is from Brookside Inn, once located nearby. This fireplace can hold a five and a half foot long log with ease.

150-Year-Old Graffiti



Handmade furniture is found throughout the house as well as items made by the finest craftsmen of the 1820's.



You would almost expect the original owners to come in through the open door at Red Horse Inn and Tavern constructed by Henry Grimes in the mid 1820's. Mr. Stemple has succeeded very well in portraying history through use of everyday items and furniture, rather than a collection of antiques of all periods. The plum tree is visible through the open door.

Mr. Stemple constructed overhead slatted windows which drop down to keep the maids from the spirits in his re-created Williamsburg bar. Items in the background are all from pre-Industrial Revolution times. To the left is visible the signboard Mr. Stemple plans to hang, and a dough box where leavening was stored. Behind the bar is the trapdoor leading to the full basement beneath the house.

An old, old musket nearly six feet long, a tin horn and several pewter pieces grace the mantel of the sixfoot fireplace in the smaller room of Mr. Stemple's house. To the right is a curio cabinet with old toys and other items.

A early postcard depict the house as it appeared in the 1920s with the porches covering the windows which were built onto the front. The vines partially obscure the complete three-room structure dating back to the 1820's but since the original house to the left and there also to the rear and rotted away. Only early photographs expose the length of the original one-story porches on the rear. Mr. Stemple plans to rebuild porches on the rear.

Normal Tourism Is Expected Here By Summertime

A feeling that the gasoline crisis would be eased by summer to the extent that tourism business in the county would not be seriously affected, was expressed this week by Wayne Hamilton, chairman of County Commissioners.

Mr. Hamilton said that in an effort to keep the public informed as to the gasoline and home heating oil situation, he had made public a statement indicating the price would inch up and the supply would follow.

Mr. Hamilton, acting as energy coordinator, has been keeping in touch with area distributors of gasoline and fuels to see if the needs of the county are being met. He said most distributors are feeling a cut in allocations, but Mr. Hamilton said he did not think this would have an adverse effect on tourism in the county during the coming summer months.

Landfill Question

In their regular meeting this week the commissioners met with area residents of the Mt. Zion road to discuss the proposed landfill site. Westvaco had appealed to the commissioners for permission to backfill an abandoned strip mine in that area, and the commissioners have received a petition from residents of that area opposed to the landfill project. The commissioners are delaying their decision, pending further information.

Seek Lake Construction

Representatives of the Youghiogheny Mountain Club spoke to the commissioners concerning a proposed lake for the development area. The proposal will be reviewed by the Garrett County Planning Commission for recommendation.

Other Business

In other business the commissioners appointed Mrs. Clinton Englander to the Board of Trustees for the Ruth Enlow Library. Mrs. Englander has served on the board previously as treasurer. She will replace Mrs. Clarence Penman who has resigned.

The commissioners also appointed Merle Frantz, Friendsville; Mrs. Mildred Peterson, of Oakland, and Rober Shaffer, Oakland, to serve on the Commission on Aging.

In budgetary action the commissioners sent notices to all county agencies asking for proposed budgets to be submitted by April 1 for fiscal year 1975.

Sheriff John Browning met with the commissioners regarding the resident deputy program for three towns. Mr. Browning also showed concern for the upcoming budgeting period in an effort to place the deputies under the Merit System.

Hymn Sing At Crellin

The Gospel Highlanders will provide singing at the Crellin United Methodist church, on Friday evening, March 8, at 7:30 p.m., it was announced.

The public is invited.

The 41st body of a miner, killed in the Farmington, W. Va., mine in 1968, was found in February.

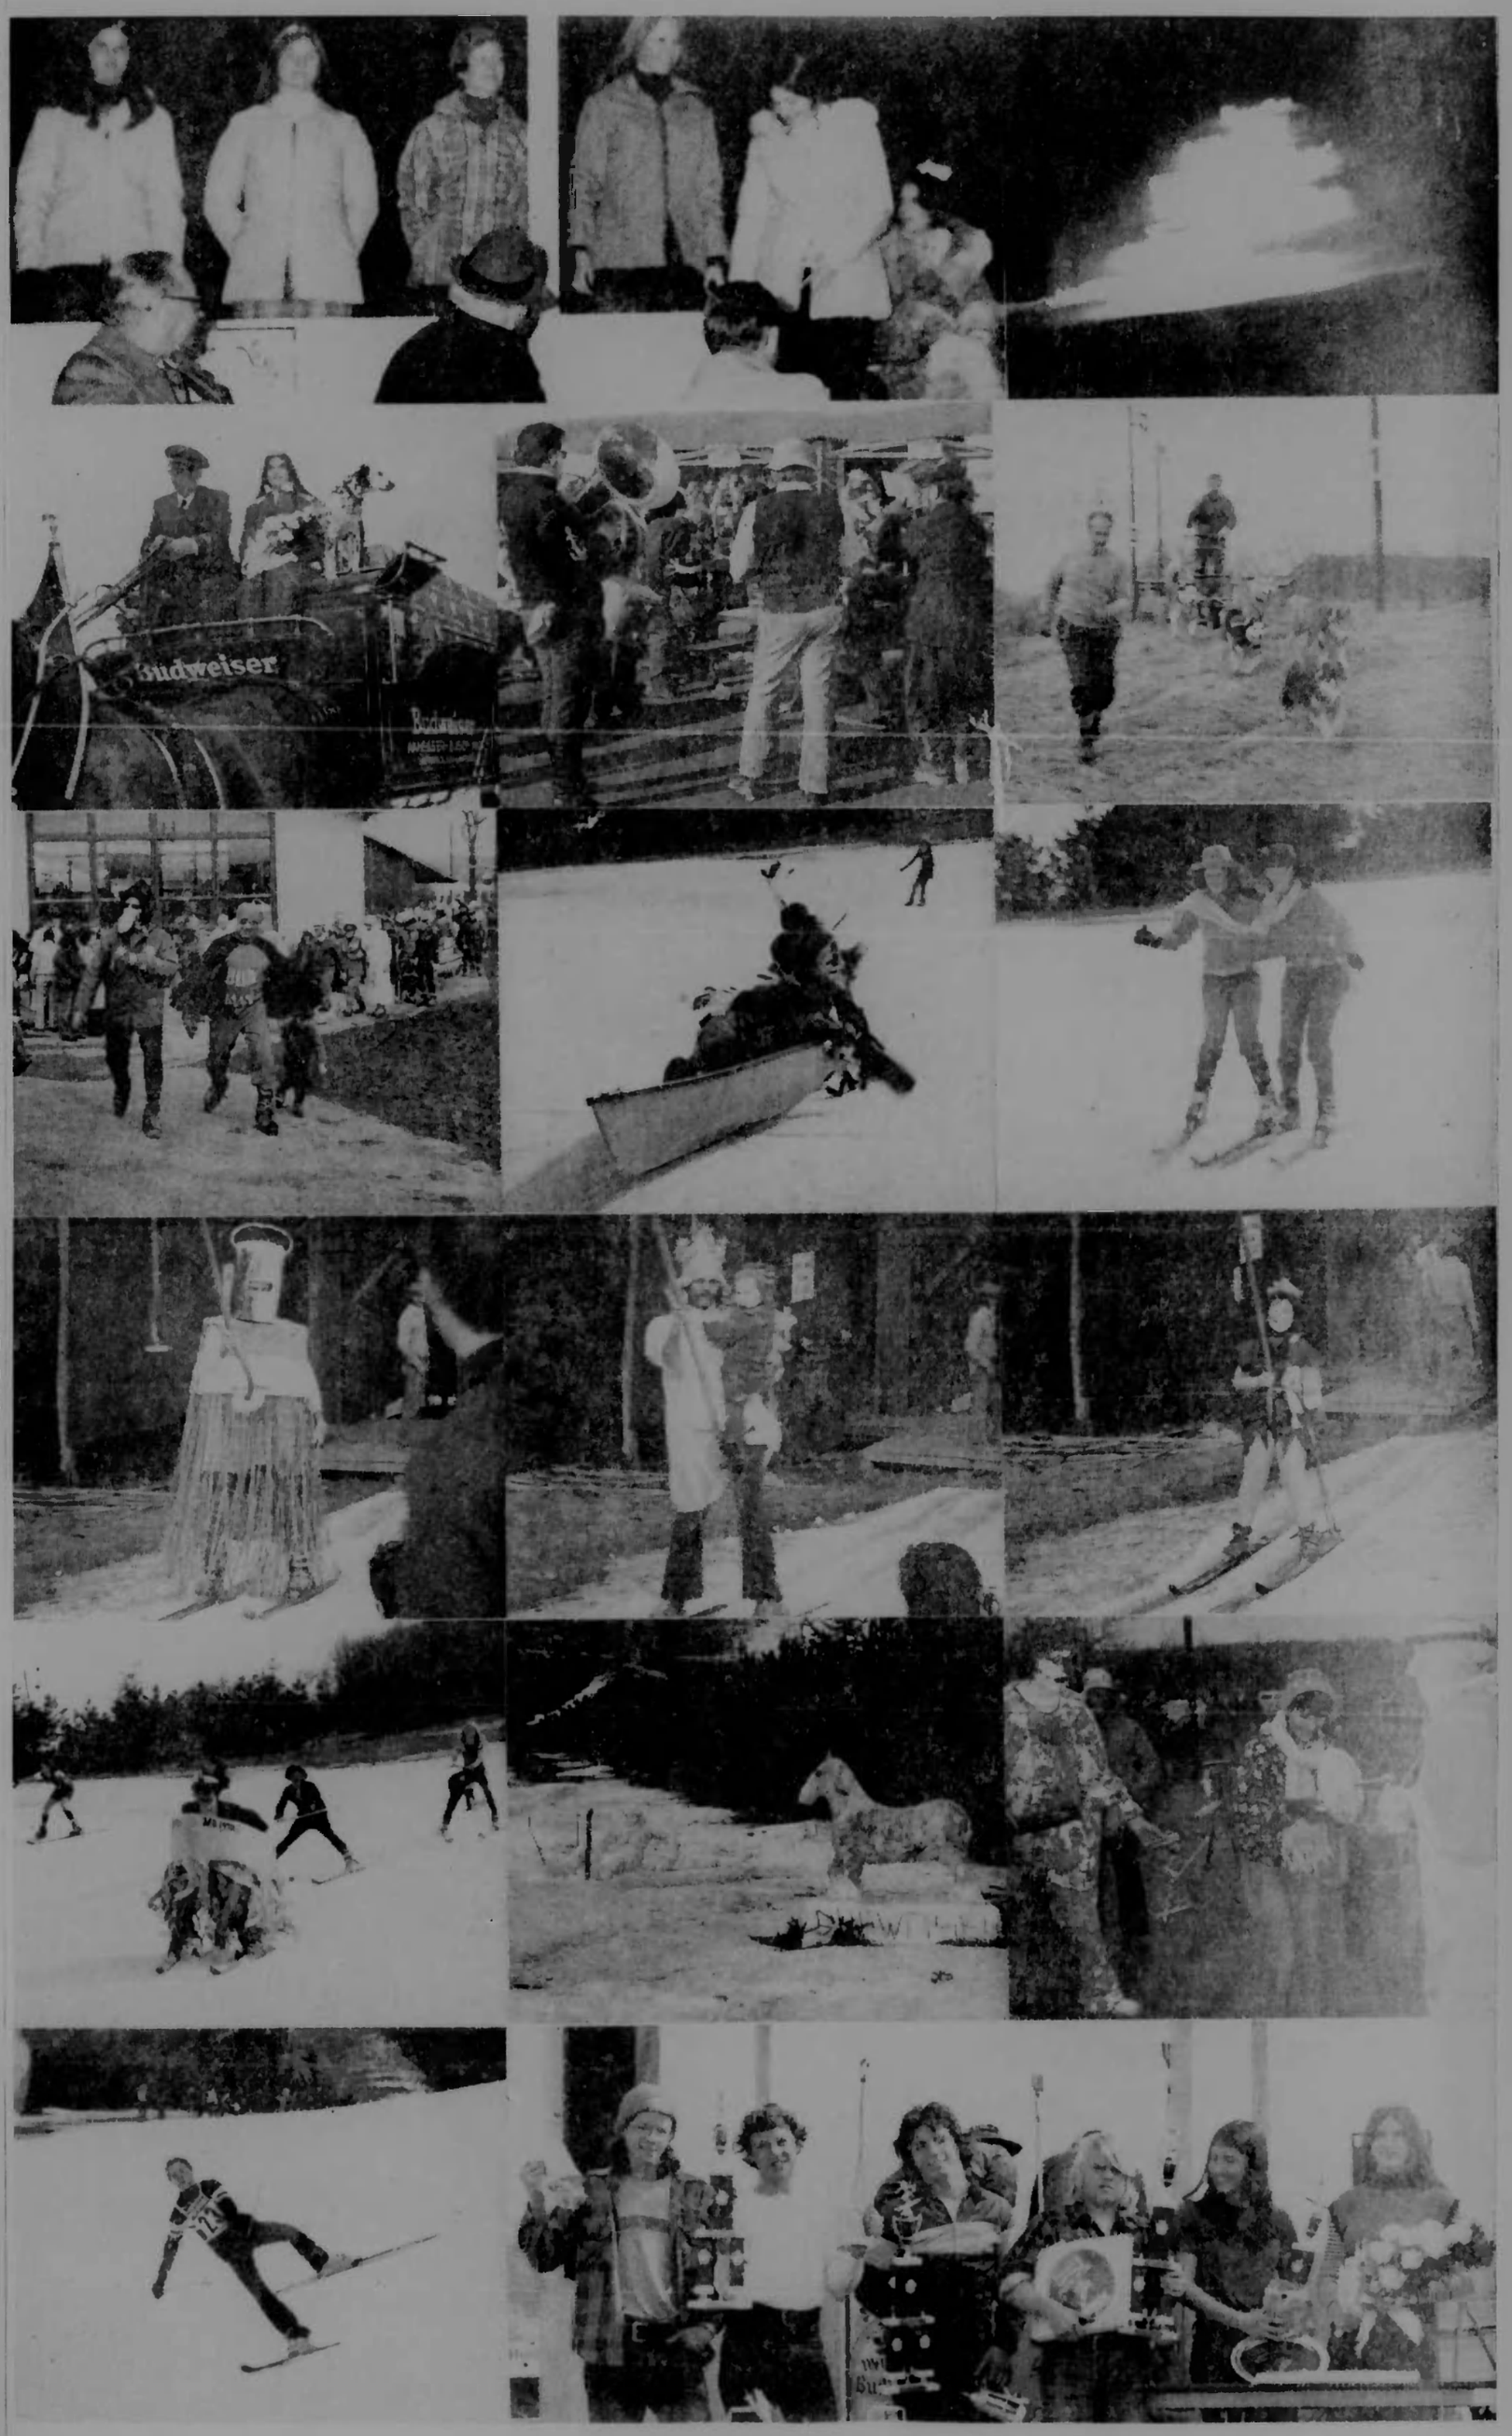
'74 Winter-Fest at Wisp...a fun weekend!



A WIDE VARIETY of fun and games highlighted the first Winter-Fest weekend at Wisp Recreation Area, Deep Creek Lake. Despite balmy 70-degree weather, enough snow was available for ski races and shenanigans observed during the traditional "Yakapah Garbola Day." Contending for the title of Queen of Winter-Fest were five young ladies (top left photo): Sheila Buckel, Kathy Harshbarger, Julie Livengood, Robin Ravenscroft and Edie Yoder. Miss Buckel was selected as queen. She was crowned by Miss Maryland, Kristi Reindl of LaVale, on extreme right. In foreground are Commissioner Bernard Guy, Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, and Commissioner Wayne Hamilton.

Time exposure of torchlight parade Friday night (upper right) made eerie pattern on the face of Wisp's main ski slope. Parade was led by Austrian Karl Gumhalter, ski school director.

5th row: "Miss Wisp Sea and Ski" boat, [illegible] by Herb Hallar and crewed by Charles H. McIntire, towing [illegible] skiers down the hill won first in group category. Snow sculpture of "Fallen Skier" and "Clydesdale Horse" competed with "Skier" by Karen Fauber, Elaine Bell, Elaine Schlosser [illegible] Mike Warren winning. Hirage clown of Ali Glenn Shrine [illegible] pictures of spectators. "Pictures" turned out to be a [illegible].

The Face of The Times

Wendy is the outdoor type . . . doesn't mind the wind in her face . . . hair blowing in the breeze . . . loves to ski and go mountain climbing. She's the picture of slightly dishevelled beauty. But bring her indoors—the first thing Wendy reaches for is a comb.

Disorder cannot mar beauty when there is a natural or reasonable cause. But the disorder that comes from irresponsibility or violence casts its ugliness over everything it touches.

Doesn't this mean a growing appreciation of the Church's vital role in our society? The disheveled we see on the face of the times didn't happen with a passing gust of wind. We need—our world needs—the religious foundation on which a stable society must stand.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE POWER OF INTENT LOOKING

Lesson for March 10, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 3 through 4.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61:1-4.

The story is told that when the humble St. Bernard visited Rome, the Pope conducted him on a tour of the opulent holdings of the Papacy. Referring to Peter's response to the lame man at the Beautiful Gate (Acts 3:6), the Pope said, "Ah, Bernard, no longer need we say, 'Silver and gold have I none . . .'" The humble monk paused and then quietly replied: "No, excellency, but neither can we say, '. . . in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk.'"

Rev. Althouse

With all of its great wealth, it seemed, the Church had lost its power to heal.

"Look at us"

Today, however, the Church is regaining its healing ministry. Pastors and lay people are again taking seriously Jesus' commission to "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers. . . ." (Matt. 10:7, 8). Many practitioners of medicine are coming to regard the healing ministry, not as superstitious competition, but as another co-operative branch of the healing arts.

It is believed that Luke, the writer of both the Gospel According to Luke and the Book of Acts, was by profession a physician. It is, perhaps, with a physician's eye that he records the healing of the lame man by the Beautiful Gate. Note the dynamics he observes and records.

First, there is concentration of attention and effort. "Look at us," Peter commands the lame man. We often think of prayer as getting God's attention; in reality it is a matter of giving Him our undivided attention so that he can do with us as he desires. Whether we are praying for healing or some other kind of help, it is important that we focus our attention and effort upon God.

Expecting to receive

Secondly, there must be the expectation that we will receive something. Luke tells us that the lame man "fixed his attention upon them, expecting to receive something from them" (Acts 3:5). Unless we truly expect something to happen, we keep closed the door through which the power of God must enter. Jesus himself could not heal in his own town of Nazareth because his friends and neighbors there did not expect to receive something from him.

Thirdly, there is the power of the living Lord. It is not prayer that heals, nor even faith, but the power of the living Christ through the Holy Spirit. The prayer of faith opens the door, but it is always Christ who heals. Peter said: ". . . in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk."

A man asked for help ". . . Peter directed his gaze at him . . . and said, 'Look at us.' And he fixed his attention upon them, expecting to receive something from them." And he was healed.

That is the power of intent looking.

Check Tax Returns Before Mailing Advised

G. L. Muhlbachler, Acting IRS District Director for Maryland and District of Columbia, cautioned taxpayers about to file their 1973 federal income tax return to check it over carefully before putting it into the mail to the Philadelphia IRS Service Center.

Mr. Muhlbachler said that taxpayers who take the extra few minutes often find errors in arithmetic or other basic but common mistakes that otherwise have to be corrected in processing and may delay the issuance of refund checks.

DO YOU HAVE HBP?

Have you had your blood pressure checked recently? Is it normal — about 120/80 reading? Is it low? High? Or do you know? It is estimated that over 23 million North Americans suffer from high blood pressure (HBP) and that half are not aware they have it — they do not see a doctor for periodic physical exams.

Since HBP develops without warning, it is considered "the silent killer" and over 250,000 people will die this year because of it. But, once diagnosed HBP can be controlled by diet or medication or both. HBP control can reduce the number and severity of premature heart attacks, strokes and kidney disease.

Decline Continues In Permits To Wed

Marriage licenses issued by the county continue to decline as compared to last February. In 1973, 74 were issued as compared to 61 last month. This follows the January trend.

Civil ceremonies percentage has also declined from near the 30-mark to 23 percent in February. Last month, 68 couples applied for wedding permits.

Information is from records in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court. Where a person is under 18 years of age, parent's consent was given.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

AS HEARD BY HEARD

Bureaucratic Idiocy

There seems to be no limit to the idiocy of bureaucracy.

The Cost of Living Council is no exception.

This august fledgling bureau has decreed that the Oakland Raiders, a professional football team, must give back to patrons sums amounting to 50 cents per ticket for attendance at three games played in October of 1971.

It is claimed that this 50 cents charged was not legal, and that it contributed to inflation. Increased the cost of living, threatened the national existence, and a host of other ills.

Now it is most difficult for the average person to understand how an increased price for a football ticket has anything to do with the cost of living. It is a certainty that the soaring prices of meat, milk, bread, gasoline, fuel oil, and many other items do have a profound impact on the family well being.

But attendance at a professional football game has never before been considered a family necessity. No one yet has coined the phrase, "the family that roots together stays together."

This, again, seems to furnish another example that unless checked by common sense, a commodity sadly lacking in bureaucracy, that in bureaucracy there are the latent seeds of dictatorship.

And perhaps the Congress cannot escape some censure over this matter, because it was Congress that took away from private enterprise pro football the right to decide whether or not games should or should not be televised.

The Cost of Living Council, for example, doesn't seem to be concerned with such a matter as the increased tuition costs of an education, but of course, that is a small matter when weighed against charging 50 cents more to see a gridiron spectacle.

On the other hand, perhaps the Cost of Living Council, in picking on the Raiders, does have a complete justification, and perhaps the Raider games are a necessity of life for a segment of the population.

That segment is the aging males of the country who need a spiritual uplift, and assurance that they are not being pushed aside by the young.

And assuredly, when these older males can watch the aging Raider place kicker, George Blanda, kick the blazes out of the young whippersnappers on the field, perhaps this is as psychologically necessary to them as their daily bread. So perhaps the Cost of Living Council is not as screwy as it sounds. But don't make book on it.

"Cosi Fan Tutte" By Canadian Opera Planned March 10

The Canadian Opera Company will present Mozart's "Cosi Fan Tutte" in English Sunday, March 10, at 8 p.m. at the Fort Hill High school auditorium in Cumberland as the fourth attraction of the Tri-State Community Concert Association.

The Canadian Opera Company, which has appeared in Cumberland previously, was established as a touring group in 1958 when the Canada Council asked the company to tour a chamber-style opera. Since 1959, a touring orchestra also has been made possible by an extra grant from the Canada Council.

"Cosi Fan Tutte" premiered at the Burgtheater in Vienna January 26, 1790, one day before Mozart's 34th birthday. The work received successful repetitions through August and then was dropped from the repertory, not to be revived in Vienna during the composer's 36-year brief lifetime.

The British Example: It Can Happen Here

Winston Churchill once proclaimed at the end of World War II that he had not been called as the King's First Minister in order to preside over the dissolution of the British Empire. There was rich irony in that statement. Never did a nation fall more rapidly or completely from the pinnacle of greatness as a world power than did Great Britain. Theoretically a victor in war, Britain today is in a position of economic and political ruin, with its standard of living reduced below the level of its erstwhile enemies. The growth of the welfare state in Britain has brought neither industrial peace nor personal welfare. And it has opened up a path towards communist domination of the vitals of the society through their control of the powerful labor unions. Neither a Marxist revolution nor a military dictatorship are unthinkable possibilities in the Britain of today.

Americans who may think that such a sad state of affairs can never happen here better take note of what is happening.

President Nixon once warned that the United States was in danger of becoming a "pitiful, helpless giant." That danger seems to be closer to reality today as Secretary of State Kissinger presides over the dissolution of U.S. world power. The proposed abandonment by the U.S. of its rights and guardianship over the Panama Canal is a case in point. Our inability so far to induce the Arab states to lift their crippling oil embargo is another. A relative decline of U.S. military power compared with that of the Soviet Union is, of course, one of the most troublesome indicators of all in the foreign field. Unlike Britain, which could fall back on the U.S. to protect it, the U.S. has no one to depend upon except itself.

On the home front, some of the same arguments that led Britain to economic disaster are in vogue: eliminate so-called "private exploitation" of public need (control or nationalize the oil industry, for example) and provide social security from the cradle to the grave and all will be well.

We think the inherent good sense of most Americans is still a powerful barrier to this kind of thinking. But we worry about the "it can't happen here" psychology. The Communists in the U.S. are no less active than their British counterparts. They work persistently and insidiously to infiltrate every organization that is concerned with improving human well-being. It has happened in Great Britain and it can happen here, if the American people do not maintain a constant vigilance against any philosophy which would either undermine our strength or destroy our free enterprise institutions. — U.S. Press Assoc.

Added Protection For Landowners Feature Of Bill

A trespass bill providing added protection for landowners was introduced into the Maryland General Assembly last week by House Republican Leader, C. A. Porter Hopkins with Maryland Farm Bureau backing and bi-partisan support.

The new bill, while not affecting present law, offers additional protection through the option of the existing provision of posting plus the filing of a certified plat with the Natural Resources Police Force, and publishing a notice of posting for at least three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the posted land is located.

If the bill is enacted, stiffer penalties would be imposed upon conviction with the fine increased to a maximum of $500 and the new penalty of imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both.

Charles Collins, speaking for the Maryland Farm Bureau said, "The bureau and its members are solidly behind this legislation. The farmers and landowners have long been at a big disadavantage in dealing with trespassers. The result has been ever-increasing damage and inconvenience. This bill is a step in the right direction."

WASHINGTON AND Small Business

BY C. WILSON HARDER

U. S. Spending Curb?

If it gets off the ground, it is possible that the proposed new International Monetary Fund, commonly known as "paper gold" will begin to restrain the political motivated spending of American politicians.

In fact, it may be a major force to cut down, or eliminate entirely, the U. S. foreign give away programs, and in addition, restrain entry of the nation into further military adventures such as Vietnam. Going a step further, it may even result in a new era of American isolationism.

The United States balance of trade, on what might be called a legitimate basis is favorable. Although the nation exports about 4 per cent of its gross national product, far short of the 10 per cent that existed before the crash of 1929, imports have been under that 4 per cent, thus the nation is selling more abroad than it buys abroad.

But what has upset the monetary applecart is that with the nation's give-aways, plus military expenditures on foreign lands, the balance of money owed by the U.S. around the world in ratio to the money owed to the U.S. is all out of kilter, in fact disastrously so.

Now the so-called "paper gold" scheme is nothing more than a bookkeeping procedure. If a nation owes more than it takes in the International Monetary fund will transfer credits to pay off the debtors, and charge the nation with a loan. Of course this loan must be paid off in time, and it will be impossible for a nation to pursue a course, such as the U. S. has done, to continually be in the red with its foreign accounts and still be able to tap the international fund.

The reason for this is that some 107 nations will be sitting on this fund as a loan committee. And there is no reason to believe that this group will differ from any other bankers.

If someone already owes their local bank a substantial sum of money with payments on the principal quite far in arrears, then goes to the bank for an additional loan on the grounds that he just bought his wife a new Rolls Royce, and gave an additional $5,000 to charity, and also loaned some folks some money at a rate of interest less than he is paying the bank, and is also paying out to blackmailers, the conclusion is foregone.

His bank is going to say no, loud and clear. And this is what could very easily, and more likely than not, occur if the U. S. tries to over-loan from the world monetary fund.

As a matter of fact, it is possible that this setup could do more to promote peace than the United Nations will ever do. Obviously, if the monetary fund were asked for additional loans because the U. S. State Department wants to get involved to some nation's civil war, the loan committee of the fund could have the final say.

After all, there is no record of any bank having extended loans to either the Hatfields or the McCoys for the purpose of buying arms and ammunition to continue their vendetta.

ARE YOU PART OF THE PROBLEM?

We've all heard the national problems enumerated — but what can we, the everyday people, do about them?

The same Insiders who control the wages and prices of your economy (and the tax you pay and the gas you use) are also legislating you 'rights' to certain 'liberties' whether you want them or not — for example, the 'right' to have your children "sex" 'educated' in public schools under a federal program; the 'right' to live in a society where prostitution, abortion, drug abuse, and intrasexual marriage not only glamorized by the news media, but also legalized!

Another of these dubious 'liberties' is the 'right' to have social poisons on your newsstands. The big-time criminals who push this propaganda call us "ducks" because we swallow up everything they put in front of us. Misinformation by "experts" is being pumped into American youth by every means available, but finally the Supreme Court is giving us a chance to rid ourselves of the worst of this Society Pollution.

The Obscenity Ordinance of the Town of Oakland has been written and read by the Town Council. The final vote will be on April 1. Let's get it passed before the Court changes its mind. Let your representatives know your views.

Don't worry about your children getting their share of misinformation — the Insiders will see to that. We must see that they get what they are suffering for lack of — the Truth. If you are not a living example of Him yourself, YOU are a part of the nation's problems. Turn from sin to Jesus and become part of the solution.

The hope was expressed that North Branch miners would resume their operations either this evening or Friday. Miners' problems in southern West Virginia have been temporarily alleviated by an order rescinding Gov. Arch Moore's gas regulations.

Miners in many parts of West Virginia, especially in the south, had been off work since February 18, when Governor Moore issued a ruling for service stations declaring that no one with over one-fourth of a tank of gasoline could buy gas. That order was rescinded for 30 days on Wednesday of this week.

Miners had declared this ruling unfair, and alleged that this did not allow them sufficient fuel to travel to work, especially when most service stations were closed when the men traveled to work at 7 a.m., and were also closed by the time they were returning home.

SHOPLIFTING is a CRIME

A SHOPLIFTER IS A THIEF

Dear Mom and Dad:

- Do you know where your sons and daughters spend their free time?
- Do you allow them to go into town by themselves?
- Do you ask them if they have spending money?
- Do you know who their friends are?
- Do you know what they bring home after they have visited a local store?
- Do you know if they have paid for the things they bring home?
- Do you know that shoplifting is a SERIOUS offense, a CRIME punishable under Maryland statutes?
- Do you care about your sons and daughters?

If you cannot answer the questions above, perhaps your children are some of those involved in shoplifting in our stores. We know they are shoplifting. We've caught some of them in recent weeks. But we need your help to stamp it out.

WARNING:

We will PROSECUTE any shoplifter, young or old. Shoplifting is not a prank ... not a lark ... not a joke. SHOPLIFTING IS A CRIME! We cannot (and will not) allow it to continue.

Six Are Killed On State Highways

Six persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly news released compiled by 1st Sergeant James Harvey of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed, four were drivers, and two were pedestrians.

Persons killed through March 10 totaled 83 compared to 166 for the same period last year.

Deep Mining Is Recommended For Maryland

A survey prepared for the Maryland legislature concluded that 90 percent of the state's coal reserves "are accessible only by underground mining techniques."

Despite this, nearly all of the state's current coal production comes from strip mining operations.

The Maryland Geological survey study indicates that substantial coal reserves exist in Allegany and Garrett counties and that the slumping industry might be revived if major environmental conflicts are resolved.

The House Environmental Matters committee asked for an evaluation of coal reserves to help in determining whether the state ought to increase exploitation of coal. The move would help meet regional energy requirements and presumably to stimulate that sector of the economy.

Although the tally shows that about 855 million tons of recoverable coal lies beneath Western Maryland, most of it tends to be moderately high in sulfur - 1 percent to 6 percent. Therefore, it would not pass the air pollution control requirements for low-sulfur coal, the report states.

The best opportunity for making Maryland coal environmentally acceptable would be to convert it into cleaner fuels according to survey geologists James M. Croffroth and Kenneth N. Weaver.

They suggest a further study to determine the feasibility of conversion plants in the coal fields. Such plants could convert relatively high sulfur coal into cleaner burning fuels such as synthetic natural gas or reconstituted coal.

Coffroth and Weaver said that slightly more than 10 percent of the state's coal reserves lend themselves to strip mining. The remainder would require underground mining techniques. However, new techniques must be developed because conventional mining can remove only 50 percent to 60 percent of the available coal they reported.

Ninety-six percent of the state's current production, about 1.7 million a year, comes from 34 strip mines, 17 in this county, and 17 in Allegany. One deep mine is operating in this county.

During the peak production years in the first decade of the 20th century, more than 5,000 miners worked Maryland's deep mines, producing up to 5.5 million tons annually. Employment has dwindled to about 350 today.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, William Emerson Thomas, who passed away one year ago March 15, 1973.

Away in the land of sunrise,
Separated by Heaven's gold door.
Our loved one is patiently waiting.
Not dead, just gone before.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone,
For part of us went with you,

Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information typical of the kind asked of me in person or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U S House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks;

How did you vote on private pension reform and emergency energy legislation?

I supported both pieces of legislation. The National Emergency Energy Act passed the House 258-151 and Private Pension Reform 376-1.

I understand that you favor eliminating foreign oil depletion allowances. Please tell me why since I think it would encourage less drilling by oil companies and therefore less oil?

On the contrary, elimination of foreign oil depletion allowances and other foreign tax credits would encourage major oil companies to divert their international resources into domestic oil exploration and production. I feel that if the United States is to become relatively self-sufficient in oil we must begin working at home to develop our own oil resources. This means increasing investments by oil companies in the U.S. which in turn will create more jobs for more Americans.

Is there any legislation before Congress to reinstate the death penalty?

Yes. The Senate Judiciary Committee last week reported a bill to reinstate a tight new set of federal procedures which would allow imposition of the death penalty for some cases of treason, espionage or murder.

What is Congress doing to prevent future "Russian wheat deals?"

Several bills have been introduced in Congress to place export controls on wheat, corn and soybeans. These proposed measures would prevent crops from being exported to a foreign country until the needs of the U.S. consumer are met. I sponsored such legislation because I think the large scale of wheat to the Soviet Union last year proves that we need some form of control over grain exports as well as a means to avert any future shortage of grain and feed supplies in the United States. Under legislation, the Secretaries of Agriculture and Commerce would determine for each crop year the amount of wheat, soybeans and corn needed to meet the requirement of American consumers and then based on these figures determine the excess available for export.

Please explain supplemental security income?

A new program of supplemental security income for aged, blind and disabled people with limited income and resources went into effect on January 1 1974. Payments, under the program, supplement whatever income may be available from other sources, including social security benefits In future years, about 90 percent of the aged recipients, by far the largest category who receive these payments, will also be entitled to some social security benefits. Detailed information is available from your local social security office.

Oakland Station On National Register

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Station has been added to the National Register of Historic Places, according to the Maryland Historical Trust, an agency of the Department of Economic and Community Development. It was nominated recently through efforts of U.S. Senators Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., and J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Constructed in 1884, the railroad station is architectnrally the finest building in Oakland and indicates the importance of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to the town. The station was built six years after the railroad erected a resort hotel in the town to provide a depot for visitors. The railroad station is one of the finest remaining example of Queen Anne style railroad station and was probably built by the Baltimore architectnral firm Baldwin and Pennington.

The National Register is a protective inventory of historic resources. Nominations to the National Register are made by a State Historic Preservation Officer on the recommendation of a committee of professional architects and historians. Created by the Historic Preservation Act of 1966, the National Register includes buildings, structures, districts, sites, and objects.

Poor Votes

There is the old phrase about sowing the wind and reaping whirlwind.

The truth of this adage is perhaps well illustrated by the so-called race problem now existing in this nation.

And those who have created the whirlwind are the irresponsible politicians who in hunger for votes have promised minorities the moon and aroused expectations far beyond possibility of fulfillment.

There are certain basic rights guaranteed by the Constitution to all Americans, regardless of race, color or creed. These rights have now been re-affirmed, but still there is rioting.

And perhaps the most interesting part of the entire mess is that no sooner had so called civil rights legislation been passed than the noisier adherents of these measures then demanded that they also control U. S. foreign policy as witnessed by the strong anti-Vietnam complexion of the movement today.

There is probably some justification for demanding an end to Vietnam. And assuredly the American foreign policy is quite an enigma.

But on the other hand, the credentials of those who pour into Washington as part of a March of the Poor to make decisions on foreign policy seem open to question.

For after all, it can perhaps be assumed if they have the intellect and ability to decide on such complex problems of American relationship to the world, that same intellect and ability should have somehow lifted them out of their life of poverty in their own home town.

There are ways of helping the poor. The nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business support several bills languishing in the Congress which would be quite remedial.

But they are opposed by many politicians who do not like to see such legislation as the tax incentive plan for rural development by Congressman Joe Evins, Tennessee, or the plowback allowance by Congressman James Corman, California, passed.

The big objection to action in these areas is that they would provide employment opportunities for those who do not want to be poor, and thus eliminate the need for spending billions of dollars to help the unemployed poor who also happen to be voters, and more importantly, the poor who actually do not want to work.

And in addition, it should perhaps not be overlooked that there are many wealthy big city property owners who would like to see all taxpayers shaken down under the guise of helping the poor.

They would be quite enchanted to get big movement subsidies to aid them in improving their properties. They too, weep for the poor, and will continue to do so until such times as they, too, can get a chunk of the taxpayer's money.

Talent Show Lists Winners

A total of fifty dollars was given to students with the most talent at the F.T.A. talent show, March 8.

Winning first prize of twenty-five dollars was Dennis Dunnire, a seventh grader, who impersonated animal sounds. The junior high bell ringers walked off with second place and fifteen dollars. Third place went to Brenda Snyder, an eighth grader, who rode a unicycle, did tumbling and baton twirling.

Judging the event were John McLaughlin, Marcette Danner, and Lowell Schiff. The senior high students donated twenty-five cents each to attend the program which was sponsored by the Future Teachers' Association. Mrs. Patti McLaughlin is advisor of the club.

Junior High Champs

Both the eighth and ninth grades had winners in the junior high intramural basketball finals last week. The 8th grade boys and the ninth grade girls won the championships.

Steve Liller and 8-A company downed the 9-A boys by a score of 47-19 in front of the junior high student body

Liller led all scorers with 33 Steve Richy played well in the first half against Liller. 8-A led at the half 20-12. The second half was all 8-A's as they led 33-19 at the end of the third quarter and shut out the freshmen in the fourth.

Other 8-A scorers were Cosner 6, Mellenry 4, Murphy 4, and Marks 2.

Meanwhile the 9-A girls spoiled an 8-A sweep by dumping the lassies 16-13.

9-A's Sue Eberly and 8-A's Suzie Shaffer led their teams in scoring, but Eberly fouled out in the fourth quarter with only forty-two seconds left to play.

A rough first quarter ended with a 3-3 tie. But in the second quarter 9-A jumped ahead with a few steals by Eberly and aggressive play by Ronny Domenick which made a half time score of 9-7.

The second half seemed more promising for the eighth grade with the score at the end of the third quarter 10-11, but in the fourth quarter they fell behind giving the ninth grade the victory 16-13

Scoring for 8-A were Lisa Rook 3, S. Shaffer 4, and D Herrdan 4. Scoring for 9-A were M. Crumley 2, R. Domenick 5, and Sue Eberly 10

FEO-USDA Issues Fuel Pamphlet

The Federal Energy Office and the U.S. Department of Agriculture are jointly preparing a pamphlet explaining procedures and action that should be taken to help assure that farmers get enough fuel to meet their needs, Mrs. Darlene Reams, Acting Executive Director of the Garrett County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) said this week

The pamphlet, titled "Fuel Allocations for Farmers," notes that the Federal Energy Office has designated agriculture to receive top priority in the distribution of fuel.

The pamphlet suggests farmers tell the local distributor of their present and future needs so that distributors or dealers can know in advance what the customer requires. If local distributors do not have enough to meet even agricultural production needs, they can ask FEO to correct the shortage through use of an FEO form number 17.

Mrs. Reams said farmers needing emergency help should apply direct to the State Energy Office (SEO) for a temporary, emergency allocation, using FEO form number 20, or any other form developed by the SEO.

The forms are available at the Regional FEO, the State Energy Office and the local ASCS office.

Training sessions are being conducted so that farmers can get help in the ASCS office in filling out the forms.

Mrs. Reams explained that farmers using less than 20,000 gallons of fuel a year, who do not have a supplier, may use FEO form number 20 to apply for permanent assignment to a supplier.

FEO regulations require farmers and others receiving allocations at the 100 percent level to certify to their suppliers that they have an energy conservation program in effect. Farmers are to use priority fuel only for agricultural production and to buy no more than enough to meet 100 percent of current needs.

Awards Selection Group Named

Members of a committee to select high school and college students as recipients of March of Dimes Health Careers Awards were named today by Verna J. Harvey, Chapter Chairman of Garrett County Chapter of The National Foundation.

The committee will screen qualified applicants for four awards in the health professions to be awarded by the Chapter in 1974 and financed through contributions to the March of Dimes.

Committee members include: Rev. James Remley, Chairman; Ms. Mildred Wucik, counselor and teacher; Merritt Feather, administrator of Garrett County hospital, Dr. Jean Shaw, professor, and Scott Ward, counselor.

March of Dimes Health Careers Awards in nursing, occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech pathology and audiology are offered high school seniors; awards in medical social work and medicine are available to college undergraduates at specific academic levels.

Ms. Harvey pointed out that, in contrast with most scholarships made when the recipient is advanced in his studies, the March of Dimes Awards will help the young person at the very beginning of his career.

"The March of Dimes Health Careers Awards program is particularly timely because the severe shortage of trained health personnel is a national problem," Rev. James Remley, chairman of the Awards Selection committee, said.

Ms. Harvey emphasized that applications for 1974 March of Dimes Health Careers Awards must be completed and filed with the Chapter not later than April 15. She said that application forms are available from the March of Dimes Garrett County Chapter, Oakland, or Northern and Southern High schools.

Democrats To Meet

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
Searcy, Arkansas

Perhaps some of our 30-year-olds of today, who are beginning to take over political and governmental powers, have vaguely heard of the millions of innocent civilians slaughtered in Russia and other Communist-ruled nations. They also have no doubt heard of the slave labor camps which Stalin ran, and which at their peak population contained more than 25-million people. They have heard of these things so vaguely that many have doubts they are true. And in the last several years there has been a massive effort underway in the United States to picture the Communist hierarchy as reforming, as becoming decent citizens of the world.

Mass executions and the slave labor camps now are supposed to be either fiction or something that happened only in Stalin's day. So let's get to the truth, in the hope that America will not slide farther into the deadly grasp of the Soviet Bear.

The Internal Security Committee of the United States Senate has concluded a series of hearings—open to the public but not reported to any extent in the press. People giving testimony include some who had spent as many as 10 years in Soviet Russian slave labor camps. I have the transcripts of the hearings. Most of the readers of this column—and certainly the 30-year-olds and younger—may well be shocked by the following report.

The number of slave labor and concentration camps in Soviet Russia today total several thousand.

The documented evidence presented to the Senate Committee by a parade of witnesses who had escaped Russia placed the total present population of the slave labor and concentration camps at more than 5-million people! These people, forsaken by the Western world, are dying at the rate of approximately 10 per cent a month.

Some of the deaths are by execution. But most are deaths due to starvation — slow, agonizing, coldly calculated starvation at the hands of slave masters obeying orders of Chairman Breshnev. The astounding death rate, however, is not depleting the prison camps. Tens of thousands of new prisoners are sent to the camps in constant streams each month.

The principal crimes of the people assigned to such brutality and slow, starvation deaths — are (1) faith in God and (2) dissent. They have not cooperated with the Communist tyranny.

Avraham Shifrin, who was imprisoned in Russia in 1953, was one Senate witness. He was imprisoned for dissent. When his mother and father refused to respond to orders from the Kremlin, his father was sent to a Siberian slave labor camp, where he died in his 10th year of imprisonment. Shifrin managed to survive 10 years in prison; and finally he made it out of Russia to America.

Conditions in all the prison camps, Shifrin said, are as bestial today as they ever were in the days of Joseph Stalin. He said that of the millions now suffering in the long-death agonies of Soviet imprisonment, several million were thrown into the slave labor camps because of their faith in God.

This is of course shocking but it is not unusual at all when one understands the true nature of Communism.

Why can't our high schools and colleges expose our youngsters to the shocking facts — these I have given and hundreds of others like them? It is my conviction that many of our educational institutions permit the teaching of the "good" things about Communism and prevent the teaching of the "bad" — which is the truth.

Possible Freeway Roadblock Cleared

A potential roadblock in the construction of Western Maryland's section of the National Freeway was cleared Tuesday when the House Ways and Means committee at Annapolis gave an unfavorable report to House Bill 609.

Sponsored by the Washington County delegation the bill sought to prohibit the state from building a tunnel through Sideling Hill mountain.

The state hasn't yet decided on the route for the Freeway but the Washington County officials said they wanted to be certain that a tunnel was not one of the alternatives being offered.

However, Allegany county officials were fearful that the bill might have an adverse effect on the Freeway plans, possible even causing the state to scrap the entire project.

Washington county legislators cited the high cost of building a tunnel, plus maintenance problems as the chief reasons for their opposition.

Sen. Edward J. Mason, Allegany Republican, accused the delegation of being concerned only with Washington county which he said already has its Freeway section built.

Del. Melvin S. Sloan, Allegany Republican, commented that the underpass prohibition would have hurt Allegany and Garrett counties the most. He said there is only a one and one half mile stretch in Washington county without the Freeway road.

AARP To Meet

Oakland Chapter No. 779, American Association of Retired Persons, will meet at Oakland Fire Hall March 20, at 12 noon, for a covered-dish luncheon. Mrs. Mildred Bender, president, announced that James Simms, extension 4-H agent, will give a talk on gardening.

At the last meeting the club took in twelve new members. Also, the members donated thirty seven dollars for Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sharps who lost four children in a fire recently.

Mrs. Bender is baking the ham for the luncheon. Members are to bring their covered dishes and place settings.

PTA Council To Hear School Supervisor

Robert Rodeheaver, supervisor of the county's secondary schools, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Garrett County Council of Parents and Teachers to be held Wednesday, March 20, at 7:30 p.m., at Garrett Community College, in Mcllenry.

Mr. Rodeheaver will talk on the proposed revision of principles and standards of public secondary education in Maryland, dealing with possible changes in acquiring credits for a high school diploma. Parents and the general public are invited

Creeping Nationalization

In enacting the Northeast Railroads Reorganization bill into law, Congress authorized labor featherbedding on an unprecedented scale. Ironically, the ailing railroads that the law will replace with a federal corporation have been largely "done in" by labor featherbedding practices.

The new railroad reorganization law is best described as creeping nationalization. It authorizes $1.5 billion in guaranteed loans and $558 million in grants for operating subsidies to the federal corporation set up to reorganize the Penn-Central and other bankrupt Northeast railroads into a single new system. The law also includes a provision for a quarter of a billion dollars in payments to displaced union members. These displaced unionists will receive payments of up to $30,000 per year. This is featherbedding on a kingsize scale.

Sen. James Allen (D-Ala.) has noted that a man could have been hired by one of the railroads at age 20, discharged at 25 for redundancy and enjoy federal payments for the next 40 years. Under the guise of a railroad reorganization act, union members are being rewarded with colossal, long-term subsidies. No other group of Americans is similarly compensated when their employment ceases and they have to look for new jobs.

Unquestionably, the finding of the right prescription for the Northeast railroad problem is a difficult problem. Many communities in the affected area want uneconomic rail lines to be maintained. Commuters in the Northeast corridor desire passenger services, though these commuters don't want to pay the cost of the services. The rail unions regard work on the railroads as a right or a form of guaranteed income.

The mess in the Northeast results from many decades of bureaocratic tampering with the railroad industry. So what is Congress planning to do? Provide for even greater governmental involvement, of course. There are more than a few proponents of a nationalized railroad system. But the advocates of nationalization don't spell out the cost of the services they propose. National affairs writer Charles Bartlett pointed out some time ago that nationalization "promises huge deficits like the $1.5 billion the West Germans pay annually for a system with one-tenth the trackage of this country's class-one railroads.

Johnnings Baild Satisfying Life At Hideaway Hill After "Kicking Traces"

Johenning's cut stone house provides a backdrop here for the weather gauges they must check each morning. To the left, in the white box, are the high and low thermometers. Center, in the straight can-type gadget, is the precipitation gauge, and right is the U. S. recording precipitation gauge, which punches out a recording every fifteen minutes of the prevailing moisture.

by Carol Canan
Feature Editor

Mix a lifelong dream with a healthy helping of German perseverance and you may begin to see why the life Joe and Betty Johenning lead at Hideaway Hill is truly their dream come true.

Like many people they always dreamed of a home and some land in the country, the farther in the country the better.

But few people have the stamina and just plain perseverance it takes to find that dream property, and too many get discouraged by creating hardships and give up before they attain their reality.

The two, who for years worked in the nation's Capitol came up here one October on vacation during the fall school vacation and while Congress was recessed. They very much liked the country and after a second visit to attend a Christmas tree growers' convention, decided to try to find some land suitable to fulfilling their 'dream" property requirements.

At this time, more than ten years ago, there was only one realty company located here, and nothing available there seemed to fit their hopes.

They wandered into the Hoyes area one day and by "beating the bushes" and even stopping pedestrians along the road, they found some ideal land on top of a hill.

Now the first problem lay in finding out who owned the land and the second was persuading him to sell it. The first was accomplished by stopping at every house along the road until they found the owner, Aubrey Brenneman. He told them he had never given much thought to selling his home property.

After thinking about it for a few weeks, however, and after an afternoon's conversation with the couple, he decided to sell.

Evidently Mr. Brenneman never had cause to regret that decision, and told Mr. Johenning that he was very glad to see someone fulfill some of the hopes he had had for the property. Mr. Brenneman died not long ago, after he had seen many of the changes wrought on his hilltop.

At first, the Johennings thought to raise, trim and sell the pine trees already planted on the property, but after some thought, weighing all those cons against the pros, they thought perhaps they would offer campsites for rent. At that time, there were no private camping facilities in the county.

They then began traveling up here every weekend in their converted bus-camper, living in the vehicle and working on their land, clearing away fence rows and brush, carrying away rock and debris, choosing the sites for their campers and for their house.

In the fall of 1964, they put up the basement and floor deck, and then in May the following year, they moved up here and lived that entire summer in their bus, finishing the house outside. In the succeeding years, they completed one room at a time, working patiently to get everything just the way they want.

Mrs. Johenning is the power behind the throne, providing encouragement, suggestions, and extra hands for every projtct. She and their daughter Linda put in the insulation in the entire house.

Since neither is nearly old enough to retire, they truly kicked over the traces of their old life when they moved here. In addition to offering campsites in the summer, spring and fall, Mr. Johenning set up a saw sharpening business, and recently constructed a stand from bits and pieces, including a tire from the bus, to hold larger blades.

Both the Johennings are from the Baltimore area, growing up in the same neighborhood. Mrs. Johenning is the former Betty Borcherding, also of German extraction.

Before moving here, they worked in the Capitol building in Washington, D. C., where he edited 16 mm. motion picture films of Senators who make weekly or monthly film reports for their constituents. These films, mostly paid for by the Senators themselves, are shown over television stations in the Senator's local areas.

Mrs. Johenning helped in the office for the last 15 years. During World War II, Mr. Johenning spent three years with the U.S. Army Signal Corps, doing much the same type of work, preparing training films.

Following this service, he was employed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for several years, until called back into active duty for one year during the Korean War. In 1953, he transferred to the Capitol.

After all those years working in the darkroom and editing films, Mr. Johenning maintains that he has lost interest in photography and hasn't picked up a camera since they moved here.

They are members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Accident, and are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. George (Linda) Venters, who lives just down the hill from them with her husband, who is employed at Bausch and Lomb, and their two children, Michael and Jennifer.

Hobby Happy

In addition to their work with the campsites, they follow several hobbies. In their home in Beltsville, which they built themselves following World War II, they had a greenhouse. Here they continue to be interested in flowers, indoors and out. Outside are scattered several flower beds, and most rooms indoors boast several thriving plants, from African violets to Easter lilies.

A small sawmill is also a hobby to them, where they cut wood needed around the property, and where he cut the wood to make a king-size cherry quilting frame for Mrs. Johenning, who is nearly finished a reversible quilt for a king-sized bed.

His interest in all things mechanical has continued from boyhood, and he is presently engaged in finding and repairing early gasoline engines to add to his collection. He also has an early lathe, probably manufactured about 1910 or thereabouts.

Another interest they share is in weather watching, and they were recently contacted by television station KDKA, Pittsburgh, to supply daily weather condition reports to that station, prior to Bob Kudzma's weather program.

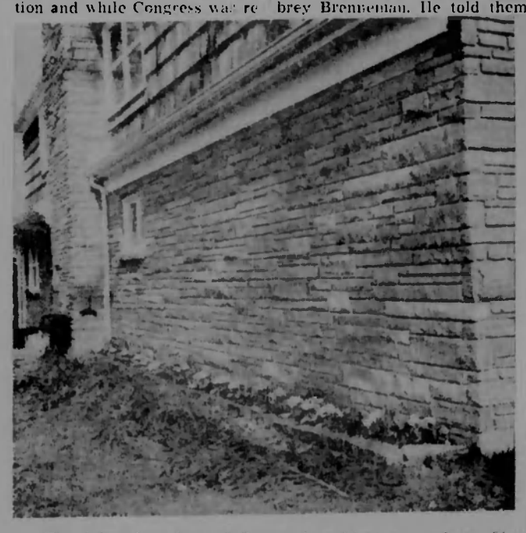
Each morning a check of their weather instruments is made and recorded, along with results of checks taken by people in Terra Alta, Oakland, and Accident. These reports are phoned daily to the Youghiogheny Dam, Confluence, and a cumulative once-a-week report is mailed to Friendship Airport in Baltimore.

Once a month they mail the findings to North Carolina for a comprehensive study in weather conditions in the east.

About the only thing they really miss here, they say, are azalea bushes, which so far have not withstood transplanting from the warmer climate of Beltsville to this county. They have hopes, however, of getting some started.

The Johennings themselves have had no such problems, however, and are happy city transplants, thoroughly adjusted to and satisfied with the life they have "dug out" for themselves here. It was certainly not easy, but it was worth it, they feel.

Quite a different view can be had from the front door of their Hideaway Hill home than could be had from their Beltsville house. Garrett County's rolling hills, interspersed with farm buildings, homes, a store and a white, tall-spired church made a calendar front-type view for the Johennings. These pines, now more than double a man's height, were scarcely waist-high when the couple bought this property.



The Johennings love of flowers is evident everywhere. Pine boughs protected these crocuses all winter, and now the plants are blooming madly in repayment. Squirrels often come to the back door and stand with their paws against the window pane when they've eaten the corn already put out for them. Many birds feed in the several feeders around the backyard. Down a small hill from the far end of the house is located the bathhouse and the snack shop they operate for campers. The bathhouse boasts a small laundromat, a thoughtful gesture toward their guests on the part of the Hideaway Hill owners.

Firemen Are Called

Oakland firemen were called to Bradley Manor area, at the west edge of Oakland, on Saturday afternoon about 1:30, as the result of a grass fire. The flames were out on arrival of the department. There was no damage.

Girl Scouts Observe 62nd Anniversary

Girl Scouts of the area are observing the 62nd anniversary of its existence during Girl Scout week, March 10-16. The organization has grown from 18 members in 1912 to nearly a million girls and adults today.

Elizabeth M. Golladay, community relations director of the Shawnee Girl Scout council, Inc., of Martinsburg, W. Va, pointed out that the girl scouting program embodied the positive side of living.

"The character of an organization, like that of a community is expressed in the individuals who compose it." She continued: "Perhaps it is noteworthy that the young people and adults who make up Girl Scouting subscribe to a 'promise and law' that contains the phrases: 'I will try,' and 'I will do my best.' "

She emphasized that one secret of their durability was having fun while being doers. Local troops attended church in groups on Girl Scout Sunday and prepared window displays in a number of stores.

and
CHRISTIAN RESPONSIBILITY
... AS I UNDERSTAND IT.
By
Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

There is a question in the Bible I would like to call to your attention today; it is found in Mark 10:17, one came to Jesus and asked what he could do to gain Eternal Life? People are still asking, "What must I do to be saved?" The Bible provides a clear answer. Here are six scriptural steps which all must take to pass from death unto life:

1. ACKNOWLEDGE: "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). "God be merciful to me a sinner" (Luke 18:13). You must acknowledge in the light of God's Word that you are a sinner.

2. REPENT: "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3). "Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may blotted out" (Acts 3:19). You must see the awfulness of sin and then repent of it.

3. CONFESS: "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness" (1 John 1:9). "With the mouth confession is made unto salvation" (Romans 10:10); Confess not to men but to God.

4. FORSAKE: "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord ... for he will abundantly pardon" (Isaiah 55:7). Sorrow for sin is not enough in itself. We must want to be done with it once and for all.

5. BELIEVE: "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16). "If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved" (Romans 10:9). "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned" (Mark 16:16). Believe in the finished work of Christ on the cross.

6. RECEIVE: "He came unto his own, and his own received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name" (John 1:11, 12). Christ must be received personally into the heart by faith, if the experience of the New Birth is to be yours; see Rev. 3:20.

Why not MAKE YOUR ETERNAL DEIISION RIGHT NOH; when you have made this greatest of all decisions, please let us know about it so that we may rejoice with you.
Why not attend the Revival at the Full Gospel Church in Deer Park every morning this week at 7:00 and Sunday Morning, Sunday School at 9:45, Morning Worship at 11:00. PLEASE REMEMBER, THERE IS ONLY ONE LIFE, WILL SOON BE PASSED AND ONLY WHAT'S DONE FOR CHRIST WILL LAST.

Free Shrubs Given For Food Cover

Free shrubs to provide food and cover for most varieties of wildlife are being made available to landowners in Maryland under a Department of Natural Resources program.

Two DNR agencies, the Wildlife Administration and the Forest Service, have joined in the effort in cooperation with the Maryland Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Aim of the effort is to help alleviate the growing problem of loss of wildlife habitat in the state.

The wildlife shrubs are availble to all property owners in the state free of charge but with necessary restrictions.

There are two types of shrub packets available the DNR said.

The Rural Pac kit is limited to landowners who own one acre or more and consists of three bush honeysuckles, three autumn olives, three dogwood, one saw tooth oak, 2 crab apples and five Scotch pines.

The Urban Packet, designed for lots of less than an acre, consists of two hush honeysuckles, two autumn olives and two dogwood.

Bulk quantities are available to landowners under certain conditions who have an approved conservation plan for their property. Such a plan can be drawn up by the Wildlife Administration or Soil Conservation District.

In addition, composition and numbers of shrubs can be altered for special projects such as garden clubs or school projects.

The shrubs were grown by the Forest Service at the State tree nursery.

Among the distribution centers are: Mt. Nebo Wildlife Management area, north of Oakland, along U.S. Rt. 219; Billmeyer Wildlife Management area east of Flintstone, Allegany county; DNR regional service center, Naves Crossroads, Cumberland. Harold Harman is in charge of the Mt. Nebo station.

Heading other committees: Housing, Betty Wildesen and Rich Wildesen, Swanton, Beverly Lipscomb, Bloomington; coffee hostess, Sharon Lohr, Swanton, Dessy Welsh, Bloomington; food, Freda Teets, Georgia Pangh, Mareva Teets, Swanton Lillian Fazenbaker, Francis Green, Carol Riley, Bloomington.

Many commonly-used household products and medicines found in your home maintain health and ease household chores . . .

BUT they are also swallowed by thousands of young children each year with harmful and sometimes fatal results. These accidents occur suddenly, catching parents off-guard.

PLAN TO STOP POISONINGS— PREPARE FOR THE UNEXPECTED

Use child-resistant packaging and close it properly after use.

In addition, lock up hazardous household substances out of sight and reach of children.

He's escaped the fate of an egg—but what has the chick got to look forward to? The technology that incubated him in twenty-one days now carries him relentlessly toward the roaster.

We, too, often seem trapped on a similar conveyer belt, caught in a cadence which carries us step by step through life. The carefree days of childhood swiftly wane once schooling begins. Then come jobs, marriage, family, a home.

The list—and the responsibilities of mature life—seems endless. No wonder we long to escape—to "get away from it all."

Yet such daydreams little help us to cope with life today. God's love and wisdom give us the guidance and solace we need. His Church—the church down the street—stands ready to meet our needs.

LYING TO GOD

Lesson for March 17, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 5:1 through 6:7.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 24:3-6.

People often miss the point of the sin of Annanias and Sapphira. They wrongly assume that these twn people are condemned because of their failure to give to God all the receipts from their sale of a field. Acts tells us that Sapphira "kept back some of the proceeds, and brought only a part and laid it at the apostles' feet" (5:2).

Rev. Althouse

Did it not remain your own?

But these two people erred, not in holding back, because their gift was a free-will offering; nothing had been asked of them. It was theirs to do with as they pleased. Peter says to them:

> While it remained unsold, did it not remain your own? And after it was sold, was it not at your disposal? (Acts 5:4)

Peter is pointing out that no one had compelled them to sell the property and no one had requested that they give all or a portion of the sale price to the church. This is still pretty much the way it is with us today. What we return to God for his work is something that we can freely and voluntarily determine. We, alone, determine where our money will go.

What, then, was the reason for their condemnation?

Luke tells us clearly. Annanias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit . . ?" (5:3). And later, he says again "You have not lied to men but to God" (5:4).

How had they lied?

They had attempted to lie to God by pretending to give everything while holding back a portion. In a sense, we might say that they attempted to "have their cake and eat it too." They wanted people to think that they had given everything and at the same time they were actually keeping back a part of it.

Lying to God

It was thus their attempt, then, to deceive their fellow Christians that got them into difficulty. This is still a relevant concern for we sometimes do pretty much what Annanias and Sapphira did: we pretend that what we give of ourselves is all that there is to give. If it's a matter of money, we say that our giving is all we can afford. If it is a matter of time, we say we don't have enough time to do anything more.

While we are mouthing these familiar excuses, God knows that we are not telling the truth. He knows that we could give more of our time, talent, and possessions. Thus, though we think we are simply deceiving other people, Luke makes it clear that it is really God to whom we have been lying. "You have not lied to men but to God" (5:4).

God does not compel us to give certain amounts of ourselves. But when we have freely chosen to give God but a portion of our lives, let us not seek to lie to God in pretending we have given all we can.

Some of these medicines are identical, some differ slightly in chemical structure and many are combinations of drugs. But, one thing is for sure, that your physician and pharmacist have to keep up with a tremendous number of products that are available to help fight illness.
And, each drug product has an identity all its own. The place it is stored, the container that it is kept in, how long it remains potent, its relation to other medicines, how it must be handled, regulations guiding its use and many other factors. Being your family pharmacist is a full-time job.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

I have never before written a letter To the Editor, but recent developments in the media coupled with the unfortunate publicity given to the latest craze on college campuses have provoked me to write this letter. At the very least I would hope that others who feel as I do would express their opinions in a similar way. Since our tax dollars are involved, I feel that if we are opposed to the sort of things which this letter refers, then we should let those people responsible for the spending of those dollars know how we feel.

Frostburg State College students will be presenting, this month, "HAIR", a love-rock musical. This is not all that they will be presenting." In my opinion this is neither educational nor cultural. A better description would be "immoral". If this sort of thing represents the moral and cultural standards of the community, then I am glad that I am not a resident. However, it seems that this cancer can is permeating the nation and has even reached Garrett County. Our Community College is presenting a "comedy" entitled "Three Cuckolds." THIS IS COMEDY.

The Constitution guarantees freedom as defined therein. Thank God for the Constitution! But I am afraid that what we term "freedom" is in reality "license" (licentiousness). The words of Isaiah are true today, "evil is called good, and good is evil". However, God is not mocked with impunity. This nation must either repent or prepare for judgment.

The current campus craze and all that goes to make up the present day obsession with immorality is a sad commentary on the apparent lack of moral standards of the general public. The news media presents that which will sell. Are you buying and are you happy with their offerings?

Respectfully,
R K Hall

Sir

In regard to W H Leake's letters in The Republican, I would like to say A Christian's responsibility is to pray for the rulers of our Country and not to tear them apart. Why not tell some of the good things President Nixon has done?

I wonder if Mr Leake ever heard the song "Don't Bite The Hand That's Feeding You." If not I have a copy here he wants to read it over.

I think a minister's job is to preach the Word and not dabble in politics.

Sincerely,
Ruth Upperman

Dear Sir

Mrs. Oester didn't say in which Amish community she grew up. I feel sure it wasn't local. Some Amish groups are allowed to have cars but that is neither here nor there because Ruth Snyder's letter was concerned with the local Amish, of which none has cars, nor musical instruments.

Amish senior citizens are happy, well cared for by their children and not the state. Some others, non-Amish, are cared for by the state. Is that what Mr. Oester means by caring for them in their own way?

There are many people in this county on welfare rolls. Someone has to pay this tax load. It is the honest hard working, decent, in other words, the backbone of the county that has to support the non-workers.

What will the next generation of welfarers do when the taxpayers have gone to their eternal rest? Then who will support the bus system, senior citizens, welfare, green thumb and the other many "free" programs on county and state level, the food stamps guaranteed income and the many other "free" programs on the federal level?

A Fair Shake for Veterans

The President's declaration of March 29 as Vietnam Veterans Day is a tribute to the hundreds of thousands of Americans who served in Indochina during the past decade.

Of more immediate concern to many of them, however, including hundreds in Maryland, are the difficulties they are experiencing trying to obtain, and live from, the educational benefits to which they are entitled.

Veterans attending colleges in Maryland have written to me to complain that benefits they expected late last year from the Veterans Administration had not arrived before the beginning of the second semester this year. In most cases, the colleges have been understanding but it is not fair to ask them or the veterans to bear the burden of administrative foul-ups by the Veterans Administration.

I asked Senator William Proxmire of Wisconsin, Chairman of the Senate Veterans Appropriations Subcommittee, to investigate the problems that have caused the delays in benefits before the next VA budget is approved. Senator Proxmire told me he would be delighted to work with me on an exploration of this situation. VA budget hearings are due to take place shortly.

Meanwhile, I am continuing efforts to put present day educational benefits for veterans on an equal basis with those provided G.I.s who served in World War II. I am pleased that 37 Senators have become co-sponsors of legislation I co-authored to accomplish this—the Vietnam Era Veterans Educational Benefits Act. The American Legion also supports the concept of the bill.

I also am cosponsoring a measure to provide that veterans' pensions and compensation will not be reduced as a result of increases in Social Security benefits. This bill has been introduced by Senator Joseph Montoya, of New Mexico.

The Vietnam veterans who fought a controversial and unpopular war, should not be denied the opportunity to catch up to their contemporaries in terms of education and earning power. They deserve a fair shake, and the observance of Vietnam Veterans Day will be all the more meaningful if they get it.

Did you ever stop to think that someday all this "free" stuff will catch up with everyone of the participants in the form of no one to pay for it? I believe it's worth a thought.

A birthday memory to my daddy, father-in-law, and grandfather, W. E. Miller, who would have been 90 on March 12.

Dearest Daddy:

So dear daddy, I'll just say I love you.

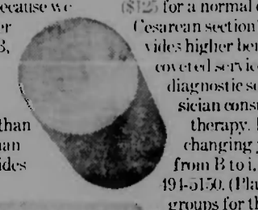
Does i have a plan for you!



"i" is our newest Blue Shield plan for protection against the cost of medical and surgical care. It was developed because we feel many people wanted a higher level of coverage than our Plan B, but less than our Plan C.

So here it is. Blue Shield Plan i. It's the in-between plan.

Plan i's benefits are higher than Plan B, and yet less expensive than our Plan C program (which provides full coverage for the physician's usual charges).

For instance, Plan i offers a higher level of coverage than Plan B, in accordance with an established fee schedule, for a single surgical procedure (up to $800), anesthesia (up to $230), and obstetrical benefits ($125 for a normal delivery, $575 for a Cesarean section). The program also provides higher benefits for all other coveted services including X-rays, diagnostic services, inpatient physician consultations and radiation therapy. If you are interested in changing your group's program from B to i, call Blue Shield at 194-5150. (Plan i is available only to groups for the time being.)

Your health is what we're all about.

NOW YOU SEE IT...NOW YOU DON'T

But pay as though you did?

We don't believe advertisers should have to play guessing games with circulation figures. The facts are too important to the effectiveness of their sales messages and the cost of advertising space.

To eliminate the element of chance, our facts and figures are audited and verified by the Audit Bureau of Circulations. Through an audit report, ABC tells us and our advertisers exactly how much circulation we have, where it is distributed, what readers pay, and the answers to many other questions about our circulation audience.

Don't guess—ask to see a copy of our latest audit report. Be ABC-sure!

TOTAL PAID CIRCULATION — 8,701 COPIES

As a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, our circulation records and practices are subject to the scrutiny of regular field audits and the discipline of ABC-determined standards.

Counties Organize For Bicentennial

Twenty-three counties and Baltimore City are gearing up for the Nation's 200th anniversary.

Miss Louise Gore, Chairman of the Maryland Bicentennial Commission said that many of the local bicentennial programs will be of permanent benefit to Maryland, such as historic preservation projects and Revolutionary era research.

Baltimore City activities include ethnic festivals and a Black History and Cultural Pavilion, which will be moved to various parts of the city. Preservation of the Fells Point seaport area is underway.

Completion of the William Paca House and gardens, restoration of five historic Annapolis buildings and an interpretation center illustrating 1776-86 events are but some of the Historic Annapolis, Inc., major Bicentennial projects. Anne Arundel County will undertake rehabilitation of blighted urban areas and attempt to place all utility lines underground where feasible

Southern Maryland has an Independence Park camping project and a visitor information center at the Port Tobacco Courthouse. The St. Mary's City Commission, with the assistance of the Maryland Bicentennial Commission, has recently published "Maryland's Revolution of Government (16-89192") by Carr and Jordan and Stein's "History of Calvert County" is being updated.

Commemoration of the Chestertown Tea Party, the Verrazzano Festival, the Talbot Resolves and a Caroline County Founder's Day celebration on March 21, 1974 are examples of Bicentennial plans on the Eastern Shore.

Western Maryland is currently coordinating a tri-county Bicentennial Trail.

Miss Gore said many additional projects are proposed and active participation of all volunteers at the county level is encouraged.

B. O. Aiken and William Robinson are co-chairmen of the county committee.

Several Accidents Are Injury-Free

Several accidents the first part of the month were apparently injury-free. One car was called a total loss. Three mishaps involved parked cars.

A truck of the Bauer Lumber Co. driven by Steven D. Bigler, Mt. Lake Park, was called a total loss following a one-vehicle mishap on the Fingerboard road near Tomar Drive near noon last Friday.

Bigler was headed east and upon entering a slight curve, ran off the right side of the road. Bigler then oversteered and the truck recrossed the road and struck a tree off the left side of the road.

Tfc. L. R. Rosage charged Bigler with having no valid license.

The car of Donna D. Fleetwood, Silver Spring, was parked on Lake View Drive near the Sang Run road, partially on the roadway, the evening of March 2.

George B. Glotfelty was traveling south and hit the Fleetwood car. Glotfelty was charged by Tfc. G. D. Broadwater with excessive speed for conditions and Donna Fleetwood was charged with improper parking.

The car of Donna Lee Shaller, Mt. Lake Park, was parked, unoccupied, on Powhatan street near Shenandoah Avenue in Loch Lynn early last Friday morning. Donald E. Dintaman, Mt. Lake Park, made a right turn from Shenandoah into Powhatan and struck the Shaffer car. Tpr. C. H. Hinnant investigated the mishap.

The car of Harry A. Mallon, Cumberland, was parked on Wheeling Avenue just east of L street, in Mt. Lake Park early the morning of March 3. Robert O. Weeks, traveling west, failed to note the Mallon car and hit it. Tpr. Hinnant investigated this accident also.

Vernon E. Uphold, RD 1, in Friendsville was parked next to a vehicle perpendicular to Lake View Drive the evening of March 1. Uphold's view was obstructed by a vehicle next to him and slowly proceeded to pull out and was struck by a car driven by Doris Opel, RD 1, Accident. Tpr. Rosage made no charges.

Noah G. Playger, Petersburg, W. Va., was traveling north on U.S. Rt. 219 early last Thursday morning in a pickup when a deer ran onto the roadway. Playger was unable to avoid hitting the animal and threw it to the shoulder of the road. Tpr. Hinnant investigated.

The paper industry has been exempted from wage-price controls.

Credibility? . . .

In these days of alleged credibility gaps in government it is high time to call attention to some wide credibility gaps in the reporting on the CBS television network, principally by Dan Rather and Walter Cronkite.

There has been a belief for some time now that about all the networks are "out to get" President Nixon, endeavoring to portray him in a most unfavorable light.

This was emphasized Sunday evening by news commentator Dan Rather. Prior to the broadcast President Nixon had been in Chicago for St. Patrick's day observance and held a news conference. He was told that many people of Illinois had a deep love for him, and the President then said he believed such a feeling ought to be conveyed to Illinois' U.S. Senator. He of course meant Senator Percy who had spoken recently in opposition to President Nixon. The president added a number of complimentary things about Senator Percy. In Rather's broadcast Sunday evening he declared the President had "lashed out" at Senator Percy and continued to belittle the president's remarks. Dan Rather should "tell it like it is."

In recent television exposure to the truckers' strike in Garrett county and its effect, Walter Cronkite presented a distorted picture of the county, making it appear that the highway between Oakland and Accident was a "no man's land." The networks had many feet of film on conditions here but deleted all the normal, and fed only the sensational and outlandish to the public. Here again they didn't "tell it like it is."

Another case of TV presentation by ABC network concerned West Virginia's governor Moore. A UPI report out of Charleston on Sunday declared that the network "might have been fairer to Gov. Moore in the gasoline 'quarter tank' ruling."

The television networks certainly have no right to talk about "credibility." They seem to be noticeably lacking in that attribute. They could make a greater effort to give the facts and let the people decide.

Schools To Operate Until June 18th

The County Board of Education decided to complete the 180-school day requirement by extending school through Tuesday, June 18, at a regular meeting of the board last Thursday.

June 18 would be the final day for students, providing no additional snow days are missed or because of other emergencies. Prior to taking this action, Dr. William H. Buser, county superintendent, reported that it was illegal to hold school on Saturdays, Memorial Day, Good Friday, or Easter Monday.

He did recommend that the next to the last day of school be a half-day for students and a full day for teachers, which would complete the required 180 days one day earlier.

Adopt New Calendar

The Board also adopted the school calendar for the 1974-75 school year. The calendar calls for schools to open for students on Tuesday, September 3, and conclude on Thursday, June 12, 1975. The calendar provides for 184 student days, 4 of which could be used if necessary for snow days or other emergencies.

This calendar, as required by law, closes schools on primary election day, Tuesday, September 10, and general election day, Tuesday, November 5.

Bonnie Tolbert Is Town's Meter Maid

Oakland now boasts a new - and decorative - employe who makes the rounds of all parking meters several times each day, and places tickets on overparked cars.

Bonnie Tolbert, Deep Creek, is the town's meter maid, beginning her duties last Friday. Since she is new to this type of job and the town has never before employed a "meter maid" she feels that the two of them are trying it together.

Ms. Tolbert is formerly from this county, although she has traveled widely around the United States with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Clemens, who own and operate Deep Creek Exxon near the lake. Before taking the job with the corporation of Oakland, she helped her parents operate their service station-grocery combination.

After her high school graduation from a school in California, Ms. Tolbert joined the U.S. Marine Corps and worked in clerical departments until her discharge.

She has two children, a daughter Susan 12, and a son, Bo, 11. In her spare time she enjoys reading and likes to walk.

Now she combines both hobbies in her job - - walking a beat and reading all those expired meters!

To Provide Course On Yards, Gardens

The Community Service Division of Garrett Community College, at McHenry, is offering a Horticulture Program to assist in maintaining a yard and garden. It makes no difference whether a big or small yard, a big or small garden. The course will begin Tuesday, April 2, from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. at the college and will continue for eight weeks. James W. Simms, county 4-H agent, will conduct the course, instructing homeowners on the selection of plants, planting methods, proper nutrition, soil testing, insect identification and control, lawn maintenance and pruning ornamental plants and fruit trees.

It was felt that, at a time of rising food prices, many people who have never planted a vegetable garden will want to do so. Mr. Simms will cover in the horticulture program vegetable gardening, seed selection, and planting dates, plant culture, disease and insect control. Registration will take place the first and second sessions of the course with the registration fee being $5.00.

YOUR GUESS IS AS GOOD AS ANYONE'S—No one seems able to figure out how this old pitchfork could have remained encased in this large white oak on the property of Eugene Friend, Loch Lynn, without a trace of the implement showing outside. Mr. Friend discovered "something extra" in the tree only when he cut it down Monday, March 11. In a cavity about ground level, he found this rusty pitchfork, minus handle and one of its three prongs. The discovery has puzzled the neighborhood as to how the tree could have grown around such an object. Maybe, as one neighbor jokingly suggests, the devil did it. Mr. Friend is an employe of Craig Motor Service Company, Oakland. He and his wife, the former Iris Stein, have two daughters, Carolyn and Linda.

To Review Plans Of 2 New Schools

Following a third major review of plans and design for the Broadford Elementary and Southern Middle Schools the County Board of Education, at its meeting last Thursday, March 14, approved their presentation to the Interagency School Construction committee.

The plans are expected to be approved and bids submitted in April, according to Dr. William H. Buser, county superintendent of schools. He said several bid options would be available to contractors and the bid specifications would be made available to interested contractors in Maryland, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The Board of Education also approved the purchase of an IBM 3, model 6 machine to replace the older payroll and financial accounting method. The board instructed the superintendent to complete two purchase options with the IBM corporation, the options to include purchase over from one to six years.

In other action the board adopted a policy requiring a procedure for excusing students from school for school-approved activities.

The board also spent several hours reviewing the budget request for fiscal 1975 with the superintendent and staff.

William M. Goldsborough, president, reminded the board of the hearing to be held in Baltimore in April on the proposed revisions of the high school standards. These revisions, if adopted by the Maryland State Board of Education, would require a total of 20 credits for graduation. He explained of the 20 credits, 10 would be mandated by the state, 2 could be required by the county, and the remainder would be elected by the student.

Kisselovich Is Given Ten-Year Sentence Friday

Joseph Ray Kisselovich was sentenced last Friday by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., to ten years in the penitentiary. A new trial was denied Robert Kemp.

Kisselovich had pleaded guilty of two counts in Circuit Court before Judge Hamill on March 6. He pleaded guilty on one of two counts of breaking into a storehouse and one count of grand larceny. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

As the result of the investigation, Kisselovich, last Friday, was sentenced to the Commissioner of Correction at the Maryland penitentiary for ten years on each count to which he pleaded guilty. The 10-year sentences are to run concurrently.

Judge Hamill also ordered Kisselovich transferred to Patuxent Institute to determine whether or not he is a defective delinquent. Sentence is to commence as of December 16, 1973.

A motion for a new trial for Robert D. Kemp convicted on burglary, larceny and destruction of property charges, was made last Friday but Judge Hamill denied the motion.

Kisselovich and Kemp were both taken to Baltimore Tuesday by two deputies of the Sheriff's department, to be delivered to the Commissioner of Correction there.

Law Enforcement Group Gets $10.2 Anti-Crime Funds

The Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice announced that Maryland has been awarded $10.2 million in federal anti-crime funds for 1974.

The funds, made available through the federal crime control act, will be allocated by the governor's commission for projects aimed at reducing crime and improving the criminal justice system.

Of the $10.2 million available, $1,075,000 is for special Part E corrections funds, allocated for development of community correctional facilities and other community-based adult and juvenile offender programs.

The remaining $9.1 million will be allocated to units of local government and state agencies for projects in all areas of the criminal justice system - police, courts, corrections and juvenile delinquency prevention and control.

Mt. Lake Girl Hospitalized By Sunday Accident

A Mt. Lake Park girl was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital Sunday afternoon following a one-car mishap. Snowy road surface was the probable cause.

Vicki Martin, 16, was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday afternoon.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Michael O. Frazee, RD 1, Oakland, who was driving west on Glendale road near North Glade road. As the car entered a slight curve, the operator lost control on the snowy surface. The car crossed the road and hit a tree off the left side of the roadway.

The L. R. Rouse made no charges.

Paul Allen Will Speak to Civic Club

Guest speaker at the meeting Tuesday, March 26, of the Oakland Civic Club will be Paul Allen, director of the Maryland Environmental Trust.

Mr. Allen will first be a guest at the luncheon meeting for club members. The luncheon will begin at 12:15 p.m. at the K of P Hall, Oakland.

Mr. Allen's presentation, which will be open to the public, will begin at 1:15. His topic will center on some of the contrary pressures now being exerted on efforts to improve environmental quality, and on energy-environment problems in the state.

Mr. Allen, 1970 graduate of Johns Hopkins University, was previously editor of the Metropolitan Research Project for the Citizens Commission on Maryland Government. He is a graduate of New York University Law School.

Winter Holds On To Last, As Spring Now Takes Over

Winter held on to the last with cold temperatures and some snow late Saturday and early Sunday. Spring began, officially, last evening with somewhat milder mercury readings and mostly clearer skies.

Clear skies of last Thursday gave way to cloudy skies Friday. Saturday's high mercury reading was in the morning. Job saver.

A six degree turndown. The Federal Energy Office has requested that we set our home heat thermostats six degrees lower than last winter. This will save natural gas and money.

But more than that, such gas conservation is needed to help provide natural gas for industry this winter and so avoid unemployment and business closings. In many cases, gas is the essential energy source for industrial users; without it production stops and employment suffers.

That's why it's so vital to conserve natural gas in your home.

You can conserve gas by keeping your thermostat set six degrees lower. Also seal off places where warm air can escape by caulking around windows and applying weatherstripping and adequate attic insulation. In short, treat natural gas like a precious natural resource. Because that's what it is.

Save energy and money . . . and jobs.

State To Observe Arbor Day April 3

Maryland will celebrate Arbor Day this year on April 3. This year will mark the 102nd annual observance of this day in the Nation when tree planting and tree care is uppermost in the minds of people who cherish their environmental heritage.

Governor Marvin Mandel in his 1974 Arbor Day Proclamation stresses the many values of trees, truly renewable and recyclable resources which provide timber for industry, habitat for fish and wildlife, watershed protection, clean air, improved water quality and healthful recreation.

The Governor also refers to the Free State's ambitious ten-year program for planting 96,000,000 trees in which many conservation organizations and civic groups are cooperating fully with the Maryland Forest Service.

School systems throughout the State will conduct appropriate ceremonies attending the planting of trees to beautify their surroundings and provide valuable environmental education for the students.

Public channels of communication, both visual and audial, will give considerable attention to these activities in order to cultivate a greater appreciation of tree resources by all people throughout the State.

WHO NEEDS A FAMILY?

Ever wonder why "women's lib" has been blown up in the media? Many uninformed liberals are pushing for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA), which provides that "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the U. S. or any State on account of sex." It sounds innocent enough, but consider some of the legal consequences.

1. Women will be subject to the military draft.
2. Practically all family law in the U. S. will be nullified, because most of it necessarily discriminates between sexes.
3. Laws against rape and penalties for a man beating a woman will be nullified.
4. It will be illegal to have "separate but equal" toilet facilities in public schools.
5. Men and women may share the same dorms in colleges, schools, military services and prisons.

Under the ERA a husband can legally force his wife to contribute half the family budget. If she can't work and care for minor children a federal court order may require her to send them to a tax-supported, federally controlled day-care center!

33 States have ratified the ERA, including Maryland. If you don't write your delegate to the State Legislature urging him to rescind ratification of the ERA, you are casting one vote in favor of abolishing the family unit in our society.

Sorry this ad is so brusque and incomplete (See the March 13 issue of "Review of the News" for a more thorough treatment.) But no apologies for the unpopular views put forth in this series. -- Beware of the majority when poisoned with misinformation, for collective ignorance does not become wisdom.

Results, Byron Questionnaire, Are Released To Public

Results of the death penalty, foreign aid cuts and a federal spending ceiling questionnaire sent to residents of the 6th Congressional District, which includes Garrett County, by Rep. Goodloe Byron, have been released.

Over 7,000 responses to the questionnaire were received.

Over 84 percent of respondents from Central and Western Maryland favored capital punishment for certain crimes of violence with opinions favoring foreign aid cut 67.5 percent. A Federal ceiling of $74 billion and troop cuts in Europe were not far behind.

On the question of whether Congress has delegated too many decision making powers to the Executive Branch of government, 68 percent responded in the affirmative.

In other areas, 57 percent of the citizens think less severe environmental controls will be necessary in order to make more fuel oil and gasoline available to meet the energy crisis.

In the two closest tabulations respondents favored continuation of wage and price controls 55 to 45 percent and favored expansion of trade exchanges with China and the Soviet Union 60 to 40.

With regard to Federal campaign reform, 82 percent favored a ceiling on overall spending, beating the one 80 percent favored public financing and public financing of elections.

On the open-ended question concerning the energy crisis, Byron said he received a diversified response from constituents ranging from that the energy situation was the result of the Federal government's failure to act, to specific proposals asked only 6 percent of the respondents indicated that oil should be imposed as a solution to the crisis.

Byron said the final question, "What is your opinion of Watergate and the actions of the President," elicited more responses than any other question and could not be tabulated until after the election. Asked if they favored impeachment, Byron responded by saying that 51 percent of the respondents felt the subject should be taken before the people.

Other questions on Watergate responses were "waste of time and money," "the President is innocent," "the President should resign," "the special prosecutor should be dismissed," "the President hadn't," and "Congress should get on with other business."

Correct counting procedure in the questionnaire is given with percentages of "yes," "no," and "undecided."

Costing of federal dollars spent in Europe, [illegible] percent of respondents indicated [illegible] percent favored [illegible] and 79.7 favored continuation of wage and price controls. [illegible] 25.7 favored [illegible] before [illegible] penalty, 66.8 favored expansion of trade with China and Soviet Union, 89.50 favored spending limitation on federal campaigns, 87 favored public financing of elections, [illegible] of the two approaches.

$33,300 Granted For Park

The Mayor and Town Council, along with Marshall Rickert from the Garrett County Planning Commission, met with interested citizens of Grantsville on the Grantsville Zoning Ordinance. The meeting was presided over by the Mayor, Donald Swanger.

A map and plans for the town were submitted and discussed by Mr. Rickert, who also reported that on that morning, March 13, Grantsville was granted $33,300 from the state for a town park.

The new park will be purchased from Robert H. Speicher and David L. Broadwater on land on the north side of Miller Street in the north central part of town. Miller Street is under construction now and will connect with Springs Road. The funds approved by the board represent 100 percent of the land cost.

Money paid to the town for the old park has been set aside for the development of the park. A small fishing pond for the children also may be included in the park. Other plans were discussed and questions answered.

The Grantsville Comprehensive Plan was adopted by the Mayor and Town Council of Grantsville in January. Building lots and proposals have been planned for. Fire code laws were suggested. The next meeting of the town council will be April 1, at the fire hall.

Lunar Phase

Early Sunday morning at fifteen minutes past midnight the moon will be in line with the earth and the sun. It will be between these celestial bodies. This configuration is called a New Moon. Monday evening and several evenings following the moon will reflect light from the earth. This light is called earthshine. It enables us to see the entire disk of the moon even through the sunlit portion we see is a crescent. Moonset ranges from 5:37 p.m this evening to 10:57 p.m. next Tuesday evening.

The WIC program is administered by the Department of Agriculture's food and nutrition service, which provides cash grants to make supplemental foods available to pregnant and lactating women and to infants and children up to four years of age.

The project is aimed at providing nutritional care to those residents in the approved project area who are determined by medical personnel of the local agency to be in need of supplemental food, and also medical treatment at reduced cost from the local health agency for those who are eligible.

State Basketball Winners Listed

Hagerstown and Frederick were among teams winning state berths in the basketball finals over the weekend. Frederick had won from Southern earlier in a district battle.

Gwynn Park continued its streak of championships. Annapolis and South Hagerstown won for the first time and Frederick claimed her title following a string of near misses in the 25th annual Maryland State High School basketball tournament Saturday.

Annapolis rallied to defeat Parkville 69 to 61 in the class AA game. Frederick, which had won twice before but had failed on its last five trips to College Park, edged Wilde Lake 54 to 53 in class B. Unbeaten South Hagerstown topped Bethesda-Chevy Chase 83 to 70 in class A, and Gwynn Park nailed down its fifth title in seven years with a 70-65 triumph over Pocomoke in class C.

Two Minor Accidents Occur Recently

Two minor accidents occurred recently in which there were no apparent injuries. One was on U.S. Route 40 and the other on the Sang Run road.

Virginia J. Bernard, RD 1, Oakland, was traveling north on the Oakland-Sang Run road about a mile and a half south of Bray School road last Thursday afternoon. She switched on her left turn signal and started to make a left turn into a private drive. Mary Ellen Werdebaugh, RD 1, Oakland, failed to notice the signal, started to pass and collided with the Bernard car. Tpr. C. H. Hannant charged Mary Werdebaugh with passing when unsafe.

James V. Testa, Fairmont, W. Va., was traveling east on Route 40 the afternoon of March 9, west of Zelmer road. Testa said he was throwing a cigarette out the window, pulled the steering wheel to the right and ran into an embankment. Tpr. D. E. Tharp made no charges.

Two additional weekend accidents were noted.

Michael V. Fulmer, Mt. Lake Park, and Keval K. Kohli, of Star Route 1, Oakland, were both traveling south on U.S. Route 219 just south of Oakland Sunday evening. Fulmer attempted to pass several vehicles. At the same time Kohli attempted to make a left turn into old Rt. 219. Fulmer hit Kohli in the left side. Trooper J. E. Foley charged Fulmer with passing when not safe.

George V. Kuzmiller, of Elk Garden, was traveling north on State Route 550 near the Wayne Harvey road late Saturday evening. At that time a deer ran onto the roadway in front of the Kuzmiller car and was hit by it.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

CONQUERING DEATH

Lesson for March 24, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 6:8 through 8:3.
Devotional Reading: Matthew 16:21-26.

A British theologian, L. P. Jacks, has written: "Most of us die of something: of disease, accident, old age. But occasionally there appears in our midst a man who resolves to die for some thing."

Rev. Althouse

Such a man, of course, was Jesus Christ. In his death he showed all of us how to die as victors rather than victims. Christianity, says theologian Jacks, "came into being as a death-conquering religion. It centered in the figure of a death-conqueror."

Jesus Christ was a death-conqueror and he also calls us to be death conquerors too.

To die like Christ

Some people object, however, that it was one thing for Jesus to conquer death and something else for mortal men to do the same thing. That is why the story of Stephen is so important, for this "mortal man" was a death-conqueror too.

For one thing, Stephen was a man of faith. We see this faith demonstrated in the "great wonders and signs" he performed "among the people" (Acts 6:8). We find it once again in the powerful witness he gives to the Hellenists. Luke tells us, ". . . they could not withstand the wisdom and the Spirit with which he spoke." We see it again in his fearless rebuke of the Sanhedrin, "You stiff-necked people . . . you always resist the Holy Spirit . . ." (7:51).

The greatest evidence of his faith, however, is found in his death. His final prayer reminds us of his Master: "Lord Jesus, receive my Spirit" (7:59). He believed himself to be firmly in God's hands and therefore did not fear death. Stephen did not ask for escape; he asked only to be in God's hands.

More than courage

Yet, there is more to say about Stephen than that he was a man of faithful courage. Luke said that Stephen was "full of grace and power" (6:8). We have already noted his power, but his grace we find manifested in the second petition of his prayer. "Lord, do not hold this sin against them" (7:60).

If we are to be death-conquerors like Jesus and Stephen, we must have gracious love in addition to courageous faith. Jesus did not die with a complaint on his lips, nor did he curse his enemies.

Count von Moltke, one of the plotters against Hitler, has given us a contemporary illustration. Although this man was horribly tortured, he was both courageous and full of love. In his last letter to his wife, he says: "How good God has been to me! I must risk sounding hysterical, but I'm so filled with gratitude that there's really room for nothing else."

With that courageous faith and gracious love, we too, like von Moltke, Stephen, and Jesus can be death's victors rather than its victims.

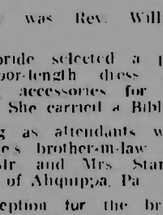
REGIONAL GOVERNMENT ... BLUEPRINT FOR DICTATORSHIP



By Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

Please read the following appraisal of Regional Government by Mark Lockman; then determine by the grace of God and with His help, you will do all you can for the cause of Freedom . . .

"Most Americans are unaware of the Silent Revolution taking place today because it wears a deceptive mask . . . EFFICIENCY!

Yes, the United States is being destroyed and replaced by a new and vastly different form of government known as 'METROPOLITAN' or 'REGIONAL GOVERNMENT.' The Death Blow to states rights and local control occurred on March 27, 1969 when President Nixon announced that the country had been divided into TEN REGIONS! The Purpose of the Ten regional governments was to Better coordinate the activities of all levels of Gov't. President Nixon assured us! But a close look at this plan, long the goal of one-world socialist planners in the U. S., reveals that it will over-ride State and Local Governments with a DICTATORSHIP OF APPOINTED REGIONAL BUREAUCRATS! Regional Gov't is a plan to eventually control all facets of our lives. Executive Order 1149 assigns numerous emergency preparedness functions to Federal Departments. Rep. John Rarick (La.) said on Feb. 16, 1972, 'The Vast powers which without congressional approval . . . Places in the hands of the President & His Heads of Depts. and Agencies (control over) FOOD SUPPLY, MONEY & CREDIT, TRANSPORTATION, COMMUNICATIONS, PUBLIC UTILITIES, & OTHER FACETS OF THE LIVES OF OUR PEOPLE.' GOODBYE BALLOT BOX!! On Feb. 12, 1972 President Nixon issued Executive Order 11647 which authorized the staffing of the 10 REGIONAL GOV'TS. He explained that each region will have a federal regional council comprised of APPOINTED MEMBERS of the DEPT. OF LABOR, HEALTH, EDUCATION AND WELFARE, AND HOUSING AND URBAN RENEWAL. The idea of appointed rulers is as archaic as the divine right of kings. The ultimate goal of Metro planners is to do away with all Elective State and Local Political Offices as well as Federal Offices. (IMAGINE A POLITICIAN WHO DOESN'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT ELECTIONS!)

REVENUE SHARING . . . MONETARY CONTROL MECHANISM . . . Financing of Regional Gov'ts is acquired through federal revenue sharing. States desiring Revenue "Sharing" are required to collectivize counties into Sub-Regions so that they can easily be merged into the Regional Gov't. Revenue sharing is a mechanism whereby the state and local Gov'ts become financially dependent upon the Federal Gov't. PRESSURE can then be applied to any level of state Gov't that refuses to comply with the dictates of the Regional Gov't Rulers."

THIS IS PART ONE OF A TWO PART SERIES . . . NEXT WEEK READ MORE ABOUT REGIONAL GOV'T . . . REVENUE SHARING AND . . . THE DEATH OF THE CONSTITUTION!

Please Remember: NO ONE WINS WHEN FREEDOM FAILS. THE BEST MEN ROT IN FILTHY JAILS AND THOSE WHO CRIED APPEASE, APPEASE ARE HANGED BY THOSE THEY TRIED TO PLEASE!!

UP FOR SOME DOWN FOR OTHERS

Some drugs will have the exact opposite reaction when taken by one class of people than it will when taken by others. For example, one well known drug that acts as a stimulant to the adult system will have a calming effect when it is taken by children. This one drug is therefore used for two completely different responses.

Many factors can influence the use of the same drug. Age, weight, sex, race, etc. So you can readily understand from this why it can be very dangerous to take a medicine a physician has prescribed for someone else.

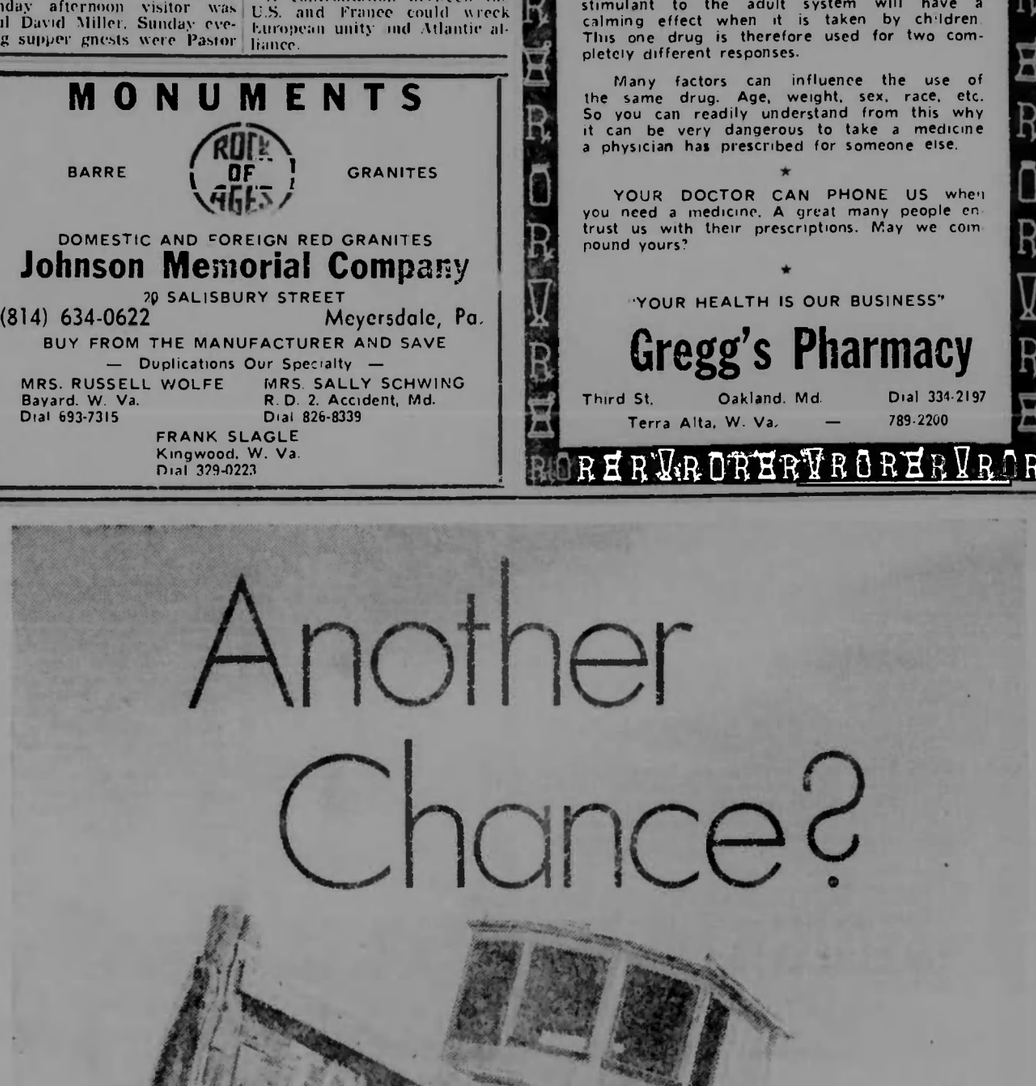
Another Chance?



Was "Try Again" really the name of the boat? Or did some joker paint those words on the old hull after the wreck? Either way the irony wasn't wasted.

Lots of people used to sail through life confidently and contentedly. Today they aren't so sure they're on the right course.

There are some who think it's only a matter of time before our whole civilization runs aground.

Christianity has often been called "the religion of another chance." Yes, for Christ teaches that we can rise out of our failures through God's forgiveness and power.

Millions today are rediscovering Christian precepts. It is a new generation which will soon be sailing toward a Christian destiny.

Governor Given Emergency Power For Another Year

Gov. Marvin Mandel has signed into law a bill extending his emergency energy powers for a year. The Senate had agreed to eliminate amendments to the bill after House members refused to go along with them.

The amendments would have expanded the membership of the legislative committee which reviews the governor's energy orders.

Supplemental Budget Cut

The fiscal committee of the General Assembly trimmed about $2.4 million from Gov. Mandel's supplemental budget.

Among items still to be tackled were $1.4 million appropriation for the State Energy office, $4.8 million to fund an expanded driver education program, and $3.3 million to ensure at least a $500 pay raise next year for all state employes.

Most of the money which the committees agreed to take out of the supplemental budget came from the Transportation Department.

Included in the items which got the hatchet was a $9,200 salary increase for Harry Hughes, transportation secretary. He would have gotten about $51,000 next year.

An effort was made to delete $1.1 million for operating costs of the Washington Transit District's Metrobus system but unsuccessfully.

Balance the Budget...

Why can't the Federal budget be balanced? Can any sane person give a valid reason."

An editorial in the U. S. News and World Report of April 1, by Warner and Swasey, machine tool manufacturers, asks, "What do you Mean, America can't balance the budget?"

The advertisement reveals there are 868 Federal assistance programs administered by 19 government agencies, with so much duplication and overlapping that Washington publishes a 715 page catalog to tell you how to sort them out, but not how to cut them down.

It shows, for example there are 183 different programs of the Health, Education and Welfare agency; 58 of Housing and Urban Development; 72 on Agriculture in spite of fewer and fewer American farmers, and there was even a quarter million dollars for a "Longitudinal Study of Drinking Practices."

The advertisement continues: "One of America's large corporations was in financial trouble a few years ago. Their treasurer decided they were paying for too many reports, by too many people, totaling out too many words. He ruthlessly stopped them all, very quickly found out which were essential, which could be abolished, with all their costs saved. Three fourths, which had been costing a fortune every month, were never missed."

The Maryland constitution requires that the General Assembly approve a balanced budget. Why couldn't the Federal government in Washington follow this procedure?

Circuit Court Meets Briefly Tuesday Morn.

Several Cases Continued — Dates For Trial Set In Several Instances

The Garrett County Circuit Court convened for the March term Tuesday in a brief session with Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., presiding.

After reading the docket the jurors were released for the time being and court recessed.

Several cases were continued and dates for trial set in several instances.

The cases against Harold Burgess, Friendsville, were set for a trial by the court this morning beginning at 10 o'clock. John Toston was named as public defender for Mr. Burgess.

Burgess is charged with burglary, grand larceny and receiving stolen goods in one indictment, and storehouse breaking, larceny and petty larceny in another indictment.

The indictments charged him with entering the home of Ruston Wright, Friendsville on the night of February 7.

The trial against Solomon Tasker, for assault with intent to murder, and assault, will be heard on Thursday, May 2. Toston was also named public defender for Tasker.

Tasker was indicted on charges following a tracas which culminated in a shooting incident against Robert Russell McRobie, route 1, Swanton.

In four instances cases were marked "continued" on the criminal docket. These were against Michael Anthony Creel, robbery; Ralph Eugene Bennett, robbery; Donald E. Bosley arson; Roger Mattingly, possession of marijuana. A case of non-support against Harland L. Beachy, inaugurated in 1973, was ordered dismissed by the assistant state's attorney, Ralph Burnett.

Raymond Spiker, charged with storehouse breaking, breaking and stealing, grand larceny, receiving and conspiracy, prayed a court trial and the date was set for Friday, April 5.

Joseph Ray Kisselovich, indicted for storehouse breaking, breaking and stealing, grand larceny, receiving and conspiracy, asked for a jury trial but no date for the trial was set. Kisselovich was sentenced several days ago to ten years in the penitentiary after he had pleaded guilty of two counts on March 6 of breaking into a storehouse, and grand larceny.

In the cases against William Paul DeWitt for storehouse breaking, breaking and stealing, malicious destruction and conspiracy, a court trial was prayed and date for this was set for April 4, at 10 a.m. Thomas Dabney was named as public defender.

Thomas Colville, charged with grand larceny, asked for a court trial and trial date was set for April 5, at 10 a.m. John Toston was named public defender.

Several criminal appeals also will be disposed of throughout April and May.

One other individual charged in three indictments has not been apprehended, and his charges are not yet listed on the open docket.

Farm Accident Survey To Be Made In April

Seven Volunteer Women Will Visit Seventy Farms

During the first week of April, volunteer Farm Bureau women will visit seventy farms of the county as part of a Maryland Farm Accident survey. Throughout the state some 1,600 farms will be visited.

Accident records are to be maintained on participating farms for a period of one year with the primary purpose being to determine the type and severity of state farm accidents, and then to try to find ways to reduce losses from them.

Women who will participate are Mrs. Walter Margroff, Accident; Mrs. William Merrill, in Grantsville; Mrs. Jonas Beachy, Accident; Mrs. Clark Schlossnagle, Friendsville; Mrs. Charles Mason, Oakland; Mrs. William F. DeWitt, Deer Park, and Mrs. Arthur Llewellyn, Friendsville.

The study is being conducted by the University of Maryland Extension service and the Maryland Farm Bureau Women's committee. The National Safety council and Maryland Agricultural Safety and Health Federation are sponsoring the program. James A. Mellenry, extension agricultural agent, will be project coordinator.

Visits will continue during the first weeks of July, October and January, in follow-up work.

The questions on the form will determine the type and size of farm, number and ages of workers, and if any accidents have occurred on the farm since January 1. Eventual purpose is to reduce farm accidents.

Those conducting the survey said the study would benefit Maryland agriculture in many ways in avoiding bad farm legislation, provide safer machinery design, and make insurance rates reasonable.

Federal and state regulations on farm labor and legislation on farm machinery are imminent, they say, and "we must be able to use facts on farm machinery and accidents to assure that any legislation that affects farm labor and machinery use is justifiable and not based on emotions."

Mr. McHenry said the survey puts agricultural workers and their families in an activity pertaining to cause and prevention of accidents, the exposure resulting in creating a greater awareness of the accident problem.

During 1973 18 people were killed in farm tractor accidents in Maryland with ten others dying in machinery accidents. Numerous others were severely injured.

Fire Damages B And O Station

Fire of undetermined origin around the bay window area of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad station in Oakland was discovered around 3:30 o'clock last Friday morning, and Oakland firemen, called to the scene prevented what could have been a disastrous blaze.

The flames were confined to one window section of the bay, in which a telephone box had been placed some few years ago. The possibility of a short circuit in the telephone wire as the cause of the blaze was discounted.

Baltimore and Ohio investigators were still endeavoring to find the cause with the possibility of arson considered.

The blaze was discovered by Fred Tichnell, who was enroute to his work at the Post Office in Oakland, and he turned in the alarm.

Firemen estimated the damage at $50, according to their report, but the station agent said the damage could run to as much as $1,000.

Besides the destruction of the entire sill there was also some smoke damage to the interior of the station.

The B. and O. station was added to the National Register of Historic Places it was announced just two weeks ago, having been constructed in 1884.

Stockholders Of Garrett National Favor Stock Split

Stockholders of the Garrett National Bank in Oakland voted overwhelmingly in favor of a two for one stock split, as previously recommended by the Board of Directors, on all present outstanding shares of common stock issued by the bank, it was revealed at the annual meeting of the stockholders held last Thursday, March 21, at the home office in Oakland. James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D. chairman of the board and president of the bank, served as temporary chairman of the meeting.

Dr. Feaster pointed out that he felt this was an excellent move on the part of the shareholders as it would immediately place the stock in an easier trading category as well as give the present stockholders an opportunity to realize capital gains on their stock in the future.

All present directors were returned to office for the ensuing year: James H. Feaster, Jr., M.D., Irvin Feld, Fred G. Glot-

County Reporting Many Pet Thefts

A ring of dog and cat thieves is believed operating in Garrett and Allegany counties.

Mrs. Vicki Wolodkin, president of the Animal Welfare Society of Allegany county reported as many as 60 animals have been stolen in the past two months from properties bordering U.S. 219 in this county. Reports come from pet owners from Keyser Ridge to McHenry. More than 20 actually reported they had lost animals. Some owners have lost two or three pets.

The work of State Police is hampered by lack of prompt first-hand information of the missing animals.

Thefts also are reported in Allegany.

Most animals stolen are pedigreed German shepherds and collies.

Cpl. W. H. Graham and Tfc. R. E. Friend are investigating the county thefts for the State Police.

James Simms Is Resigning From Extension Service

James Simms, with the Garrett County Extension Service since July 1, 1963, has resigned, effective March 29 to open his new business, Green Acres Garden Center.

Mr. Simms, who was county extension agent for 4-H and Youth, and who also was responsible for horticulture programs in the county, is a graduate of West Virginia University with an M.S. degree in horticulture.

A native of Aleppo, Pa., he taught school in Rising Sun, Cecil County, before moving to this county to work with the Extension Service.

During his 11 years here, he began the dairy heifer program, and also various other programs for local youngsters.

His resignation leaves three full-time extension agents, Mrs. Freda Denison, home demonstration agent, home economics; James McHenry, agricultural agent; and Miss Alice Hevner, agent for 4-H and Youth.

A replacement for Mr. Simms has not yet been named, though interviews are taking place.

Mr. Simms and his wife, the former Jane Bissett, and their two sons, Jim and Jason, reside in their recently completed home on Underwood Road. Mr. Simms has been teaching Landscaping and Ornamental Horticultnre at Garrett Community College evening sessions for the past year.

When he opens his new business officially on April 5, he will offer a complete line of lawn, garden and greenhouse supplies, seeds, ornamental plants, and tools. His business is located north of Oakland in a building leased from Lester Bittinger. Adjacent to the structure is a fenced-in area containing approximately 3,000 square feet for plants, fruit trees, etc.

During the peak summer months, he plans to employ three full-time employes. Working with him now are two Garrett Community College students, Randy Bachtel and Sean Sanders.

Although Mr. Simms says he will miss working with 4-H and other young people, he will still be working with the public, a job aspect he enjoys.

Tickets for the dinner are available from any member of the central committee and women's clubs. The cost is $6 each. Reservations must be made by Wednesday, April 3 with a member of one of the three organizations.

Coal Mine Site Under Inspection

Garrett County Commissioners met with State Highway Administration officials yesterday for an inspection of the large coal mining site for which a right of way is being sought across the new Freeway.

The deep mine is to be opened next month by the Anchor Gas company, of Tulsa, Okla. The company is seeking a right of way at New Germany road where the new Freeway will be located.

The Oklahoma firm wants the right of way for economical reasons in being able to cross the road instead of having to truck the coal some four miles down to U.S. route 40, at Grantsville.

Wayne Hamilton, Earl Opel and Bernard Guy, commissioners, had been in contact with James O'Donnell, acting state highway administrator for the Department of Transportation; and Hugh G. Downs, Jr., deputy chief of DOT's engineering development about the problem. Also attending the session was John D. Bushby, SHA district six engineer, and other SHA officials.

Hamilton noted that the right of way would not only assist Anchor but also Harbison-Walker Refractories, which would ship large clay products on the same rail that the coal mine would use.

There are two seams of coal in the new mine area, which presently covers 1,000 acres but eventually will reach 10,000 acres. About 100 million tons of coal, much of it high metallurgical quality, is recoverable, Anchor officials estimate.

Seventy miners will initially be hired by the firm and the eventual employment could go as high as 300 it was stated.

The mine site is along the old Casselman Valley railroad and is about a mile from the Kendall Coal Company mine which closed about twelve years ago.

Durst, chairman of the southern Garrett area; Phil Wendt, former president of the Allegany County Cancer unit, and Jerry O'Neill, executive director of the Western District, Maryland Division of the American Cancer Society. Grantsville Health Center Bids Sought

Approval of Funds Is Given By Appalachian Regional Commission

Solicitation of bids for the Grantsville Area Health Center is being published this week, according to Dr. William Pope, Garrett County Health Officer.

The bids are going out immediately following the Appalachian Regional Commission approval this week of funds to begin the actual work.

The ARC funds had been approved in June 1973 pending approval of the completed architectural drawings which was given just this week. An operational grant had been approved in March, 1973, to help get the project underway.

Bids will be opened in approximately four weeks.

The Grantsville Area Health Committee is one of two offshoot committees of the Western Maryland Health Care Corporation, formed in December, 1971, to aid in getting qualified medical help to needy areas.

The other subcommittee is the Friendsville Area Health Committee.

Grantsville's efforts to attract physicians, aided by ARC grants, brought Dr. Dan Nofziger to the area in July, 1973. He is the first physician practicing in that area since 1966. Until completion of the new Health center, he is practicing in the old health center in Grantsville.

Possibly by July, 1975, an additional physician will be recruited.

The proposed building, drawn up by Bender Associates, Camp Hill, Pa., will be 45 by 59 feet with a lower level and an added 33 by 38 foot garage area. The building will house a clinic upstairs with exam rooms and the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad headquarters downstairs.

All 25 percent of the fund required from the area have been collected. A door-to-door solicitation of the 4,000 residents in the Grantsville area in spring and summer, 1972, netted $21,800. The Northern Rescue Squad contributed $5,200 from local funds, and the Garrett County Commissioners earmarked $6,000 for the center.

The building will be in the heart of Grantsville, one block north of Route 40 and one block west of Amish Road.

The Rescue Squad's garage area will front on the yet-to-be-completed Church Street. A parking lot will be situated between the building and Ravine Street. The emergency entrance will face Miller street.

Land for the center has already been purchased.

Rev. Melvin Nussbaum, president of the Western Maryland Health Care Corporation and chairman of the Grantsville Area Health Committee, has been instrumental in directing the project.

Also aiding the project have been Mrs. Esther Yoder, Patsy Pope, Alice Younkin, Cleda Baker, Sylvia Hunter, Mrs. Emmons Warnick, Rev. Paul Lovejoy, Harold Butler, Mrs. Earl Opel, Kathleen Yommer, Audrey Kinsinger, Walter Younkin, Robert Hesson, Dale Kinsinger, Robert Durst and Luther Huff.

Oakland Baseball Team To Compete In Pen-Mar Loop

Oakland will field a baseball team in the Pen-Mar league again this year, according to Terry Helbig, president of the Oakland club, and there will be tryouts for the team on April 6 and 7 at 2 o'clock at Southern High athletic field.

The league plans a twenty-game schedule among six competing teams. Other participants include Keyser, Mt. Savage, Cumberland, Everett, and Hyndman.

The season begins on May 12 and will conclude July 21. Seven-inning games will be played on Sundays and they will be double headers.

The Oakland team will play its games at the Garrett Community College field.

Southern Seniors To Present Play Monday, April 15

"You Can't Take It With You," a Broadway comedy in three acts, by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, will be given by the senior class of Southern High school April 15.

The plot centers around the crazy antics of the Martin Vanderhof family. Messrs. Hart and Kaufman have worked to combine merriment and confusion with an underlying theme of love and tenderness.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

In answer to Mr. Ruth Upperman's letter of last week, it's obvious that she is more Republican than Christian or American. Her recommended song sounds like the theme song for the welfare crowd. She may be on the feeding end of government, welfare, foodstamps, etc., but I am not. Her Bible knowledge also leaves something to be desired. John the Baptist got his head cut off because he exposed the sin of a politician. The Anti-Christ is coming as a politician; will Mrs. Upperman support him?

I should like to close with a quote from a former President, Theodore Roosevelt:

"Patriotism means to stand by the country. It does not mean to stand by the President or any other public official save exactly to the degree in which he himself stands by the country.

It is garrulous to support him insofarasthe efficiently serves the country. It is unpatriotic not to oppose him to the exact extent that by inefficiency or otherwise he fails in his duty to stand by the country.

In either event, it is unpatriotic not to tell the truth whether about the President or anyone else - save in the rare cases where this would make known to the enemy information of military value which would otherwise be unknown to him."

Sincerely,
Rev. W. H. Leake,
Deer Park, Md.

Youth Conservation Program Planned

A Youth Conservation Corps (YCC) program will be conducted in the county during the summer months, it was announced by Albert Ringer, director of instruction for the Garrett County Board of Education.

The program is administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Agriculture Forest Service and state governments. Purpose of the program is to further the development and natural resources of the United States by employing young men and women to work on conservation projects in outdoor atmosphere of the National Park system, the National Forest system and other public land areas.

Youth 15 to 19 years of age are eligible for employment without regard to social, economic, racial or ethnic background, it was pointed out.

Sixteen applicants will be chosen, eight male and eight female, and their names submitted to the state project director. Ten of the applicants will be chosen for jobs.

Students from Northern and Southern High schools may apply through their guidance officers. Any out of school applicant may contact George Brady at the Board of Education office in Oakland. Applications are to be submitted before April 6.

THE "GOOD OLD DAYS" prices for food look pretty good to anyone who has checked a restaurant menu lately. These prices, probably circa 1920, were uncovered in the Faulkner Building when workmen began tearing it down recently. The building and contents were bought by Donald Browning, who is using some of the wormy chestnut paneling in a recreation room in his home. No doubt he'll keep the menu as a souvenir of the days when soup was only 10 cents a serving, instead of 23 cents a can in a grocery, or 50 cents at a restaurant.

"The Sweetest Smelling Place In Oakland"

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

I have read Ruth Upperman's comment in the March 14th Republican. I note that she says to Rev. Leake, "Don't Bite The Hand That's Feeding You." I think she should heed her own advice. It is not the hand of government that is feeding us, but the hand of God. The tool He uses is a Constitution that was designed to prohibit the rule of man over man and thus allows each individual to give allegiance to God. The result is known as Liberty, and it contains both rights and responsibilities.

Treasonous, lying tyrants with ambitions to rule the world are common in governments throughout history. Always they have attacked God-given Liberty, since that is the only barrier to achievement of their goals.

Always they have a following of fools who deny the power of God to restrict governments.

We all know that government should not interfere with religion, but can the Word of God apply to government? You had better believe it! Anyone who doesn't should take a look at the hole were Sodom and Gomorrah once stood. I am convinced that, if it were not for a few brave people like Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Leake, America would already be at the bottom of one of those holes.

Sincerely,
Leo D. Patterson

AEtna Drivotrainer System In Effect

by Robin Spiker
Southern High Student

In the next few months Drivers Education students at Southern will narrowly escape head-on collisions, react to a dangerous skid on an icy road, and cope with a high-speed blow-out on a busy expressway.

These students will be learning to drive behind the wheel of the driving simulator now at Southern.

This simulator, called the AEtna Drivotrainer System, is owned by the Garrett County Board of Education and is placed one-half of the year at Southern and one-half of the year at Northern.

The simulator is 60 feet long and 10 feet wide. It contains 16 "cars", the computer console to tell the teacher how each student is progressing, the printer, that records each student's action, and the projector.

The "cars" consist of a driver's seat and all of the controls necessary to operate a car. The "cars" can be adjusted for automatic or standard transmission.

The students are seated in individual cars, while 16mm films are shown on the screen in front of them. As each incident occurs, the narrator tells the student how to react. The teacher can speak to the student with a microphone during the film.

Driving under these conditions stimulates the behind the wheel sensation the student would normally experience.

Some of the movies shown to the students are Blending in Traffic Perfect Passing, Angle Parking and Turning Maneuvers, and Crash Avoidance.

Driver's Education must be successfully completed before anyone under 18 can receive a driver's license. To complete this course students must have a total of 30 classroom hours, 11-18 on the road (5-6 hours driving) and 9 hours in the simulator. Teachers of this course at Southern are Bill Frost and Eugene Flora.

The simulator's unique ability to give students realistic training in meeting common emergencies is only one of the reasons it has been adopted by this county's high schools and hundreds of others throughout the country.

Seventh & Ninth Graders Take First Test Battery

All seventh and ninth graders began last week to take a series of tests that are the first steps in implementing an accountability program as required by law. Section 28a of Article 77 of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

They took the Non-verbal Cognitive Abilities Test. Later they will take the Iowa Test of Basic Skills. Subtests in the series to be administered are vocabulary, reading comprehension, spelling, capitalization, punctuation, language usage, mathematical concepts, and mathematical problem solving. Also to be reported will be Maryland's survival reading tests.

Accountability is not a fault-seeking exercises, it is an effort to assess the strengths and weaknesses of the schools so successful programs in one school may be transplanted, where appropriate, to another school. Another objective of the law is to determine cost effectiveness of educational programs. The State Board has approved the adminstration of these tests.

County Juvenile Cases Show Drop, State Cases Up

Juvenile cases in Garrett County have shown a decrease whereas the state as a whole has shown an increase. The figures are derived by comparing those of one month in 1973 with those of the same month in 1972.

As an example, cases in Garrett County decreased 86 percent in November 1973 from those of November 1972. Making the same comparison with the state as a whole, the percentage increased 81 percent.

The figures for October were less conclusive but followed the same trend.

New Procedure For Failure To Appear For Trial Noted

New and more stringent procedures regarding persons who fail to appear for trial for motor vehicle violations went into effect Tuesday, March 26.

According to District Court officials a section of the Maryland Code, Article 66½, section 16-113 states that it is a misdemeanor for any person to violate his promise to appear for trial after having affixed his signature to the motor vehicle citation.

Beginning March 26, anyone failing to appear for the scheduled trial will have a warrant issued for his arrest and will be charged, not only for the original offense but also for the additional misdemeanor of violating the promise to appear. The fine for the latter offense has been set at $25.

Chief Judge Robert F. Sweeney, of the Maryland district court said that, on the average, 60,000 persons a year fail to appear for trial for vehicle violations.

To avoid physical arrest in the new procedure, a copy of the arrest warrant will be mailed to the defendant to the address shown on the citation so that person may surrender himself and pay fines due.

Advisory Group On Mental Health Agrees On Option

Members of the Garrett Co. Mental Health Advisory committee have decided the county would best be served by direct state operation of the Thomas B. Finan Mental hospital which will be built in Cumberland within the next two years, it was announced by Mrs. Jessie McCullough, Friendsville, chairman.

At an open community meeting on March 8 Dr. Alice Tobler, director of Planning and Community Mental Health Services, Dr. Fred Pokrass, superintendent of the Springfield Mental Hospital, and Dr. Lewis Schoolman, regional Mental Health Director, presented the three options proposed by State Department of Health and Mental Hygienes.

The options were direct state operation, grant mechanism, and private council. People voting at this meeting were about equally divided among the three options, so the question reverted to the committee, Mrs. McCullough said. After discussion the advisory committee made the final decision for the state operation with a strong local board.

Civil Defense Gets New Receiving Set

A new radio receiving set was installed in the local Civil Defense office on February 7. It is part of a new nationwide radio communications network called the "Decision Information Distribution System (DIDS)", designed to warn citizens and public officials of major peace time disasters of nuclear attack.

The epoxy-coated loop antenna may be seen on the roof of the County Jail in Oakland.

Originally conceived to augment and improve the system on which the Nation now depends for warning of enemy attack, DIDS will provide a more versatile communications network for dissemination of a variety of emergency information.

The local voice receiver is installed in the communications room of the Civil Defense office. As the system is developed, a radio-teletype and siren activation devices may be added. Local fire departments would still have full operational control of sirens for emergency signals, as is now the case.

A transmitter facility located near Edgewood, provides service to more than 50 million people in ten states. The control console for the East Central states is located at Olney, at the Federal regional center.

This facility will be one of 10 transmitter links linked together by control stations. The No. 1 point is Colorado Springs Col., the site of NORAD.

From the control points, emergency messages and information can be sent to a single county, part of a county, state or group of states.

One of the features of the new system is the fact that a receiver is totally silent unless its particular coded tones are recognized. George Comp, Civil Defense director for Garrett County, said the old National Warning System was not the most restful communications channel in the world as many operators at the receiving end could testify.

State Parks Host Nearly 8 Million

Maryland's State Park system was host to nearly eight million people in 1973 despite the effects of construction projects which curtailed potential attendance in a number of park areas.

Nearly 5 million visitors were counted during the last half of the year, up more than a million from the similar period last year.

Patapsco, serving the Greater Baltimore area, led all parks again in attendance last year with just under 3 million. In second place in 1973 was Sandy Point with 547,522, while Assateague had 496,356. There were nineteen parks of the thirty for which attendance records are kept that topped 100,000. In addition to the three named above they included Swallow Falls, 156,363; Deep Creek, 138,391.

Visitation to the other State Parks during 1973, in descending order of volume included Herrington Manor, 93,208; New Germany, 67,317; Big Run, 50,822; Casselman, 20,361.

Assault And Battery Case Is Dismissed Last Week

Slick Roads Are Apparent Cause Of Accidents

Slick roads were the apparent cause of three recent accidents in the northern part of the county. One passenger was injured and first aid was given by the ambulance personnel.

Robin L. Butler, 16, Grantsville, was the injured person. She was a passenger in a car driven by Sandra Kay Beitzel, also of Grantsville. The Beitzel car was traveling west on U.S. Route 40 the early morning of March 17 when her car skidded on the icy road. The car went out of control, hit an embankment and turned over. The accident investigated by Tpr. D. E. Tharp occurred about a mile east of Green Lantern road.

Ralph J. Georg, RD 2, Accident, was traveling south on Cove road the morning of March 17 with Franklin B. Schwing traveling north. Schwing applied his brakes but due to ice and snow-covered road, the rear of his car skidded, crossed the center of the road and hit the Georg car. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore made no charges.

Linda Sue Rosh, Accident, was driving west on the Accident-Friendsville road, also the morning of the 17th, near the corporate limits of Friendsville. Carl Lavern Bender, RD 1, Accident, traveling east, applied his brakes and due to ice and snow covered road skidded into the side of the Rush car on a curve. Trooper Skidmore made no charges.

Chrome-Plated Hypocrisy

As the Washington Star News said in a recent editorial, the U.S. Senate engaged in an orgy of hypocrisy when a majority of that body voted to resume the United Nations-sponsored embargo on imports of chrome from Rhodesia. The 54 senators who favored the ban have a double standard on boycotts. These same senators are among the loudest critics of the oil boycott the Arab nations directed against the United States.

Moreover, those who say the U.S. has a moral obligation to help bring down the government of Rhodesia seem not at all interested in helping liberate captive peoples under Soviet rule. Indeed the liberal foes of Rhodesia are among the most ardent advocates of stepped-up trade with the Soviet Union whose tyrannical rule has been exposed again by the great Russian writer Alexander Solzhenitsyn.

Fair-minded citizens, mindful of the U.S. economic and security interest in continued purchases of Rhodesian chrome, can only hope that the House of Representatives will not be ruled by the same hypocritical standards that prevailed in the Senate.

It is very important that the U.S. public receive accurate information about the Rhodesian chrome situation. Members of the anti-Rhodesia lobby such as Reps. John H. Buchanan, Jr., of Alabama and Donald Fraser of Minnesota are working hard to reimpose the embargo that was lifted by the Byrd Amendment in 1971.

The Youngstown, Ohio, Vindicator, published in the heart of the steel producing area, has printed considerable information on the hurtful effects of a renewed boycott. Recently, it quoted a steel executive as saying: "So again we've got to buy the poorer quality Russian chrome ore at higher prices and Russia then uses our money to buy the higher quality Rhodesian chrome for use in her own steel mills. Guess who is the goat?"

This is what will happen if the House of Representatives goes along with the boycott voted by the Senate.

Consider these facts about chrome:

There is no substitute for chrome in stainless steel and other super alloys. The most important uses for metallurgical grade chrome and ferrochrome ae power generation equipment, environmental controls food processing machinery, aircraft, and chemical and petroleum production.

No chrome ore has been mined in the U.S. since 1961. Rhodesia has 67 percent of the world's supply of chrome ore - top quality at low prices. Sen. Edward Kennedy and other advocates of the boycott of Rhodesian chrome make much of the U.S. defense stockpile. But this stockpile has declined 43 percent since 1962 and is currently at the lowest level in 15 years.

Rhodesia supplies 46 percent of American high carbon ferrochrome. As other countries develop their ferrochrome industry, the United States will find it increasingly difficult to obtain chrome ore at any price. During the period when the boycott was in effect (1966-1971), chrome ore from the Soviet Union doubled in price.

Finally, the U. S. demand for ferrochrome has more than doubled since 1971. If the boycott against Rhodesia is reimposed, severe unemployment will result in the specialty steel industry.

These facts are understood not only by the specialty steel industry but by union members working in this industry. Locals of the United States Steelworkers of America in the stainless steel industry are on record as opposing the boycott of Rhodesian chrome.

If the House votes for the boycott and the President signs the bill, Rhodesia won't be hurt. Japan and other industrial countries are eager to contract for Rhodesian chrome, especially in view of the coming global metals shortage which may be even more severe than the oil shortage. But American companies and working men would suffer from a renewed boycott. The Soviet Union, of course, would be able to hike its chrome prices and make stainless steel more expensive for American consumers.

BY C. WILSON HARDER

Will Horror Continue?

At this point it does little good to again re-emphasize the shock and horror felt by all thinking citizens over the second Kennedy assassination.

Perhaps it would be more fruitful to contemplate some aspects of these tragedies in the hope that some constructive dialogue can be generated.

It is significant that the alleged killer was a non-citizen from the mid-east who apparently was disturbed emotionally by a viewpoint expressed by his victim over the course this nation should take in a dispute involving his homeland.

It is also significant that the alleged killer was a refugee immigrant brought here during one of the sporadic bloody outbursts. For some time many liberals have worked to open the gates of America to an unlimited flood of immigrants using the rationale that the nation was founded by immigrants from the old world.

But there is this difference. It is a matter of record that many of the nation's early immigrants left their native countries to avoid military service.

This does not mean these early settlers were cowards, as it took a lot of raw courage to venture into the unknown. But their desire was to escape enmeshment in the centuries of warfare waged in the old world through kings, princes and other satraps fanning up old hatreds. They were quite happy to forswear these old hatreds to settle here.

But in the past few years, thousands of people have been admitted to the American shore still nursing hatreds created by the wars, the pillage and atrocities of old feuds.

And now, when the American national policy is directed toward interference in these blood feuds that are grounded on generations of hate, and nursing of past wrongs suffered, passions are aroused, especially those who come from parts of the world where political assassination has long been a ghastly, but normal, fact of life.

Thus, the nation is being turned into a battleground for the exercise of old world feuds. Foreigners attempted the assassination of President Truman. A man who had forsaken the United States, and then was allowed to return with no surveillance, gunned down President Kennedy.

Thus, the lesson to be learned, if it is ever learned, is that it is impossible for this nation to step into the blood feuds that have existed in many parts of the world since almost the beginning of time, without making enemies of one side, or the other and often of both sides. And an open door policy will continue to admit potential assassins. And as long as these policies continue, political assassinations will continue in this nation, not domestic political assassinations, but assassinations created by the tangled mess that is world politics. Herbert Hoover, in his speech in the little Iowa school house assuredly understood this grim fact.

Brooder House Burns

A chicken brooder house on the farm of Charles Carr, Jr., on the Sang Run road, was completely destroyed by fire on Monday morning around 8 a.m. Members of the Deep Creek fire department at McHenry answered the call and traveled some three miles to the scene of the blaze.

Carr had stoked up the fire before leaving for another place, and it became overheated.

THE EASTER BUNNY WAS ONCE A BIRD

According to legends of ancient Teutonic tribes, the spring goddess Eostra, worshipped by the pagan tribes, transformed her pet bird into a rabbit to entertain the children. Centuries later, he still appears with his basketful of eggs, announcing the arrival of spring.

EASTER EGGS ARE ANCIENT HISTORY

Ancient Persians who believed that the world was hatched from an egg on the first day of spring, observed the day by exchanging colored and decorated eggs. At Easter, the early Christians stained eggs a deep red to symbolize Christ's blood. An Easter gift of colored eggs was regarded as a sign of affection during the Middle Ages. At that time, the nobility exchanged artificial eggs of silver, mother-of-pearl and bronze.

FLOWERS TELL AN EASTER STORY

Traditional Easter flowers, which often appear in greeting card designs, have a deep religious significance. The jonquil is honored as the first Easter flower because it resembles the golden trumpet announcing the risen Christ; violets are dedicated to Mary as a symbol of her humility; and the lily, which blossoms forth in spring after a dormant winter, dramatically tells the story of the resurrection.

THE FIRST EASTER CARD WAS SENT IN THE 19TH CENTURY

The first Easter cards were illustrations of colored eggs and were sent by the people of Northern Europe about the year 1850. Later Biblical scenes and colorful spring flowers graced the cards.

You'll still find eggs and bunnies and birds and flowers on many Hallmark cards awaiting you in our complete Easter shop. Stop in soon and make it a Happy Easter! Happy Spring!

Annual Pinewood Derby For Cubs A Learning Experience

Expressions on the faces of the crowd show all sorts of emotions as Cub Scouts, parents, brother and sisters all strain for a better view as these three racers speed down the shiny new track. Elks members built the track especially for Pack #31 and over sixty cars competed for the honors this year.

Checking the wheels to make sure his car will run true is Cub Scout Leslie Bittinger. Leslie finds his racer is slightly out of alignment but with a little filing however he brought it down to an acceptable level. Each car must pass an official inspection before it is allowed to compete. Leslie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie D. Bittinger, Oakland.

Freeway Work Will Resume

Various contractors in Allegany and Garrett counties will resume work April 15 on the National Freeway and four other smaller projects of other highways it was announced this week by John D. Bushby, district state highway administration engineer.

There are 17 projects under contract for the freeway, all but one in this county.

The freeway between Frostburg and Finzel road interchange, which includes the roadway along the southern slope of Big Savage Mountain, may be completed sometime in July, according to Mr. Bushby.

In the past month or so some contractors have been partially at work excavating, shooting rock and working on bridges. Mr. Bushby said the section from the West Virginia line eastward to U.S. route 219 probably would be completed next year and the entire freeway by late 1975.

Much of the work between the state line and route 219, particularly the large bridges in the Friendsville area, have been completed.

There are seven contracts for the freeway work between Finzel road and Keyser Ridge and this area is not as rugged as some of the other parts of the dual lane highway.

GETS CHECK FOR SUGGESTION—Maureen Thomas is being presented with a check in the amount of $309 for her most recently accepted suggestion, by Pat Fischetti, plant manager at Bausch & Lomb, incorporated, Mt. Lake Park.

Maureen's suggestion represents the largest award to date of the 47 which have been accepted. Since September 15, 1973 the Bausch & Lomb suggestion system has paid nearly $2,000 to employees for their ideas which have led to plant improvements. Her suggestion dealt with re-working rejected lots down to five pieces instead of 15, saving 10 pieces per rejected lots.

Park Fees Upped

Increased operating costs have forced the Maryland Park Service to raise its day use service fees for the first time in 15 years.

Currently the fee schedule is levied in only 12 of the state's 23 operating parks, a $1 per car. The new fee of $1.50 went into effect May 4.

Other park charges such as camping fees, rentals and pavilion fees remained unchanged.

Parks where day-use fees are charged include Deep Creek Lake and New Germany.

The day use fee is charged daily from May 25 through September 2. During the remainder of May and September, the fee is charged only on Saturdays and Sundays.

Two Weekend Mishaps Injure Four Slightly

Four persons were only slightly injured in two weekend accidents, one near Grantsville and another in the Swallow Falls area. Another more serious accident had occurred in the Grantsville area about 45 minutes earlier.

Mrs. Rita M. Robinson, Potomac Park, operator of the car and her passenger, Mrs. Hilda G. Cope, Cresaptown, were both treated and released from Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where they had been taken by the Northern Rescue Squad.

Mrs. Robinson had been driving west on U.S. Rt. 40 near River road about 7:45 Friday evening. She had slowed to avoid hitting a vehicle turning into a private drive, Timothy W. Galica, Star Route, Frostburg, following the Robinson car, failed to reduce speed and hit it in the rear. Cpl. Stephen M. Russell charged Galica with failing to reduce speed.

Carin J. Gorley, 22, Farmington, Pa., operator of one car, and Norman S. Lewis, 38, RD 1, Oakland, a passenger in the car driven by Daniel V. Redmond, Accident, were injured but apparently not treated at the time of the accident.

Redmond was traveling north on the Swallow Falls road shortly before noon last Friday. Gorley, upon entering the same road from a private drive, failed to grant the right-of-way and collided with the Redmond car. Cpr. C. H. Hinnant charged Gorley with failing to grant the right-of-way and operating a motor vehicle without a valid license.

Two minor accidents occurred, one Thursday night in the Red House area and another just north of McHenry Friday evening.

Richard O. Burns, Gormania, W. Va., was driving south on Mason School road just a quarter mile north of U.S. Rt. 50 about 8 p.m. Thursday. He was rounding a curve when Dennis P. Stahl, RD 2, Oakland, in a pickup heading north, skidded across the center of the road and hit the Burns car in the left door. Tpr. Ronald S. Lewis charged Stahl on two counts: operating an unsafe vehicle (equipment) and failing to keep to the right side of the road.

Bruce L. Marcus, of Silver Spring, and Roland T. Harris, Annandale, Va., were traveling south on U.S. Rt. 219 just north of McHenry. Marcus had begun to turn right onto a side road and Harris, failing to reduce speed collided with the Marcus car. Tpr. Hinnant charged Harris with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

Two Are Fined In Spot Lighting

Spotlighting with firearms in possession drew heavy fines in District Court last Friday.

Allan W. Reeves and Kenneth G. Matthews, both of Westernport, pleaded not guilty before Judge Lewis R. Jones on the charge. Both were found guilty and fined $100 each and $5 costs.

John A. Imhoff, Meyersdale, Pa., forfeited collateral in the amount of $30 for non-resident trapping of beaver in Maryland.

REGIONAL GOVERNMENT
BLUEPRINT FOR DICTATORSHIP
Part II
By
Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md

Revenue Sharing Grants are often given directly to cities which traditionally have been political sub-divisions of the State, not the Federal Gov't! In by-passing the state gov't by giving funds directly to the cities the balance of power between the States and the Federal Gov't is upset since States as we have known them are doomed to oblivion in the metro scheme. It is easy to see why the Federal Gov't ignores and insults State Governments. State Boundaries will remain for sentimental reasons only!

THE CALL FOR CENTRALIZED REGIONAL GOV'T SOUNDS THE DEATH NOTE FOR OUR CONSTITUTION. Metro Rule is not the rule of law, as in a Republic, but the rule of decree by Bureaucrats! Regional Gov't Constitutes a new level of Gov't, and IT VIOLATES THE U.S. CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE IV SEC. III PAR. 1 NEW STATES MAY BE ADMITTED BY THE CONGRESS INTO THIS UNION, BUT NO NEW STATE SHALL BE FORMED OR ERECTED WITHIN THE JURISDICTION OF ANY OTHER STATE; NOR ANY STATE BE FORMED BY THE JUNCTION OF TWO OR MORE STATES, OR PARTS OF STATES, WITHOUT THE CONSENT OF THE LEGISLATURES OF THE STATES CONCERNED AND CONGRESS.

But the Constitution is being circumvented by calling the new levels of Gov't "REGIONS" rather than "STATES." Regional Gov't destroys CHECK and Balance Gov't! By expanding the executive Branch it Robs authority from legislative Branches at all levels of Gov't. The Governing power of the people is lost through regional Gov't.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING OR NOTHING FOR SOMETHING?

Most Americans know little about "Metro" or "Regional Gov't." The Press has drawn attention to its monetary arm, "Revenue Sharing," which has been loudly tooted as a benevolent tax kickback from Washington to the tired taxpayer!

But if Washington REALLY Wanted to give us a break it could simply decrease our taxes! The administrative bite from every tax dollar before it returns to the local level is Gluttonous! Local Politicians LOVE Revenue Sharing. It give them more to spend without raising the Local Taxes or Debt! But you don't get something for nothing! WITH REGIONAL GOV'T VOTERS LOSE CONTROL AND FREEDOM!

FRANKLIN ROOSEVEVLT, AN EARLY METRO ARCHITECT, SAID, "WE HAVE TO GET OVER THE NOTION THAT THE PURPOSE OF REORGANIZATION IS ECONOMY THE REASON FOR REORGANZIATION IS MANAGEMENT!"

WHAT CAN YOU DO? Work at the local level — Organize political action groups in your community to educate both voters and local officials. In many cases city and county officials can act to keep your community out of any state sub-regions preparatory to eventual merging with state and Federal Regions. Regional Gov't is the Road towards a One-World Socialist State! It will erase all county & State Lines!

Write to your state legislators, Governor, and Congressman Tell them how you feel about regional gov't!

Please do not forget what Robert C. Weaver, Former Chief of H. U. D. said, "REGIONAL GOV'T MEANS ABSOLUTE FEDERAL CONTROL OVER ALL PROPERTY AND ITS DEVELOPMENT REGARDLESS OF LOCATION ANY WHERE IN THE U.S. IT WOULD SUPERCEDE STATE AND LOCAL LAWS

Please Remember NO ONE WINS WHEN FREEDOM FAILS. THE BEST MEN ROT IN FILTHY JAILS AND THOSE WHO CRIED APPEASE, APPEASE ARE HANGED BY THOSE THEY TRIED TO PLEASE!!

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Jane Casteel, who passed away four years ago March 22, 1970.

What would we give if we could say,
I guess we'll go see Mom today.
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
To sit and talk with her awhile
To be together in the same old way
Would be our dearest wish today.
Out in a lonely cemetery
Where breezes gently blow,
There lies a dear and precious one
We all loved and treasured so.
You suffered much,
Your pleasures few,
You never deserved what you went through.
We think of you in silence
And often say your name.
But all that is left to answer
Is a picture in a frame.
So please dear God,
Take this message to our loved one up above,
Tell her how much we miss her
And give her all our love

Sadly Missed By Sons
Daughters and Sons-in-law
And Grandchildren

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

BREAKING THE BARRIERS

Lesson for March 31, 1974

Background Scripture: Acts 8:4-40.
Devotional Reading: 1 John 5:1-5.

Judged by the prevailing attitudes of the times, the first early church in Jerusalem was an odd assortment of people. Its chances of making the grade as a community of faith must have seemed remote.

Rev. Althonse

There were three basic groups of people who ordinarily had very little, if anything, to do with one another. There were the orthodox Jews, first of all, hardly a homogeneous group in itself.

Hellenists and Hebrews

Then there were those whom the Book of Acts designates as Hellenists. These were people of the Greek culture, a culture very much different from that of Jewish orthodoxy. Whereas the Jew spoke Aramaic, the Hellenists spoke the Greek in which the original New Testament would be written.

Finally, there were the Samaritan converts to Christ. The Book of Acts calls these people "Hebrews" to distinguish them from the orthodox Jews. Although there was much in common between Hebrews and Jews, particularly in religious heritage, the barriers of prejudice and hatred were very great.

Their hostility was long-standing and very deep, comparable to the hostility that divides Israelis and Arabs today. The barriers between Jew and Samaritan could be traced to historical factors, but sheer prejudice kept the wounds from healing. The Jews of Judea claimed to be racially pure white while the Samaritans, they claimed, were an adulterated racial mixture. The Samaritans, on the other hand, believed that they were the true descendents of Moses and that God should rightly be worshipped, not in Jerusalem, but on Mt. Gerizim in Samaria.

Beyond Jerusalem

Thus, the early church in Jerusalem seemed doomed from the beginning because of the racial, cultural, and religious barriers that existed there. But these early disciples of Jesus Christ learned something that is inherent in the gospel of Jesus Christ: when we are truly open to God's power and purpose, he may sometimes earry us further than we are initially willing to go and take us beyond our seemingly insurmountable human barriers.

We can imagine the amazement with which the church in Jerusalem received the news from Philip in Samaria. The traditional enemies had received the gospel and were ready for baptism. So, Peter and John "came down" to Samaria. They "came down" in more than one way. They came down from their perches of prejudice and suspicion. They came down from the barriers that had seemed to doom the church before it even got started.

It is the same road we are called to go: to leave the barriers of prejudice behind and go on to a Church and world made One in Jesus Christ.

People chuckle when they see a baby who seems to have the weight of the world on his shoulders. What can he possibly be thinking about that makes him seem so pensive?

His thoughts probably aren't very serious, for babies often strike delightful and comical poses that enliven the family photo album.

But babies grow up and become adults, with real problems and difficult decisions to make.

Don't forget, as your baby matures, to emphasize those things that will enable him to cope with his future. Don't forget love, discipline, understanding —and especially, don't forget the Church!

OPEN LINE

By

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks:

When is Congress going to consider no-fault auto insurance?

A bill (S. 354) to establish a no-fault automobile insurance system is tentatively scheduled for a vote in the Senate the end of this month. A House version of the hill has yet to clear committee action.

Did your questionnaire bear out the view that Congress must put some sort of controls on the Federal budget?

Yes. Approximately 75 percent of all citizens responding to the survey favored a Federal spending ceiling.

Where can I obtain a copy of the "Statistical Abstract of the United States?"

Paperbound copies of the Abstract may be ordered for $6.30 from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Please explain the new Federal law which allows consumers to return merchandise bought from door-to-door salesmen?

Effective in June, a new Federal Trade Commission ruling will give consumers a three-day "cooling off period", if they buy merchandise costing more than $25 from door-to-door salesmen. The rule will require all contracts for door-to-door sales, which exceed $25, to carry a notice to the buyer that he may cancel the contract within three days from the date of the agreement.

I understand that you can't carry firearms into the C & O Canal National Park. How, then, can I gain access to hunting areas on the other side of the park?

Hunters are permitted to cross canal lands by the most direct route, with guns unloaded, to gain access to the Potomac River or to non-park owned lands lying between the canal and the river.

My husband has been disabled with black lung and was due to receive social security benefits several months ago. Can you please straighten this matter out?

Upon receipt of your letter my office contracted the Social Security Admin. in your behalf. Officials assure me that your husband's check has been mailed out and that he will be receiving a regular benefit check each month.

How did you vote on the Anti-Hijacking Act and also the Freedom of Information bill -- both of which passed the House last week?

I supported both of these measures. The Anti-Hijacking Act authorizes the President to suspend air service to and from any country he determined was acting inconsistently with the 1971 Hague international hijacking convention, to define the circumstances under which the death penalty must be imposed for hijacking crimes and to authorize certain security measures for use at U.S. airports. The Freedom of Information bill makes it easier for citizens to gain access to federal government documents.

What is the maximum income an individual can have and still apply for supplemental security income?

An individual 65 or over must have an income below $390 a quarter ($585 for a couple). However, this does not count $60 a quarter of retirement income and $195 plus half of the remainder of earned income. Incidentally, the income levels will be going up on July 1, 1974. For further information on the supplemental security income program contact your local social security office.

Please explain the "free trees and shrubs" program being initiated by the State of Maryland.

Free shrubs to provide food and cover for most varieties of wildlife are being made available to landowners in Maryland under a Department of Natural Resources (DNR) program. The Rural Kit is limited to landowners who own one acre or more and consists of three bush honeysuckles, three autumn olives, three dogwood, one saw tooth oak, two crab apple and five scotch pine. The Urban Packet, designed for lots of less than an acre, consists of two bush honeysuckles, two autumn olives and two dogwood. Distribution centers are located at the Indian Springs Wildlife Management area northwest of Hagerstown; Billmeyer Wildlife Management area, east of Flintstone, the DNR Regional Service Center, Naves Crossroads in Cumberland; Mount Nebo Wildlife Management area near Oakland in Garrett County; Central Regional Office of the Inland Division of DNR at Gwynbrook, Owings Mills, in Baltimore Co.; and the Strider Wildlife Management area north of Gaithersburg in Montgomery County.

Your recent questionnaire sought opinions on the energy crisis and the way it is being handled. Can you please tell us the kinds of comments you received?

It is difficult to categorize the opinions since this question contains no multiple choice answers for respondents to check off. Generally, however, people thought the government was ineffective in handling the fuel shortage problem. About one-fifth of the respondents thought the oil companies were to blame for the energy crisis, while another one-fifth placed the blame on Congress and the President. About 10 percent of the people felt the crisis was contrived and 10 percent wanted rationing imposed immediately.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

Keep 'Em Rolling

The reorganization of the nation's railroads is coming to Maryland along with other states at a critical time, and it seems that some wrong decisions may be made unless action is taken to head them off.

I submitted testimony to an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in Baltimore on proposed rail line abandonments affecting both the Eastern Shore and Western Maryland, in an effort to forestall some proposed actions which I feel are poorly thought out and inadequately supported by the facts.

On the Eastern Shore, a proposed cut would eliminate service to many businesses and force them to use much more expensive truck service. In Western Maryland, coal, grain, lumber and manufacturing businesses face similar problems if they lose rail service.

The reasoning behind the proposals is that the elimination of duplication in service and money-losing lines will get the railroads back in good financial health.

When the proposals are closely examined, however, there is room to doubt whether this is the best way to go about it. On the Eastern Shore, for example, it appears that the planners have ignored figures on how much through traffic uses the lines which they propose to eliminate. In Western Maryland, too, it seems they have ignored the possibilities of existing lines which may be marginal now, but may quickly turn profitable with the coming of one major new business to the area.

I am urging great caution, because with the arrival of energy shortages, we can no longer count on the availability of low cost road transportation for the indefinite future. Some other witnesses at the hearings have argued persuasively that the lines now proposed for abandonment would be profitable today, if they had been maintained well and promoted according to good business principles in past years.

In short, I will be checking to see whether the newly established U.S. Railway Association makes the wisest long range decisions or whether it merely acts to save pennies today by chopping trackage which we will eventually have to pay thousands to restore within a few years. I will demand answers on these matters when their final plans come up for review in the Congress.

Men Of Iron

Ever since the Scandinavian god, Thor, flashed his terrible hammer and caused earthlings to see flashes of lightning, the blacksmith has been a respected man. Modern terms often use blacksmith as a synonym for farrier, but it was the town smiths who became exclusively this because of extensive work with doctoring and shoeing animals. Longfellow's man under the chestnut tree was known as a blacksmith since he worked with iron instead of other metals, quite apart from the tinsmith, silversmith, cooper, wagon maker, or pewterer.

Tubal Cain, a descendent of Adam's son, is celebrated in poetry, but not so another former blacksmith, Nathaniel Greene, the Quaker general. He left another mark by defeating the British who were entrenched on top of King's Mt. in N. C. in 1780. In Independence, Missouri, where the first wagon trains embarked for New Mexico or Oregon, Robert Weston's blacksmith shop enjoyed the reputation of the frontier's best-known smithy. There you repaired your wagon wheels and iron materials before the trail was hit.

In our own Maryland country there were real brawny men who kept the heavy freight teams and riders on the National Road by their work at forge and hearth. Amos Broadwater's writings indicate that in 1826 you found blacksmith shops on the road or at Westernport, but not any closer to his home in between. Those smiths who were true workmen, such as one near Middletown, who replaced rims and horseshoes "anytime of the day or night." Totten Kimmell, Deer Park told Jim Walters, a blacksmith for the Meadow Mt. Lumber Company. He was inventive enough to build wooden planked snowplows for the logging engines so that they could get through deep snows in the woods where a narrow gauge railway hauled out loaded cars.

Smith was an original term from the European guild system, where a man's family name was his trade. Smithing was a necessity in the American colonies as the mother country only made manufactured articles for sale. Colonists could not wait for boats to bring every tool from England, so they valued the worker who made these things. Many smiths continued to wield hammer and tongs until they were well advanced in age.

Many smiths in New Orleans and Charleston were the makers of the lacy trimmings and railings of wrought iron which have survived for years. This material needed intense heat at the beginning, with the iron given a glazed surface from rapid oxidation when it was pushed into a salt-sand mixture to cool. Ironing of wagons and carriages was the work especially chosen by some men, but the average householder valued a country blacksmith for making wrought iron cooking utensils such as dippers, trivets, pothooks, gridirons, strainers, and toasters. Handles for skillets and stewpots, teakettles and waffle irons were made by this man, who also produced the ordinary useful items of cupboard latches, door hinges, and foot scrapers, andirons, pokers, and longs. When a busy blacksmith caught up with ordinary demands, he used his and his helper's spare time for cutting carpenter's nails from square rods. Everyone used these, so the smith knew they would sell.

It is now a far cry from the day of specially made hand tools to fit the owner's hand or height. The survival of the mighty blacksmith is probably in the hands of artisans, with a remnant in the portable forge of the farrier. At best, he left us a pride in workmanship and integrity.

BEALL JR.

Inflation and the Budget

Inflation in this nation continues to be one of our most serious problems, for now and for the future. We have found that controls on prices have a beneficial effect for only a limited period of time but also tend to create new problems for the economy such as shortages in many areas. Economists tend to agree that the most effective ways to deal with inflation are control of the money supply and control of federal spending. The Congress is presently considering legislation that would provide for a new procedure for examining the federal budget and proposed expenditures in a needed first step to bring the federal budget under control.

The Budget Reform Act would attack the problem in two main areas. In the past few years Congress has not been able to handle all the appropriation bills before the beginning of the new fiscal year on July 1. As a result, the new fiscal year begins without many agencies knowing what funds will be available for what programs—an inefficient and distressing way to do business. Under the new bill, the time for the fiscal year will be moved to October 1, and all appropriation bills must be passed by that time.

The new legislation will also operate to make Congress more aware of the overall spending picture and hopefully keep it within balance. In the past, each appropriations bill has been considered separately with the result that millions are added to the budget without regard to the final total. Under the new bill, the Congress will have to pass resolutions on June 1 setting goals for both overall spending and each specific area.

While this bill is not a cure-all, it is an important first step to limit overspending which has produced budget deficits of nearly $200 billion for the past twenty years.
